Inside Covers: Jim Moriarty, Vern Verna, Clemson Communications Center

Inside the book: Rob Biggerstaff, Clemson Communications Center, Bill Setliff, Scott Harke, Lance McKinney, Bruce Hagan, Tom Shockley, the Orange & White.

Edited and designed by Tim Bourret. Editorial assistance by Bob Bradley, Kassie Kessinger, Sam Blackman, Tim Match, Harold Vigodsky, Hazel Modica, Annabelle Vaughn, and Marlyn Hines. Special thanks to football secretaries Elaine Swearingen and Sandy York, and to SID Student Assistant Sam Blackman, who spent countless hours researching the all-time starting lineups and the chronological history of Clemson football.

Printing: Electric City Printing Company of Anderson, SC.

Special Citation: Last year's Clemson football Guide was rated third in the nation by CoSida, the national College Sports Information Directors of America. It is the third time in the last four years that this press guide has been rated in the top five in the nation. Clemson won 10 national awards for its publications last year, more than any other Division I school.

NCAA Ruling: New NCAA guidelines prohibit the use of color photos and color headings of any kind on the inside of this and any other press guide.

On the Cover: Running Down the Hill is said to be the most exciting stadium entrance in all of college football. Clemson All-America candidates include John Phillips, offensive guard, and Michael Dean Perry, defensive tackle. Coach Danny Ford is in his ninth full season as the head coach of the Tigers and he is rated sixth among winningest active coaches.

Glossary

Danny Ford has lost as many as three games in a row just once in his eight-year coaching career.

Accommodations

There are two major motels in Clemson proper, the Ramada Inn (803) 654-7501, and the Holiday Inn (803) 654-4450.

Address

If you are mailing something to the Clemson SID office, address it to Bob Bradley, PO Box 632, Clemson, SC 29633. The federal express address (they don't like PO Boxes) is 1 Perimeter Road, Clemson, SC 29633. The address of Clemson Memorial Stadium is Williamston Road, Clemson, SC 29633.

All-Star Candidates

So who's hot on the Clemson football team for 1986? Well, as you can tell by the cover of this guide, Clemson has two linemen who should be on everyone's All-America team. John Phillips was a first-team UPI All-America guard last year and if you want to watch a guy energize an offense watch Phillips—61.

Michael Dean Perry made a name for himself last year with 15 tackles for loss, including nine sacks while playing just 37 percent of the snaps. Don't be surprised if he lines up for a few plays at fullback in goal line situations, something this PR department would love to see.

On the regional level, junior cornerback Donnell Woolford is an outstanding performer as his 12 passes broken up attest to. He was second in the ACC in passes broken up as a sophomore and should become Clemson's first All-America cornerback ever by the time he graduates.

Offensive guard Pat Williams would get more attention if he did not play in tandem with John Phillips, but he is Clemson's second best offensive lineman on a team that ranked sixth in the nation in rushing and allowed only three quarterback sacks in 1986. Placekicker David Treadwell, 6-6 in the last eight minutes of the fourth quarter in his career, is also an all-conference candidate. Quarterback Rodney Williams hit 56 percent of his passes over the last five games and was MVP of the Gator Bowl.

On defense, Tony Stephens is a mainstay at middle guard and should be a top pro prospect with a 5.05 in the 40 and 425-pound bench press. Henry Carter is a junior who finished strong with 13 tackles in the Gator Bowl win, while Gene Beasley is another junior in the secondary who is Clemson's leading returning tackler.

Alma Mater

When the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,
Reign Supreme away.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

Alumni Association

Located on the Clemson campus and directed by George Moore. His office number is 656-2345.

Attendance

An ever-changing number at Clemson. With the upper deck addition to the North Stands, the permanent seating capacity at Memorial Stadium is 74,854 permanent seats. That figure does not include 5,000 fans in the east end zone on the green grass area. In general we list the overall capacity as 79,854, not counting employees, players and coaches.

The record crowd is 82,492 for last year's South Carolina game and that includes coaches, employees, Danny Ford, etc. The attendance progression has been steady in recent years. In 1977 the capacity was 43,451; in 1978 it went to 53,306 and in 1982 it went up to 57,307. With the addition in 1983 we have now risen 36,403 in capacity since 1977, or an 83.78 percent increase.

In 1975 the average home crowd was 39,174. Last year the average home crowd was 78,700, or about a 100 percent increase over a 12-year period. At this pace, by the year 2000 the average home attendance will be 306,944 per game. We might have to park the cars in Greenville if we keep this up.

Auburn

School that supplied Clemson with its first four head coaches. W.M. Riggs (1896, 1899), W.W. Williams (1897), J.A. Penton (1898) and John Heisman (1900-1903) all came to Clemson from Auburn. The schools are very much alike physically and in terms of athletic tradition.

Recently the ties have continued. Danny Ford got his start in coaching thanks to the advice of current Auburn Coach Pat Dye, who convinced Ford in 1971 to take a graduate assistant coaching position at Alabama instead of going into business. And, Clemson's quarterback coach, Jack Crowe was at Auburn prior to his appointment at Clemson. He used to coach the current starting left fielder of the Kansas City Royals. Tight ends coach Wayne Bolt also was at Auburn prior to coming to Clemson.

Banks, Stumpy

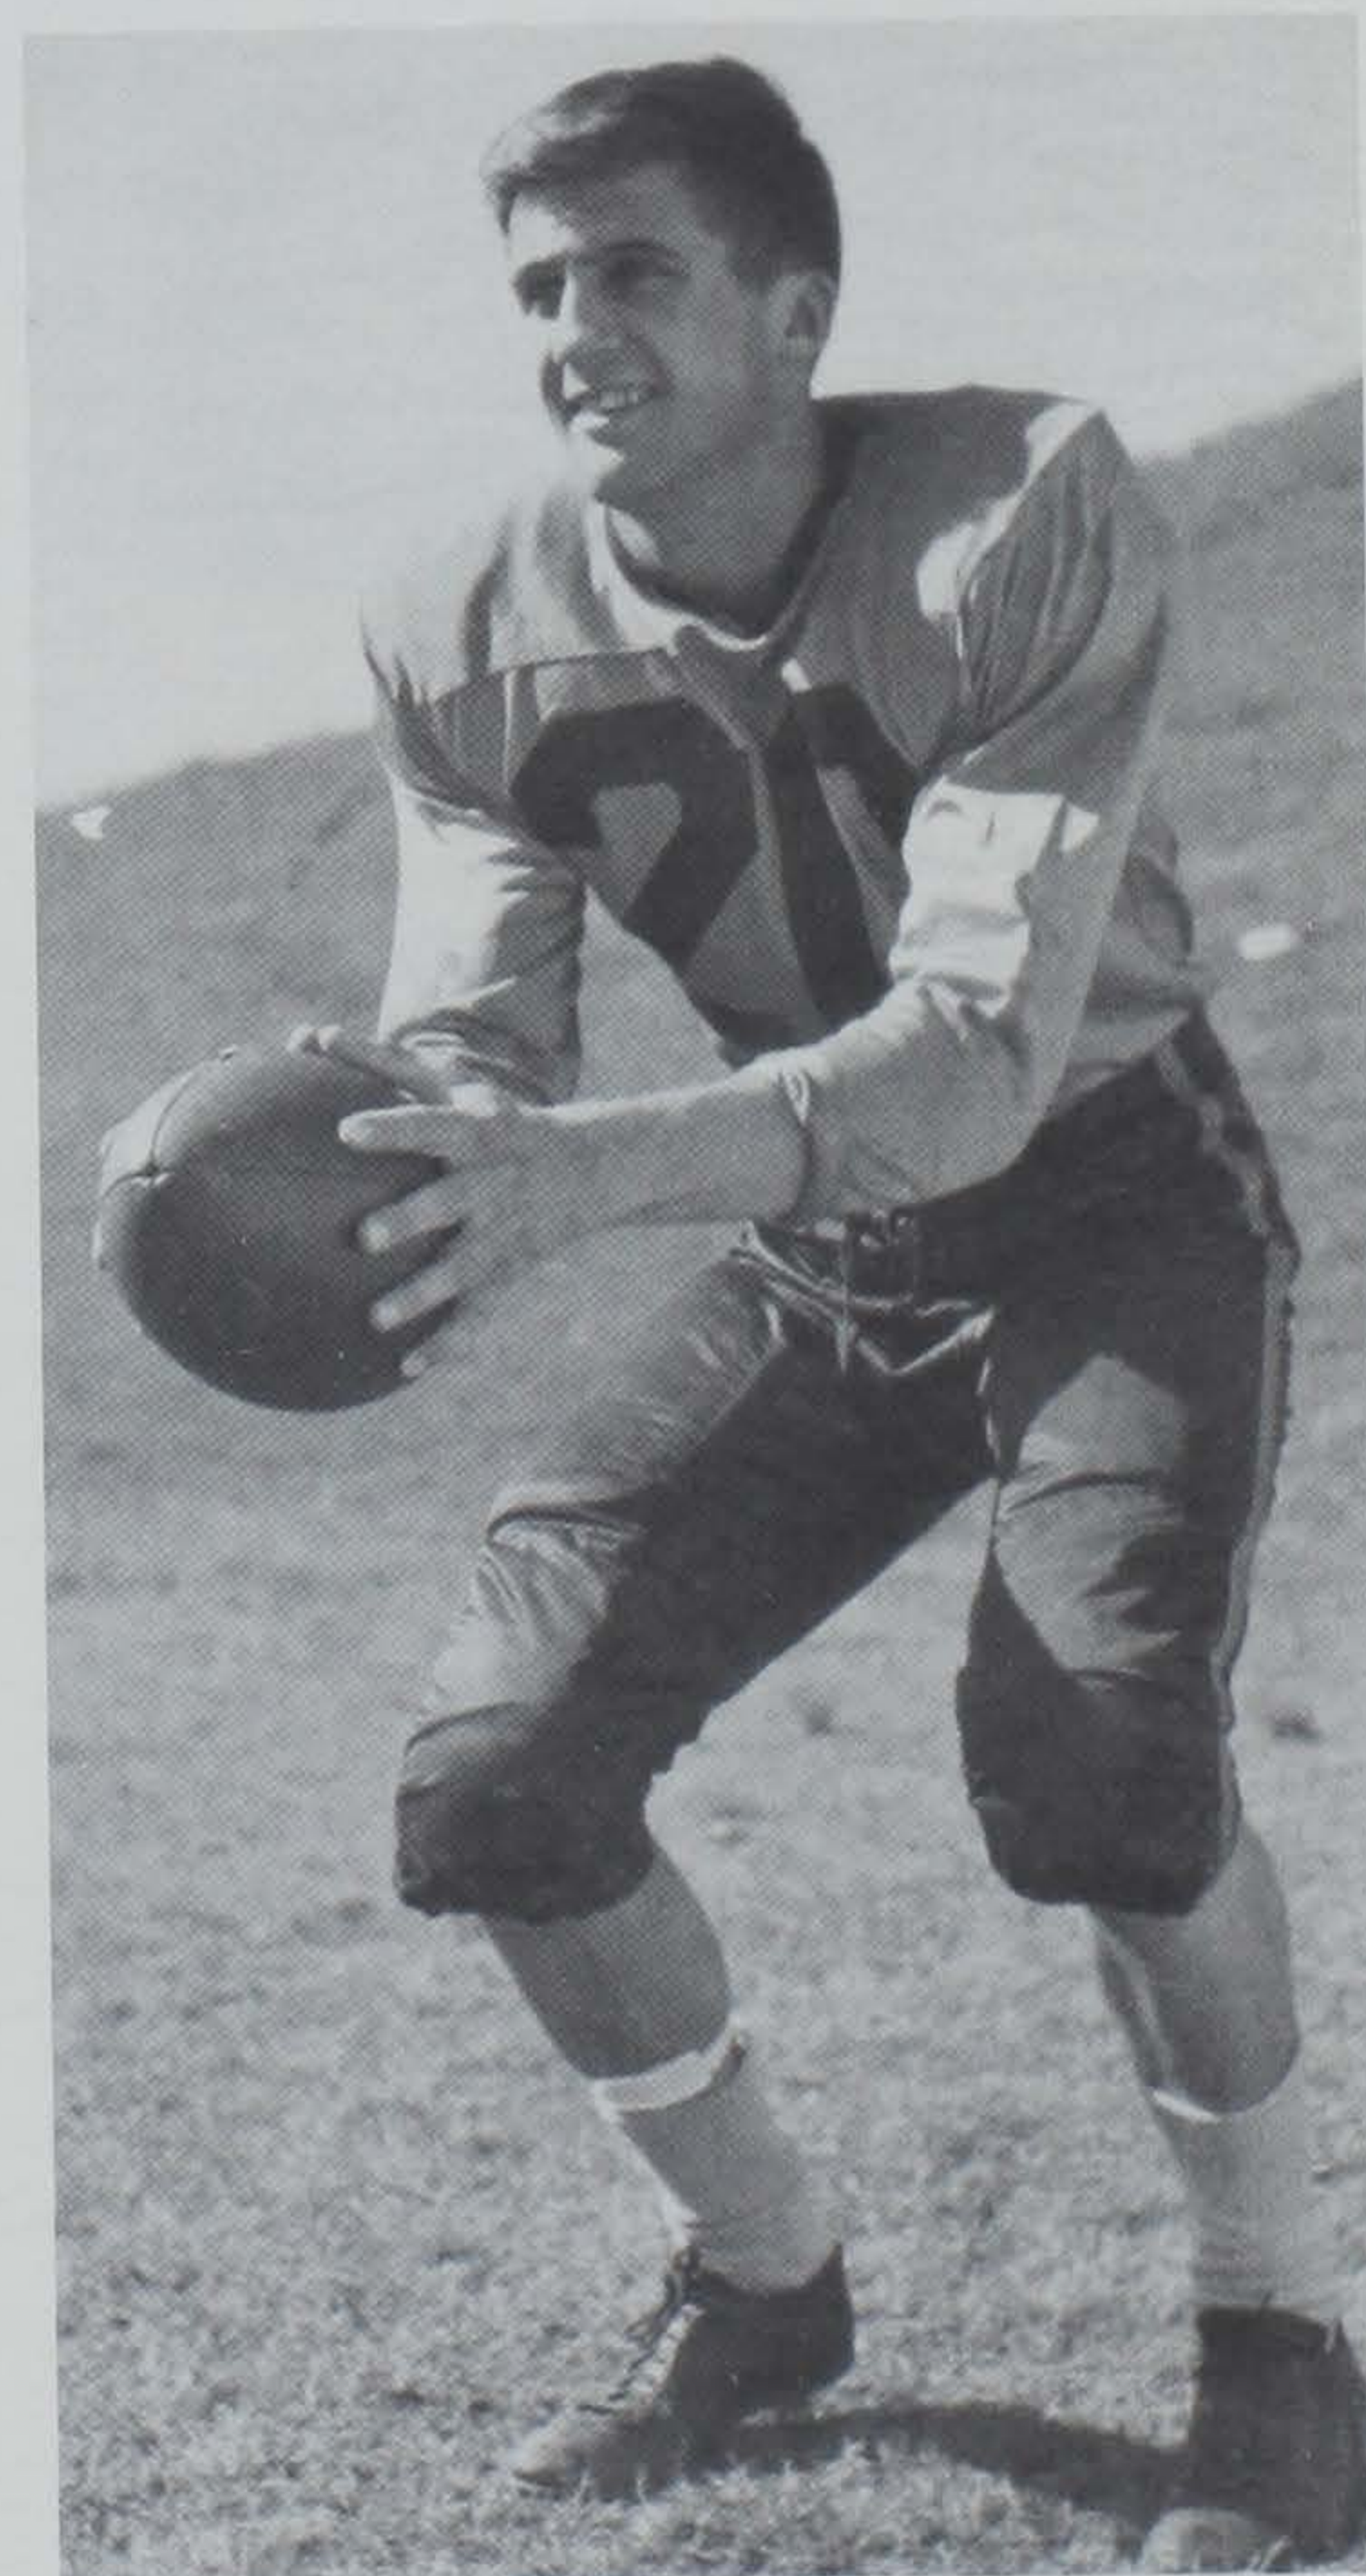

We owe an apology to Stumpy Banks, the legendary running back for the Tigers of the 1914-1917 era. For many years the Clemson football guide has stated that only one Tiger has scored five touchdowns in a single game, Maxcey Welsh against Newberry in 1930. But research uncovered by Clemson SID graduate assistant Sam Blackman has found a boxscore in which Banks also scored five touchdowns in one game. Banks did it in a 38-0 win over Furman in 1917. I know we are 70 years late, but congratulations Stumpy!

Batson, Biggie

Board of Trustees Chairman Louis P. "Biggie" Batson was a Tiger gridder in the forties. He was larger than life for his time and by his nickname you might think he was the William Perry of his day. He did have one thing in common with the current Chicago Bear. Batson wore number-72, the Fridge's current number for the "Monsters of the Midway".

Bradley, Bob

Now in his 33rd year of service as Clemson's Sports Information Director, Bob Bradley is the man who runs the show on game day at Clemson. If you have any problems call him at home (803) 654-5419, or at the office (803) 656-2114. He's been known to arrange police escorts, fix flat tires, or solve just about any member of the media's problems over the years. He has received every award conceivable in his profession, including Most Valuable Fisherman at the ACC Sportswriters meeting at Grandfather Mountain for the last 33 years in a row. When he became the SID at Clemson, Danny Ford was six-years-old and didn't know what a football was.

Charlie Bussey holds a select place in Clemson Homecoming history.

Clemson fans would not allow N.C. State to hear the signals IN RALEIGH in 1978.

Bussey, Charlie

Charlie Bussey had a distinguished career at Clemson on the gridiron. He was Clemson's first academic All-American (1956) and quarterbacked Clemson to the 1957 Orange Bowl. But, his most significant accomplishment took place after he graduated. He is the only father to have two daughters win the Miss Homecoming Pageant at Clemson. In 1978 Pam Bussey won the award and seven years later his youngest daughter, Jennie, captured the top honors. He also has another daughter, Laurie, who worked in the Clemson Sports Information Office, but we never gave her enough time off to seriously compete. If we had, Charlie would have had a "Homecoming Hat-trick" so to speak.

Brown, Ray

The Chubby Wells of Clemson football. Ray Brown ended a seven-year sojourn in May of 1986 when he earned his degree from Clemson University. This is quite an accomplishment as Brown's pursuit of the sheepskin, which began in 1979, was interrupted by a bout with spinal meningitis that nearly took his life in 1980, a couple of knee injuries, and a few tryouts with pro football.

But, give Ray credit, he stuck with it and marched through graduation with pride. The only player in Clemson history to start at least one game in five different seasons, Brown is most famous for giving William Perry the nickname "The Refrigerator".

CBG

Short for Clemson Broadcast Group. Clemson made some changes in its marketing approach to its football and basketball radio network and television shows last year.

The general manager of the CBG is Mark Packer and he can be reached at (803) 654-9665. He is the coordinator for all advertising and station clearances. Karen Blackman, a former Clemson SID student assistant, is his associate.

WFBC is still the flagship station for the radio network, while WSPA TV-7 in Spartanburg is the flagship station for the television shows. Clemson might be the only school with two football television shows. A magazine show airs on Friday evenings (11:45 pm on WSPA) and a highlight show with Danny Ford airs on Sunday at 8:30 am. Major strides have been made in the radio network area as 17 stations have been added in North Carolina alone.

Calhoun, John

Senator from the state of South Carolina who proposed a bill in the house in 1955 making it a state law that Clemson and South Carolina had to meet in football once a year.

Chewing Tobacco

In addition to having successful football teams as a common denominator between Danny Ford and Frank Howard, they also chew tobacco at an alarming rate. Ford chews two kinds basically, Taylor's Pride on game days and Red Man during the week. Howard stays with Red Man most of the time, although if anyone wants to give him a case of another brand he will be glad to sample it for you.

Colors

Burnt orange and Northwest purple officially, but you see a lot of white and blue. The Clemson orange is PMS 165 and the blue used on the trim of the stadium is Reflex Blue (PMS 541). Clemson used to have gold as a color, but the uniforms faded after a long football season so Jess Neely changed to a more colorfast orange.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members, in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that. Clemson has been a charter member of every conference it has been affiliated with.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any other school, as the Tigers won or shared the ACC title in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1978, 1981, 1982 and 1986. Clemson won the Southern Conference in 1940 and 1948.

Crowd Noise

Clemson fanatics are legendary for sure, but one of their most incredible spirit accomplishments took place on the road in 1978. Clemson was meeting N.C. State in Raleigh in an important mid-season ACC encounter and over 5,000 Tiger fans made the trek to Raleigh.

The Tigers were all seated together in one corner of the field and started raising a raucous on a key down for Johnny Evans and the N.C. State offense. The noise level reached such great decibels that State's team could not hear the signals and Evans had to step away from center and time was called. That's right Clemson fans prevented the opposition from hearing the signals in their own ballpark.

How does the NCAA crowd noise rule apply in this situation!

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillan, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on.

Dry-spell

The most documented dry-spell in terms of Clemson football concerns the scoreless kickoff return. Yes, Clemson led the nation in kickoff returns last year with a school record 25-yard average, but the Tigers failed to score a touchdown on a kickoff return for the 24th straight season. Clemson has returned 833 straight kickoffs without a touchdown. You have to go back to Hal Davis, who had a 98-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against Georgia in a game at Clemson on October 13, 1962 to find the last time a Tiger ran one back for a score. Clemson came so close to breaking it last year you almost wonder if it is a mystical jinx. There have only been four kickoff returns for touchdown in Clemson history by the Tigers and opponents have returned six for touchdown with the last taking place in 1978.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Clemson Memorial Stadium, call (803) 656-2110. The Clemson University police number is (803) 656-2222.

Engineering School

Probably the top academic field of study at Clemson and the main reason Clemson's clutch kicker came to this school. Field goal kicker David Treadwell came to Clemson for its fine engineering school. He walked on the football team and has developed into the best last-minute field goal man in Clemson history. After Treadwell made that last second field goal at Georgia last year Danny Ford was rumored to be considering a donation of a large sum of money to the Clemson Engineering School.

Enrollment

Clemson is the third smallest school in the ACC when it comes to student numbers (only Wake Forest and Duke are smaller). The enrollment figure currently is 13,062 and that counts everyone: undergrads, graduates, dogs, cats, and non Clemson fans from Columbia.

Esso Club

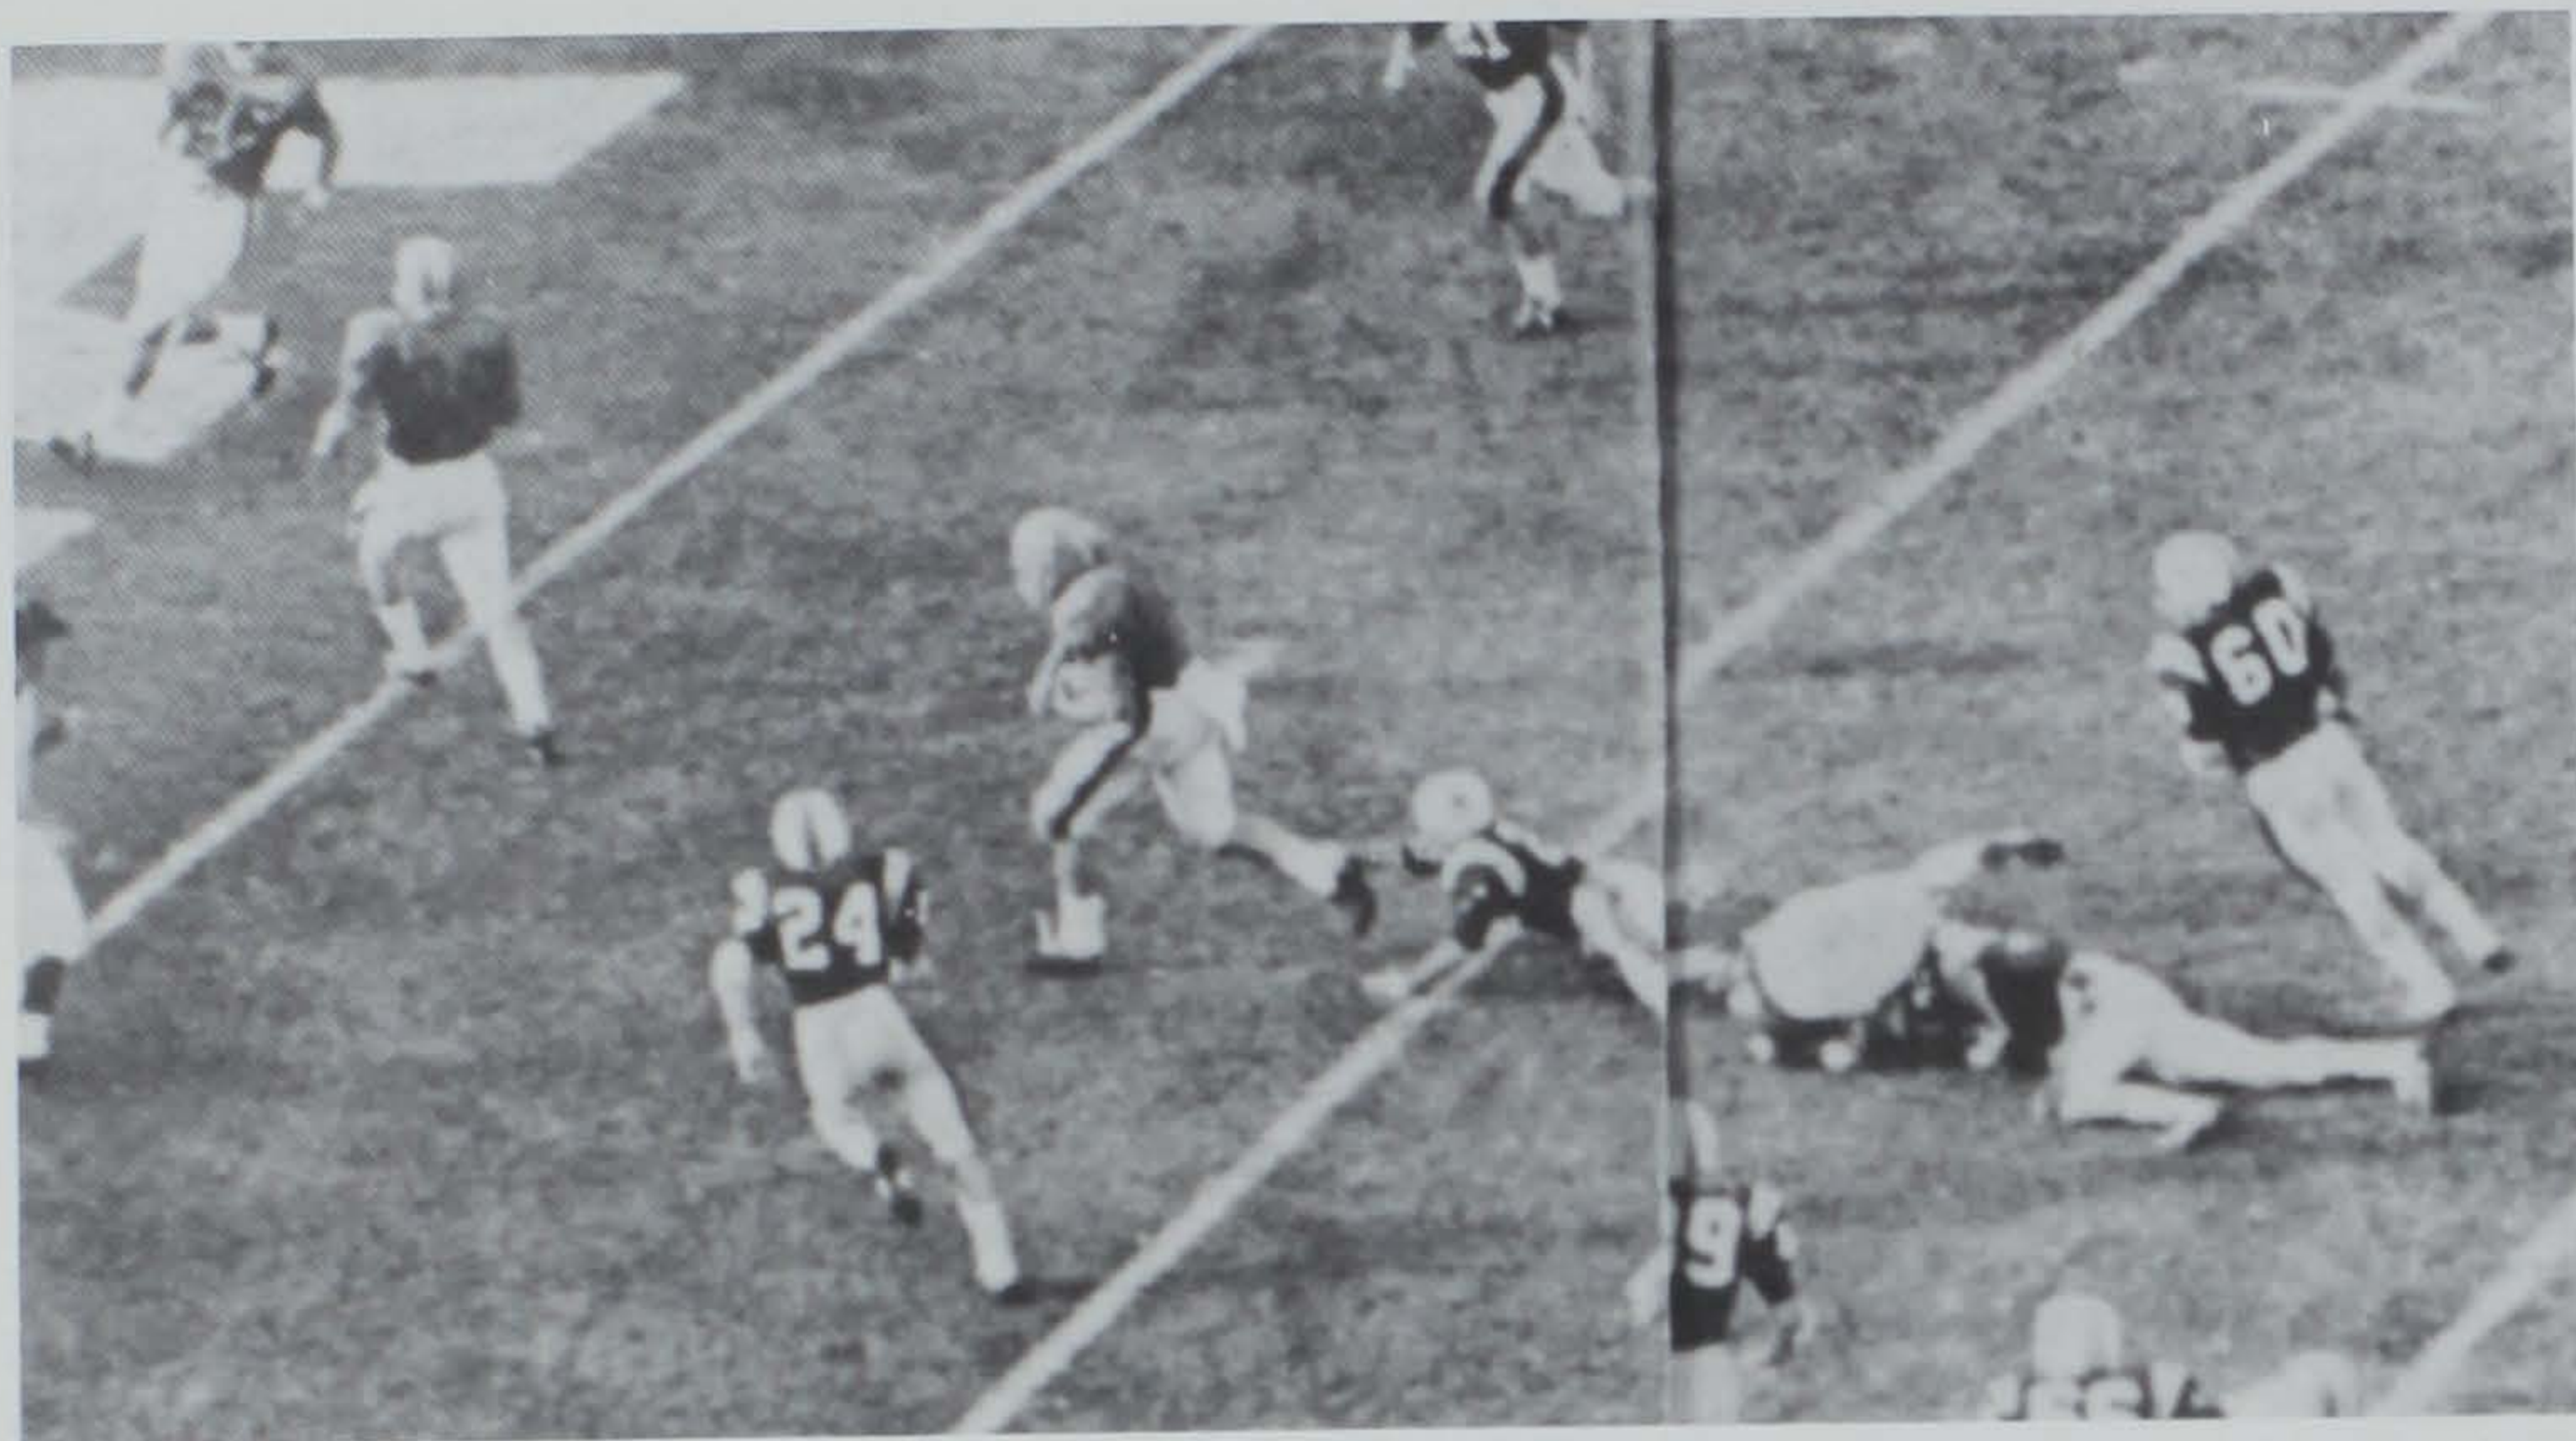

When you want to cover a Clemson football weekend and capture the true flavor of the entire proceedings you have to make a pit stop at the Esso Club. If this sounds like a combination bar and gas station, well, you're right. Clemson fans for many years have frequented this famous weekend watering hole. This is where the true Clemson fan hangs out before and after a game. Jacket and tie are definitely not required.

Faculty Representative

Dr. B.J. Skelton is the faculty rep for Clemson, a position he took over in 1983. His office phone number is (803) 656-2283.

Film Clip Service

Each week the Clemson SID office and the

Harry Olszewski is the last Clemson offensive lineman to realize a dream come true.

Communications Center put together a 10-play highlight package of the previous week's game complete with script on the enclosed plays. The video tape is available for TV stations by calling Bob Bradley at (803) 656-2114, or Tom Shockley (803) 656-3204.

Food

Some of the finest Southern cuisine is available at Clemson football games, but you get only one trip through the line so make the most of it. Try to get there before graduate assistant Sam Blackman or if former student assistant David McGrew is back for a game. They have both earned degrees in the art of piling food on one plate. The menu features fried chicken, sliced roast beef, ham and turkey, lettuce, tomato, various cheeses, chili and hot dogs. And don't forget the world-famous butterscotch brownies, but don't ask for the recipe — it's a secret.

Fumblerewski for Olszewski

It has been a long time since a Clemson lineman scored a touchdown, never mind on a play from scrimmage. On November 26 of this year the 20th anniversary of Harry Olszewski's 12-yard run for a TD from his left guard position will be celebrated.

With Clemson leading South Carolina 21-10 in the fourth quarter the Tigers were driving for another score. Wayne Mulligan, who would later serve as Joe Namath's center for the New York Jets, centered the ball through Jimmy Addison's hands. Olszewski was pulling on the play and caught the ball in mid-air. He never missed a beat and raced 12 yards for a touchdown, perhaps the only Tiger to score a touchdown while wearing a towel outside the back of his pants.

Gillespie, Frank

When you are about to run yourself into the ground with housework, homework or yardwork, just think of the schedule Frank Gillespie had when he was a Clemson student. A football, basketball and baseball letterwinner in the mid-forties, Gillespie played all three in the same academic year. He was a starting guard in football and basketball and a first baseman in baseball. On top of that he was the student body president and an honors student in civil engineering. How did he have time to shave? In 1947-48 he won the McKelvin Award as the Athlete-of-the-Year in the Southern Conference, the only Clemson athlete in history to win a conference athlete-of-the-year award.

Goalpost

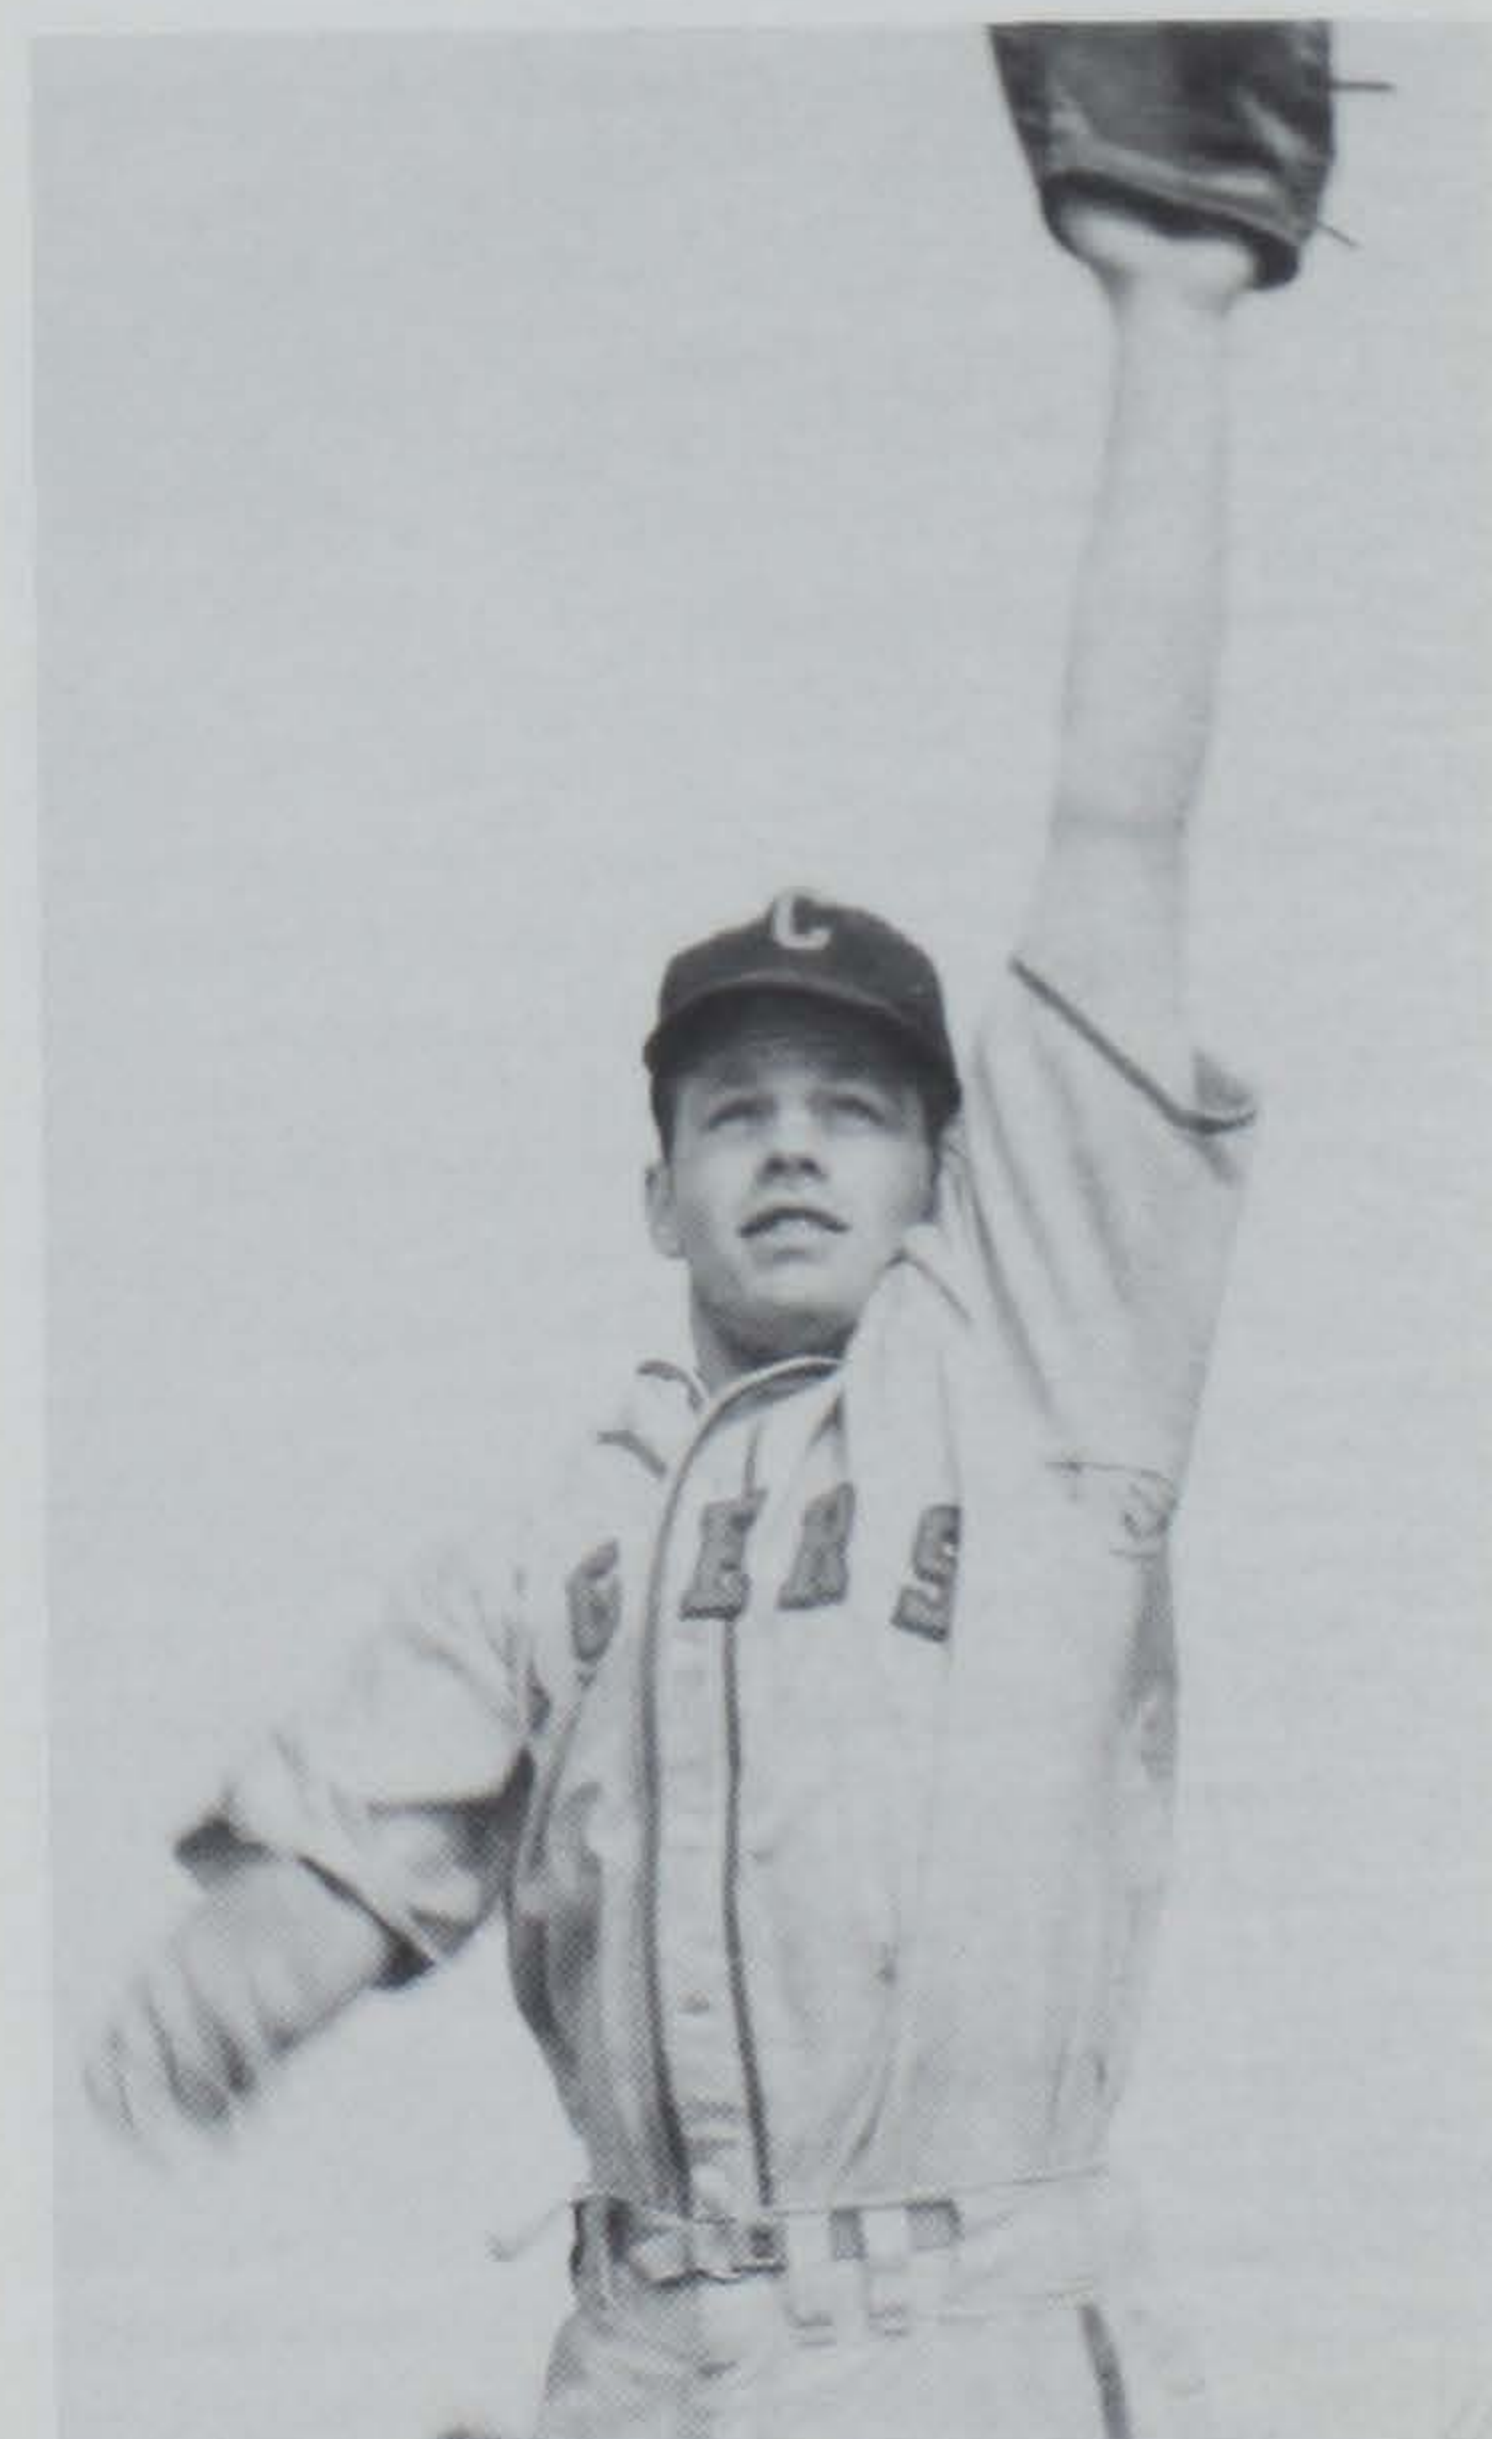

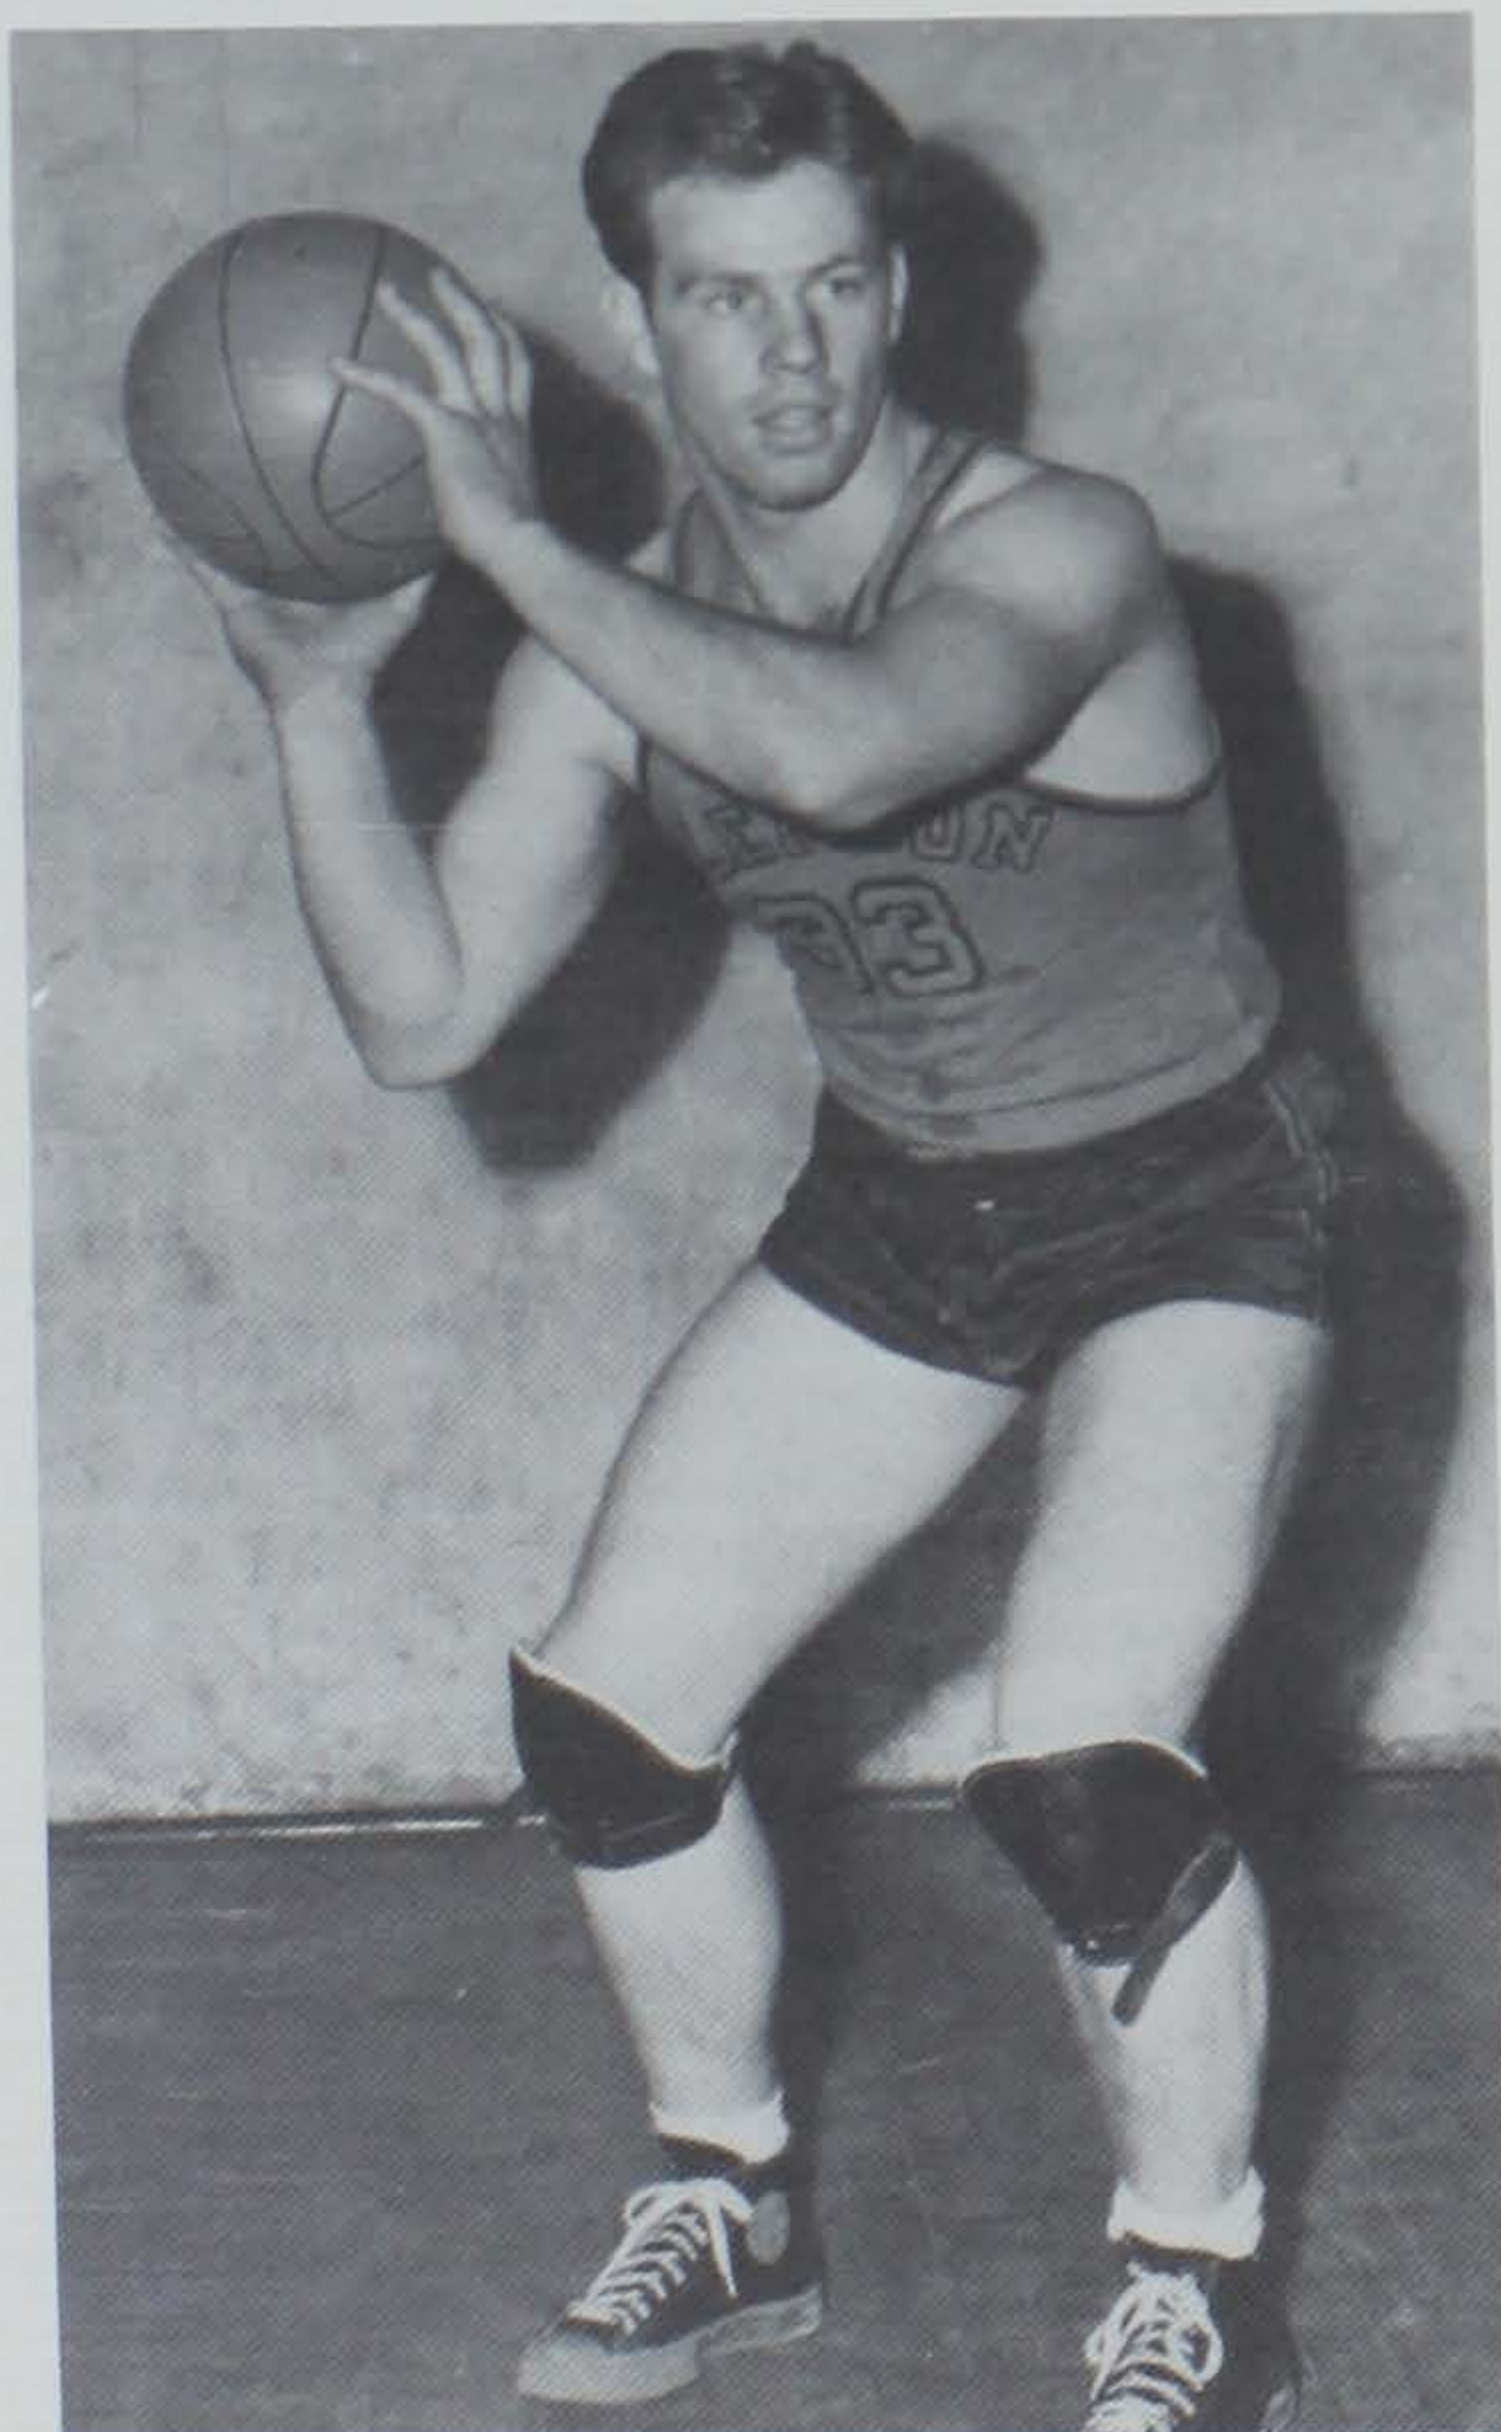

NCAA regulations stipulate the pipe must be 4" in diameter, must have posts which are 20' or more in height and 23'4" apart. The crossbar is 10' high. The Clemson student body tore down the goalposts in the end zone with the grass bank after Clemson's emotional 52-27 win over Maryland in 1983, the only time the goalposts have come down at Clemson.

Heisman, John

Yes, the same guy they named the trophy after used to coach at Clemson. You have to go back to the 1900-03 era to find him, but he brought Clemson its first unbeaten season in 1900, a 6-0 ledger. Heisman coached at Clemson for four seasons making an astronomical $1800 a year. In 1904 Georgia Tech offered him $2250 and he was gone to Atlanta. Clemson should have scraped up the extra money to keep him. With John Heisman as head coach Clemson beat Georgia Tech 73-0 in 1903, but two years later, with Heisman at Georgia Tech, the Yellow Jackets downed the Tigers, 17-10. Coaching does make a difference.

Howard, Frank

Frank Howard is the legend of Clemson football (see page 158) and he still comes to work every day in the Clemson Athletic Department.

Gillespie started in three sports, earned a 3.0 in engineering and served as student body president in the same academic year.

His office number in the Jervey Athletic Center is (803) 656-2100. Give him a call for some great quotes, information on Clemson football history, or to take out an advertisement in Kickoff.

Human Decoy

Sophomore tight end Jerome Williams had a fine freshman season. But, thank goodness for coach's film grading, or else he would have the shortest bio in this press guide. You see, Jerome was in for 426 snaps last year, but never caught a pass. But it was not his fault because a pass was never thrown his way. Jim Riggs got the call on the passing situations from the tight end slot and Jerome was a great blocker, just ask Georgia after Williams graded out at 95 percent for 47 plays, best ever by a Clemson tight end.

But, after a fine spring practice we don't think you will have to wait long for Jerome to catch his first pass. He caught five in one scrimmage last spring and dreams of Kellen Winslow danced through his head.

Inflation I

A ticket to the first Clemson-South Carolina game in 1896 cost 25 cents. Two-thousand people attended the game.

Inflation II

When Clemson first built Memorial Stadium in 1942 the construction cost of the 20,000 seat stadium worked out to $7.20 a seat. When Clemson added 15,000 seats with an upper deck over the north stands in 1983 the average cost was $1,000 a seat.

Interview Policy

Interviews during the week for Clemson players or coaches should be arranged through Sports Information Director Bob Bradley. Call us with your request and we will get the player to call you collect. Sorry, no home numbers of players will be distributed because too many media have had a tendency to call for midnight interviews.

Lights

We've got them, but we don't play night games. Yes, there are lights at Clemson Memorial Stadium, but the investment was made strictly for television games. Clemson fans come from all over and they like the 1:00 P.M. start because they can come and go the same day. So, you won't see any night games at Clemson unless television gets involved. They were in use for the first time in 1985 for the entire Maryland game, a contest that had a 2:30 p.m. start due to TV.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it, go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

McGee, Herman

One of the more unassuming legends of the Clemson athletic department was Herman McGee. A trainer for the Tiger athletic department for over 40 years, Herman holds the Clemson record for continuous service to the athletic department in a full-time capacity. Prior to his death in 1980, McGee served 44 years as a friend to all athletes and in many ways can be considered the Jackie Robinson of Clemson athletics. When former athletes in all sports came back to visit Clemson, Herman was the first person they looked for. He was one of the first Clemson staff members to be inducted into a national Hall of Fame.

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under Section T on the North Side and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There also is one under the North Top Deck.

National Champions

Believe it or not, we were in 1981.

One-quarter Bullard

Wilbur Bullard rushed for just 84 yards in his Clemson career, so why does he rate a spot in this glossary? For one quarter Bullard was a star in a regionally televised game against a conference rival ranked 14th in the nation.

Clemson trailed North Carolina 24-6 heading into the fourth period. Danny Ford's team was beset with injuries at the tailback position, so enter Wilbur Bullard, scout team performer. The freshman had not been in for a scrimmage play at any time in the first eight games. On his second play he ran 18 yards for a first down. Later he scored on a one-yard run. Suddenly, Clemson was back to 24-19 and had the ball.

Another burst by Bullard brought the ball to the North Carolina one-yard line with under a minute left. Twice Bullard went into the line but was stopped, and on third down Lawrence Taylor sacked Homer Jordan, snuffing out the drive. Overall, Bullard gained 44 yards in that fourth period.

Clemson had lost, but this freshman had been a star in front of God, Lawrence Taylor and everyone. But, that was the only real chance he got in five years as injuries and a wave of outstanding running backs (Kevin Mack, Cliff Austin, Kenny Flowers, Terrence Flagler), joined the program and Bullard gained just 37 more yards the rest of his career.

But, for one sunny quarter in Death Valley in 1980, Wilbur Bullard was a star.

Orange & White

Publication founded by former Clemson Assistant SID Al Adams that is in its 10th season of issue. Al is no longer with the paper, but it is still going strong. To contact the publisher, Phil Batson, call (803) 654-6553. It is now owned by IP-TAY and serves as the organization's newspaper.

Penn's Thin Natural Leaf

Type of chewing tobacco Frank Howard chewed in the forties. When they were pouring the concrete for the stadium in 1942 Howard put a plug in each corner of the stadium, giving it his form of an artistic signature.

Perfect Record

Clemson owns the longest active winning streak of one team over another in college football. Clemson has never lost to Virginia in the grid sport, winning 26 straight games without a loss dating back to the fifties. The 1985 game was one of the closest contests of the series as the Tigers won 27-24. Virginia had the halftime lead, the eighth time in the history of the series Virginia has led the Tigers at the half.

Perry, William

Now an international celebrity, William Perry is without a doubt the most famous Clemson alum on earth. Sorry, Strom Thurmond, but have you seen those commercials? Perry reportedly was making as much as the 14th most lucrative franchise in the NFL in 1986, never mind individual rankings. Without factoring in inflation, that means William could have paid for the building of Littlejohn Coliseum by himself in 1968.

"The Refrigerator" got his start at Clemson in 1981 when he was a starter with the national championship team. Of course in 1985, he was a rookie starter with the Chicago Bears' Super Bowl team. The massive Perry was a three-time All-American at Clemson, the school's only hat-trick AA.

The most often asked question in the SID office at Clemson last year was "What is William Perry's agent's phone number?" Well, here it is: Jim Steiner (314) 862-5560. For information on the Fridge call us at the SID office. By the way, he has a little brother, Michael Dean, who is sneaking up on William's records and just might join him in the NFL in 1988.

Press Passes

These can become scarce, especially the Georgia and Maryland games. For all photo, press, TV, parking, and men's room passes contact Bob Bradley. His number is (803) 656-2114. Please make your requests at least two weeks in advance. Wives and children of media are not allowed in the press box.

Pepper

Legendary member of the Clemson unofficial photo crew, who also puts in some time in the press box. Unmistakable when wearing his full orange suit on game day. Owns more cameras than Carter has liver pills. President of local Chicago Cubs Fan Club.

Phillips, Jim

"Voice of the Tigers" in his 20th year doing Clemson Football. Phillips won the Brian Piccolo Award of broadcasting in 1982 when he gave the play-by-play account of the Western Carolina game only five days after back surgery. Broadcasted most of that game while standing up with a walker. He keeps an incredible schedule as he is the voice of over 140 Greenville Braves baseball games in addition to his work for Clemson.

Publications

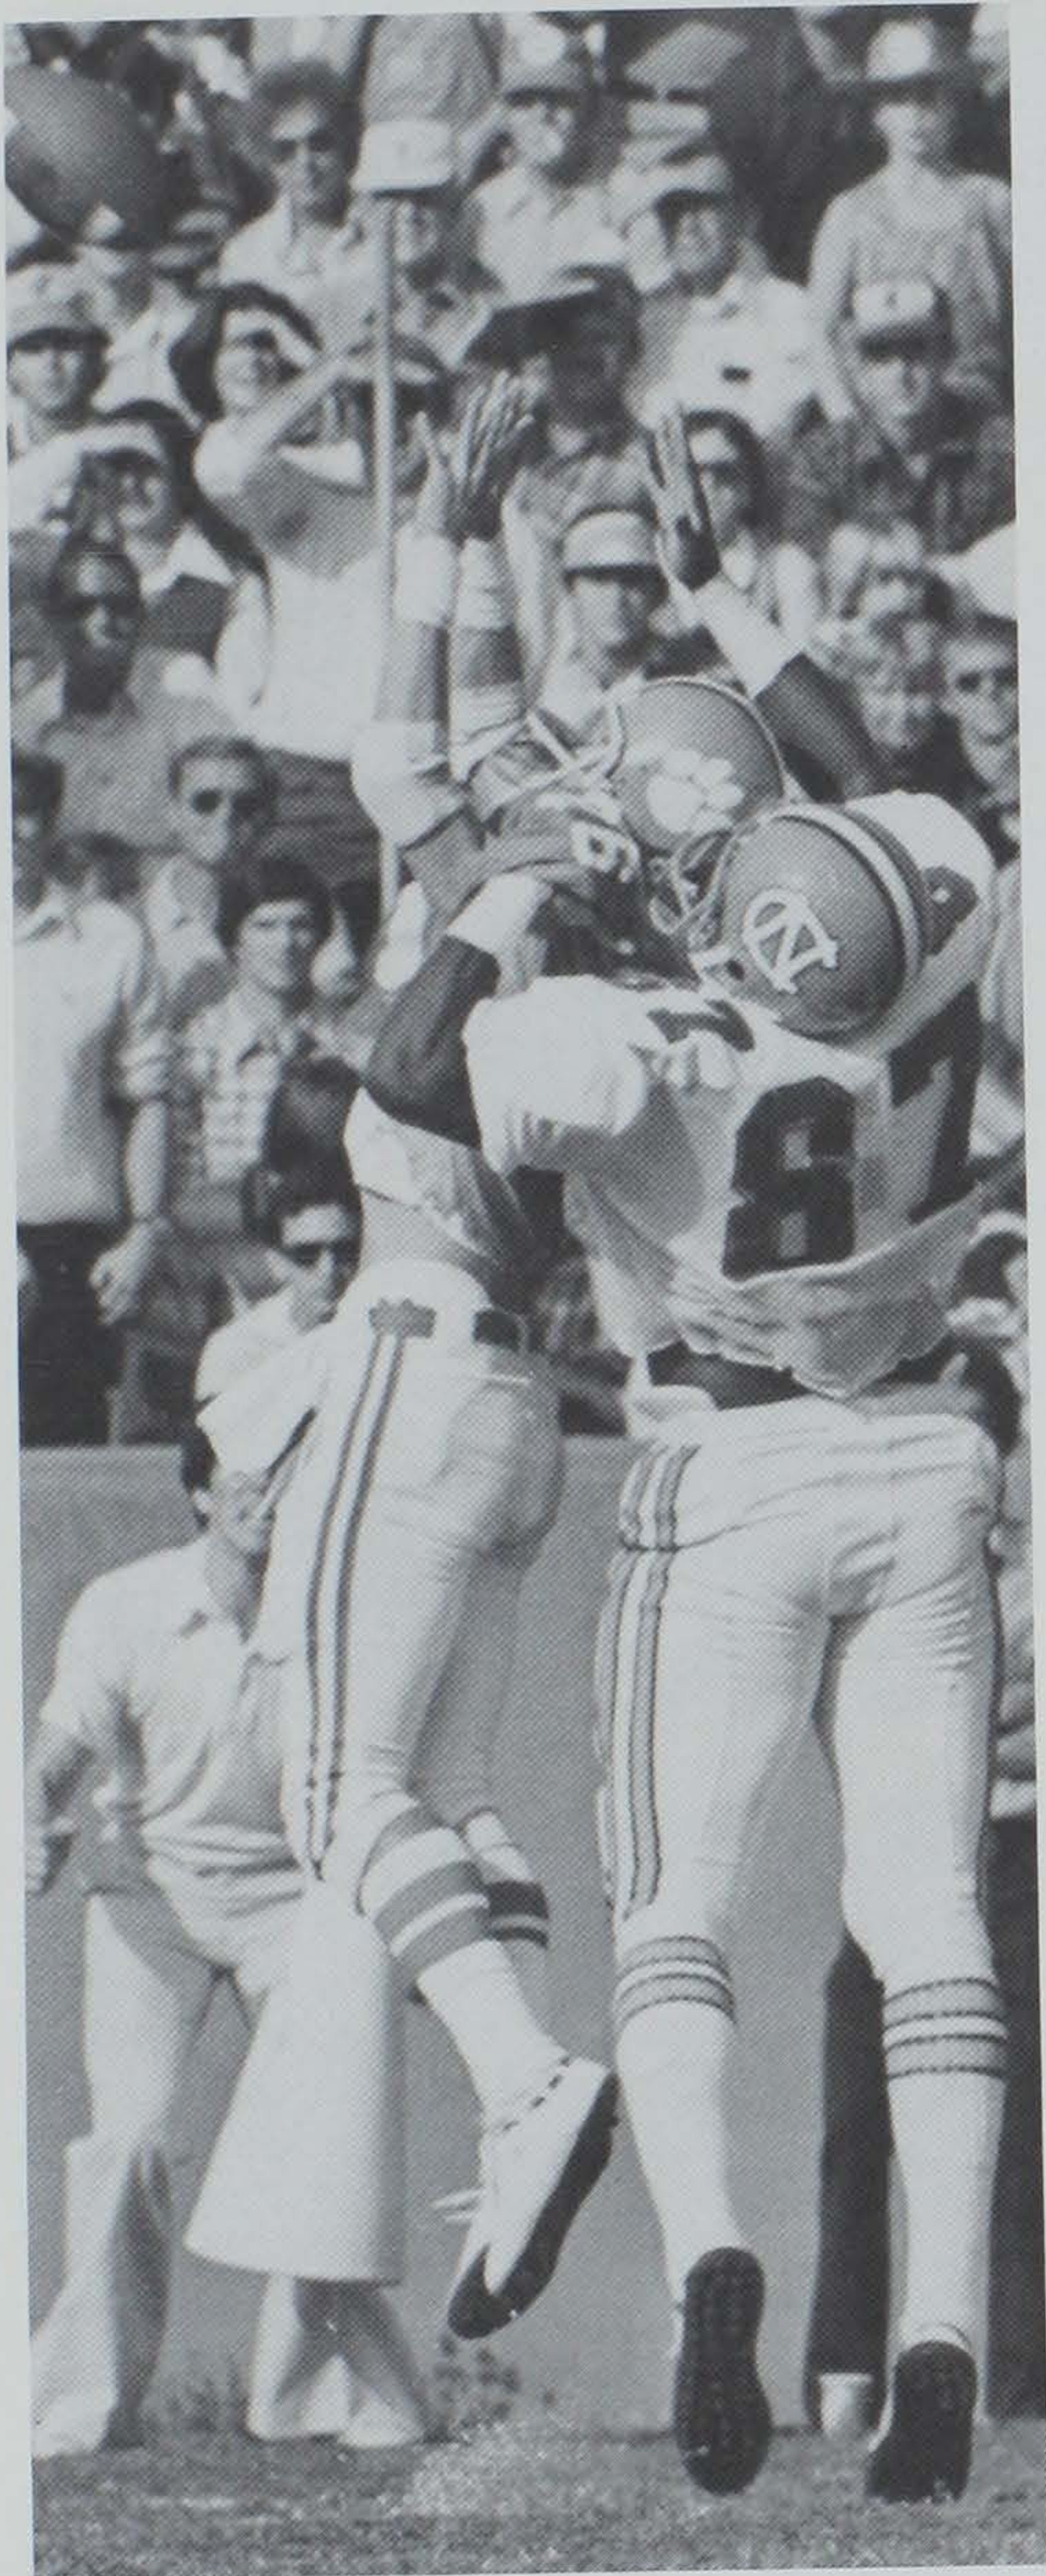

To obtain more copies of this press guide and any other brochure produced by the Clemson SID office, send a note to Bob Bradley, P.O. Box 632, Clemson, SC 29633. This year's football guide is $5 by mail.

Pushups

The Clemson Tiger has made a name for himself with his pushup exhibition. After every score the Clemson mascot does pushups corresponding to the number of points Clemson has scored at the time. This can be a difficult task in the heat of the day, like during a Georgia game when it is 85 degrees, or during a Wake Forest game when the Tigers are scoring 82 points. Zack Mills, 1978 Tiger, established the tradition and it has been carried on ever since. And, yes, the single game record you ask, 476 pushups by the Tiger during that 1981 Wake Forest game. He actually could have done 552, but the Demon Deacon felt sorry for the Tiger doing all those pushups in the fourth quarter and he did the task after Clemson scored to make it, 76-17.

Rings

A total of 12 former Clemson players have picked up 16 Super Bowl rings over the years, including recent additions Terry Kinard and Andy Headen of the New York Giants. Dwight Clark, Bennie Cunningham, Jim Stuckey and Charlie Waters are the only former Tigers with two Super Bowl championship rings.

Steve Ryan (#26) is the last walk-on to make All-ACC.

Road Trip

Clemson goes on the road just three times this year, will leave the state twice and the Carolina's once. Clemson will be home between September 13 and November 7. The players will be so anxious for that North Carolina trip in November they might walk to Chapel Hill. Fred Hoover might have the easiest administrative job in America this year. Hoover is the coordinator for Clemson road trips. He worked overtime last year, however, as Clemson left home seven times.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to Run Down the Hill (see Running down the Hill) the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50, the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the Stadium to the East side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 191 times.

Section GG

This is the green grass section of the hill, which is located in the East Stands. (See Running Down the Hill).

Spirit Day

This is fast becoming a Clemson tradition, tradition number-137 involving Clemson football. Four years ago the student body released 363,729 balloons prior to the Maryland game to establish a new Guinness Book of Records for a balloon launch. In 1984 the entire stadium held up flash cards during pregame and halftime ceremonies. Now, we are not talking these little card sections Southern Cal has in the Coliseum. This was five cards in every seat in the Stadium, over 350,000 cards in all, spelling out themes that have to do with Clemson football. Last year Clemson unveiled an 80-yard Tiger Paw Flag and passed out 80,000 orange pom-poms.

Tailgate Show

When you are driving to Clemson football games get an advance on what is happening in Tigertown with the Tailgate Show. It starts on the airways about three hours before gametime and is highlighted by special guests, prizes, phone calls, music, game notes, interviews, and just about anything that has to do with a Clemson football weekend.

Russ Cassell and Jane Robelot are your hosts. Cassell is the popular morning man on WFBC-FM and is the type of guy who could make money opening a grits store in South Dakota. Cassell is the real key to Clemson's success recently. The Tigers have lost just five home football games when he has done a tailgate show prior to the game (31-5-3). Robelot is a Clemson graduate who is a news anchor at 6:00 PM and 11:00 PM at WSPA-TV in Spartanburg, the local CBS affiliate. She is also a reporter for Clemson's Football Magazine Show.

Tigerama

World's largest pep rally, this is one of the best examples of Clemson spirit. The Friday night before Homecoming about 35,000 people come to Memorial Stadium for a combination pep rally, beauty pageant and skit presentation. In 1986 about 37,000 people attended the rally, which is more than the average home football attendance for over half the schools in the ACC.

Two-on-the-Fifty

Most often used request heard by Clemson Ticket Manager Van Hilderbrand. He has a few more tickets to juggle, with the double deck on both sides, but they still will be hard to come by due to these high preseason rankings Clemson has attained. His number is (803) 656-2118.

Walk-on Star

Steve Ryan wasn't recruited by any big schools out of high school so he came to Clemson for its fine academic reputation and because he just liked the place. The native of Moncks Corner walked on the team and is the last walk-on to win All-ACC honors. And, he did it twice in 1977 and 1978. He also led the ACC in interceptions one year and is now a successful football coach in Virginia.

White Football

Clemson used what resembled an egg for its night games in the forties and fifties. As you can see in the picture on this page, Jackie Calvert is carrying the white pigskin in a night game against an unknown opponent. The lights were not nearly as high powered as they are today, so the ball glowed in the dark to help receivers make their one reception per game.

1987 Outlook

Assistant Coach Tommy West was a second-round draft pick of the Chicago Cubs in 1972.

An old adage of sports states that it is harder to repeat as a champion than it is to win the championship the first time. Clemson coach Danny Ford hopes his team will work to reform that axiom, and to follow contemporary ACC history as he starts his ninth full season as head coach of the Tigers.

Clemson is coming off an 8-2-2 season that included the ACC Championship, a 5-1-1 record away from home, a Gator Bowl Championship, and a consensus Top 20 ranking, including a number-17 final ranking in the Associated Press poll. The ACC championship was Clemson's ninth outright title (Clemson also has a co-championship), and a look to recent ACC standings tells us Clemson has a good chance of repeating. Over the last 20 years there have been seven repeat champions.

"In recent years the ACC has gone in cycles," said Danny Ford, who has led Clemson to three ACC titles and four AP Top 20 final rankings. "In the last few years teams seem to have two or three-year reigns as the top team in this league and I certainly hope that trend continues.

Danny Ford is the ACC's all-time leader in winning percentage.

"We have as good a chance of winning the title as we did last year, but there are a lot of new faces in the league and coaching philosophies are going to change. You won't be able to use the old scouting reports this season because we will see changes in offenses and defenses with these new coaches in the league. Overall, I think we should be in the thick of things."

Clemson returns 50 lettermen from last year's club, including 17 starters (16 not including punters and placekickers). The Tigers will be especially deep and talented in the offensive and defensive lines as nine of the 10 starting linemen return and all total 23 of the 27 players who lettered last year return.

"Our number-one strength this season will be in terms of numbers," said Ford. "We should have some depth in that we have a number of people returning who have had competition on Saturday afternoons in the fall. We have depth in the lines and this could be the best looking and the most talented group of linemen I have had. But, until they line up 12 times and win 12 times like the 1981 bunch did I can't say they are the best group I have had.

"Our number-one area of concern is the skill positions. We need tailbacks to come through who have never played before. Players who accounted for nearly 13,000 career all-purpose yards have graduated from the tailback and receiver positions and finding replacements for them was a priority last spring. But, we have done it before. In 1983 we had lost Cliff Austin, Chuck McSwain and Jeff McCall and we wondered who would play in the backfield. But, Kenny Flowers, Terrence Flagler and Steve Griffin came along and did a great job."

There are two areas Ford wants to see improvement in during fall practice and next season. "We still want to improve our turnover ratio this year. We made too many mistakes and did not force many turnovers last year. We want to become a dominating football team. We let teams come back on us when we had them down. We need more of a killer instinct.

"We also want to learn how to win in Death Valley. We have not been a dominant team at home in the last two seasons

(6-4-1) and with eight home games this year we certainly need to have a great home season. We need to make Frank Howard Field the most difficult place for our opponents to gain victory. We must play with pride in that stadium."

Offense (I-Formation)

The key position of the Clemson offense has been the tailback position over the last 10 seasons. It is not a coincidence that Clemson has a streak of 10 straight winning regular seasons going, longest of its kind in ACC history. Clemson tailbacks have averaged 28 attempts and 140 yards a game under Danny Ford. Thus, it is easy to see Clemson will again go to the tailback position quite often in 1987.

"The tailback position is still open heading into the fall. We had some players show great improvement this past spring, but too many errors were made. Some of the youngsters who will be playing for us have never put on a Clemson uniform prior to this fall. That is a scary thought, but I think we have some talent at the position. Flagler and Flowers were young once."

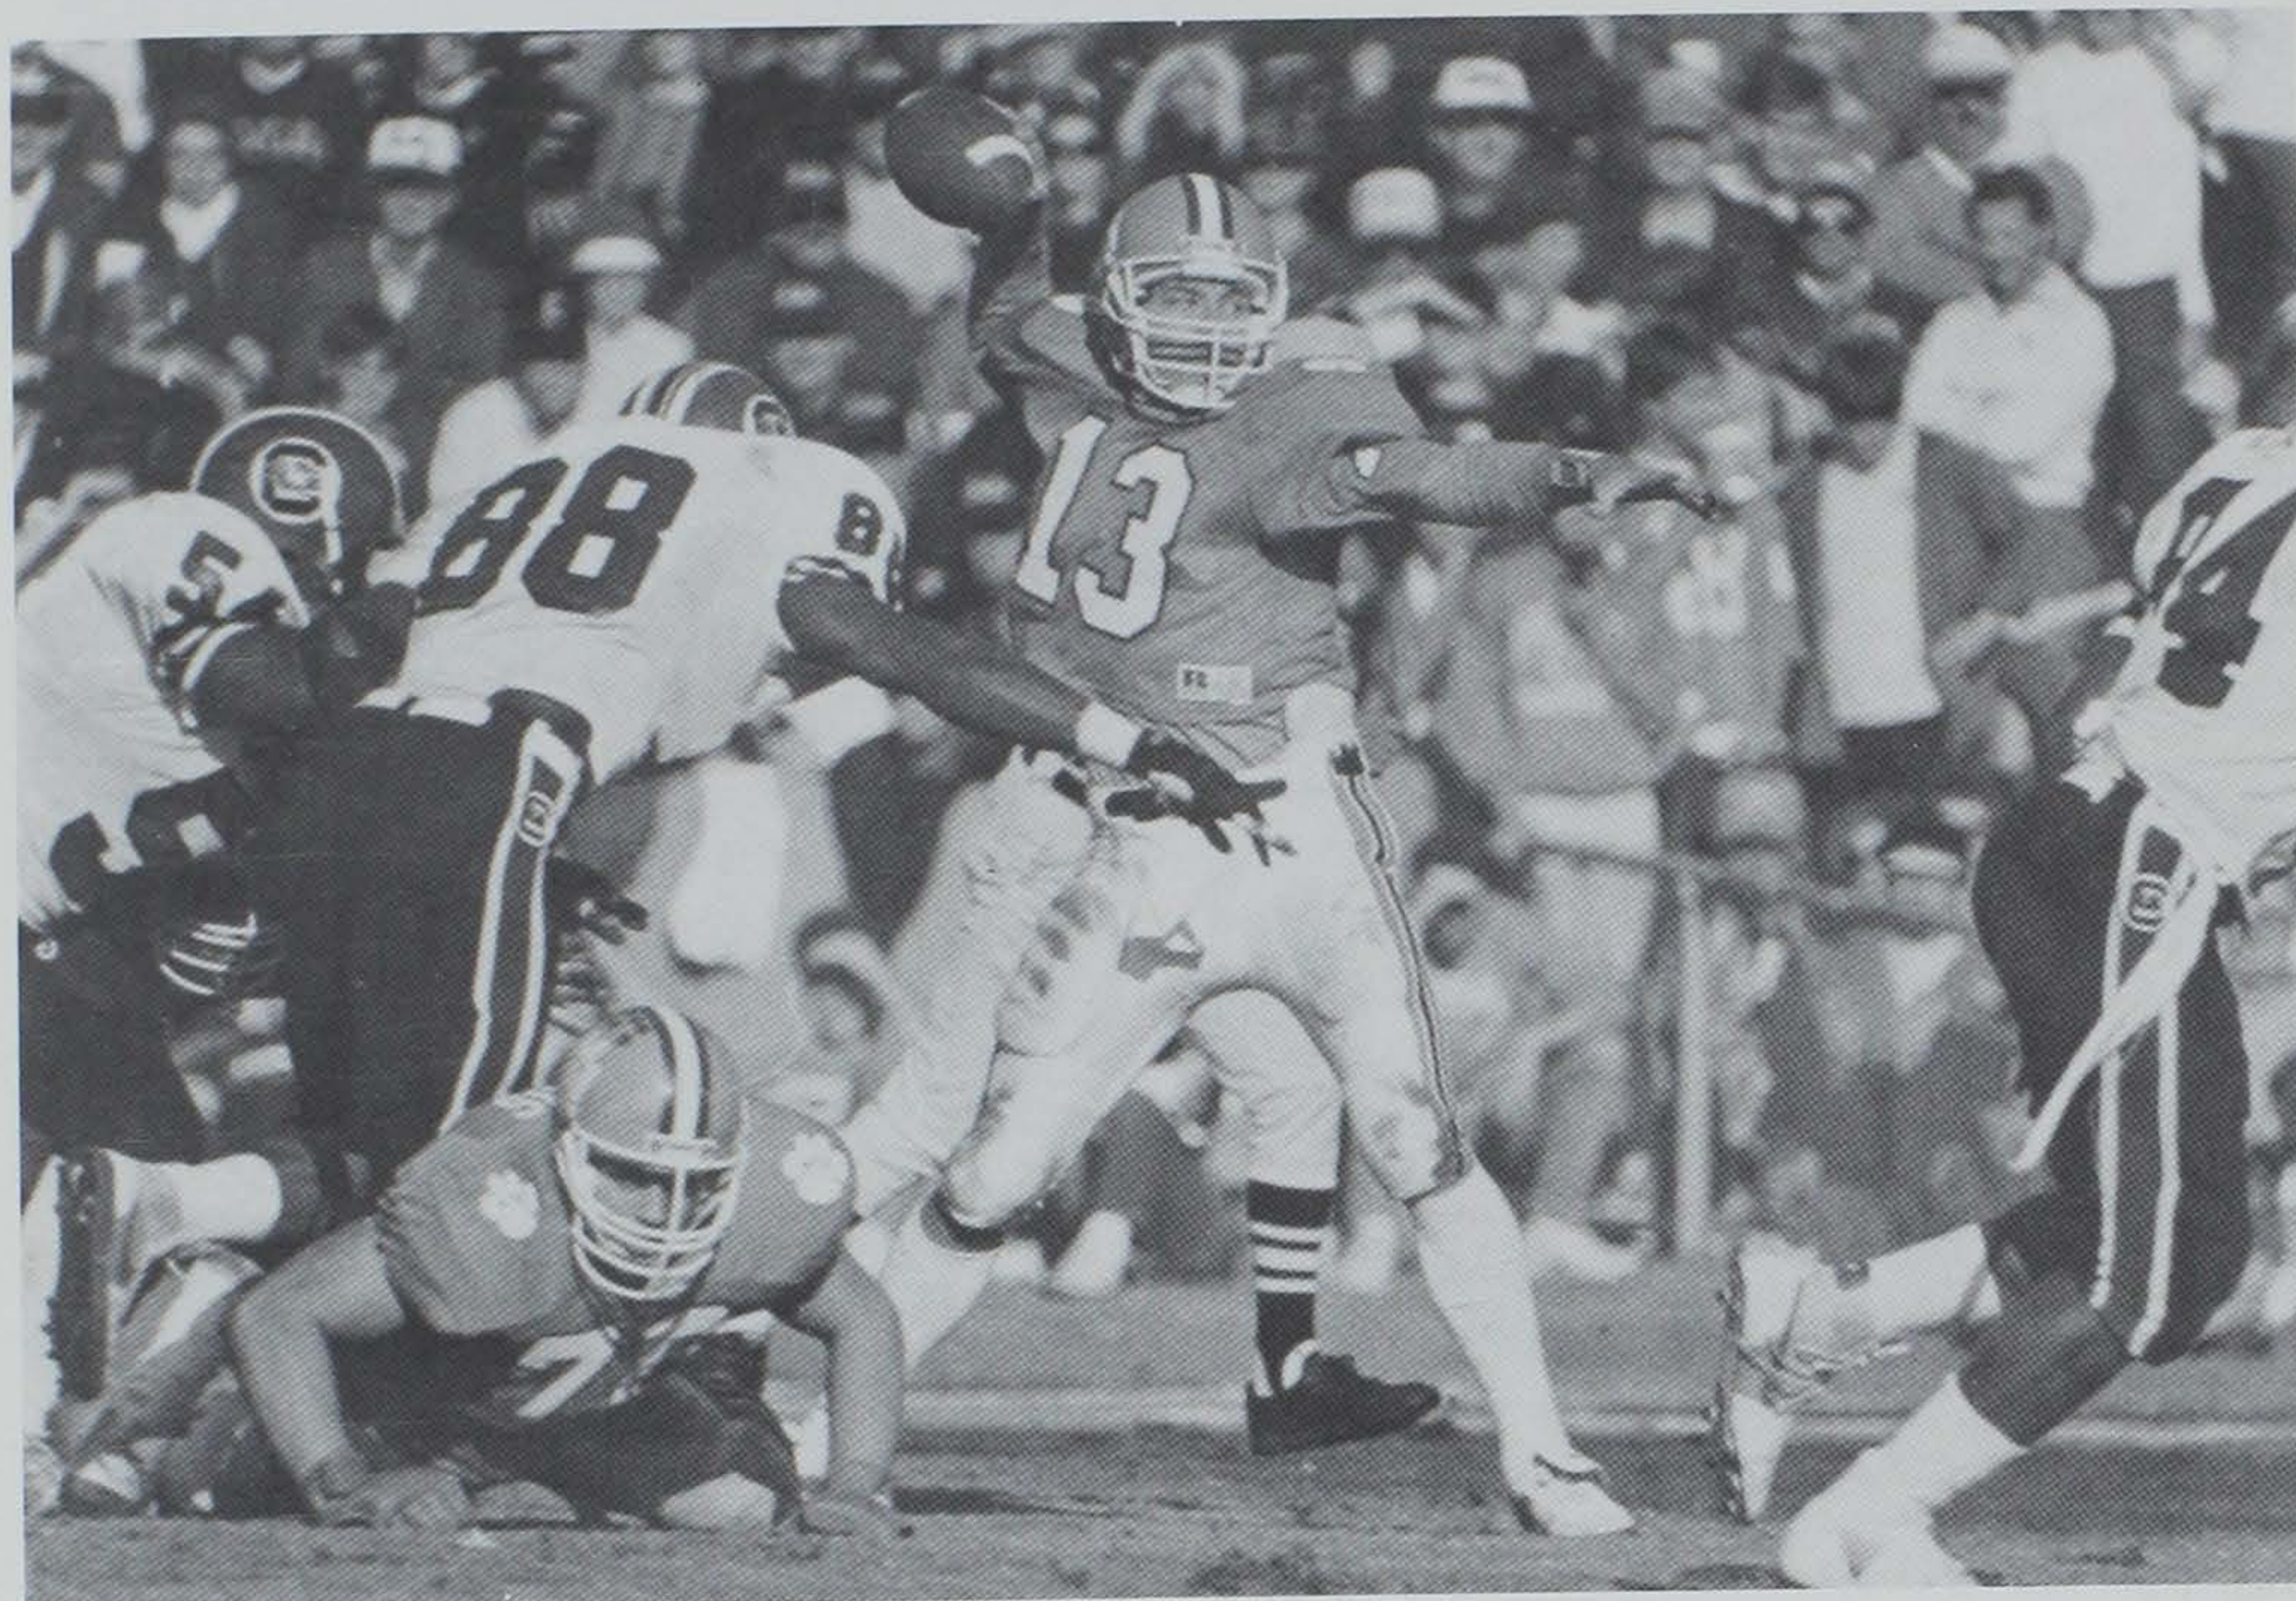

The cupboard is bare when it comes to game-experienced tailbacks on the Clemson roster. Of the tailbacks on Clemson's fall roster only one has ever played in a game for a total of three carries. Two red-shirts, two players who sat out last season due to proposition 48 and five incoming 1987 rookies will vie for the glamorous position.

Spring practice did not develop a clear-cut favorite at the tailback slot. Wesley McFadden is ranked number-one entering the fall. He had over 300 yards in stadium scrimmages and was the healthiest performer. Terry Allen had a 5.5 per carry figure in the spring workouts, but he was in and out of the lineup due to a sprained ankle.

Allen was a top high school player in Georgia in 1985 and had excellent preseason scrimmages in 1986 prior to the decision to red-shirt last season. McFadden earned a letter as a defensive back at Clemson in 1985, but worked out at tailback as a red-shirt last season.

Reggie Demps and Joe Henderson were on many high school All-America teams two years ago and they will challenge for the starting slots as sophomores. Demps gives Ford a good combination of speed and strength, while Henderson ran a 4.41 in the 40 last spring, the best figure on the team. Bruce England is the only player on the spring roster with tailback experience at Clemson.

Signee Chinedu Ohan is a junior college transfer from California who at 6-3, 240 pounds will be the biggest tailback Clemson has ever had. He enrolled at Clemson in January of 1987, participated in spring practice, and suffered an ankle injury. He has been clocked at 4.5 in the 40-yard dash.

The fullback position is just like the All-State Insurance Company ... its in good hands. Reliable bruisers Chris Lancaster and Tracy Johnson will handle the position for the third straight season. The juniors combined for 737 yards and 10 touchdowns last season, but their average was under 3.5 per carry. "One of our goals offensively this year is to improve the per carry figures of our fullbacks. We need to get it up to 4.0 per rush," said Ford.

Clemson could not ask for two more reliable, hard-working players at the position. Lancaster had 62 knockdown blocks last year, more than all but one offensive lineman. Johnson converted on third or fourth-and-two-or-less in 17 of 18 attempts last season.

Danny Ford does have the luxury of a veteran signal caller to run his intricate option attack. Clemson is 56-9-4 (84.1 percent) under Danny Ford in seasons when it has a returning starting quarterback, so it is important that Clemson has an experienced signal caller. Rodney Williams (98-200 for 1,245 yards) has now started each of the last 20 games and Clemson has a 13-5-2 record when he has been the starter. He needs just nine wins this year to tie Homer Jordan as the winningest starting quarterback in Clemson history. The MVP of the Gator Bowl came on strong the last five games, he connected on 56 percent of his attempts during that late season stretch.

Chris Morocco and Randy Anderson will battle for the backup slot along with Vince Robinson and three first-year freshmen. Morocco had a shoulder problem last spring and was in and out of the lineup. He appeared in just three games in 1986. Anderson was the Clemson starter in the opener for 1985 and he is one of the best athletes on the team. Robinson is a 243-pounder who sat out last year after a high school All-America prep career.

Each of the top four pass catchers graduated off the 1986 team, including two of Clemson's top 10 receivers of all-time, Ray Williams and Terrance Roulhac. The top receivers for 1987 figure to be Keith Jennings and Ricardo Hooper, two players with starting experience. Jennings is the leading returning receiver based on his 10 catches for 142 yards in 1986, while Hooper came on strong last year to finish with nine receptions for 148 yards. His 16.4 yards per catch figure was the best on the team among players with more than two receptions. Gary Cooper and Richard Tucker are two other receivers who should Returning first-team All-American John Phillips leads the offensive line, possibly the deepest line at Clemson since 1981. Phillips had an even 100 knockdown blocks last year (most ever by a Clemson player at any position) in helping Clemson to a 3,000-yard rushing season, just the second of its kind in Clemson history. Phillips is one of just three returning interior offensive or defensive linemen who made a first-team wire service All-America team last season.

"John Phillips has made himself a fine player with hard work," said Ford, a former offensive line coach. "He started his career at Clemson as a linebacker and showed his athletic ability by moving to the offensive line for the good of the team. Now he is an All-American. If he plays every snap like we are behind he will be the best offensive lineman we have ever had."

While Phillips is the leader of the line from the right guard slot, the left guard, Pat Williams, is also an all-star candidate. The 275-pounder can run the 40 in 4.77 seconds and has as much talent as any Clemson lineman in recent years. Jeff Bak, a native of Connecticut who started every game last year, is a reliable center, but he will be pressed for time by the much improved Hank Phillips, John's younger brother.

Clemson has three outstanding junior tackles in Ty Granger, Frank Deluliis and Jeff Nunamacher. All three were starters at one time or another last year. Granger is one of the top student-athletes on the team and is an academic All-America candidate. He was also a strength All-American in 1986. Deluliis is a native of Pittsburgh who was one of the most improved players on the team, while Nunamacher is the most physical of the group at 290 pounds.

The tight end position has three returning lettermen, but the position will be missing Jim Riggs, one of Clemson's top tight ends in history. cellent blockers, but have yet to catch a pass in their Clemson careers. Coley was one of the top special teams players a year ago and caught a 25-yard TD pass in the 1987 Spring Game. Williams had a fine spring, including one scrimmage in which he had five catches for 142 yards.

Defense (5-2)

Clemson returns eight starters and eight of the top 10 tacklers off a team that led the ACC in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense last season. The Tigers were very balanced last season on the defensive side of the football and that should be the case again in 1987. The 1986 team had 23 players with 20 or more tackles, but no player had over 74 stops for the season. Eighteen of these 23 players return for 1987, while 16 of the 20 players who recorded at least one tackle for loss also return.

"We need to become a better football team in terms of forcing turnovers," said Ford of a 1986 unit that recovered only seven opponent fumbles. "We need to become a more dominant defensive unit for 60 minutes.

"We do have numbers on defense, especially in the defensive line. We have some good athletes there and we are three-deep across the front. We need depth in the secondary to go with some outstanding starters. Overall the secondary showed great improvement last year and I think we had a good balance between pass coverage and run coverage from that group. We need some more consistent play at linebacker and will be looking for some youngsters to come through for us at defensive end, especially Bandit End, which is a key position on our defense."

The Clemson defense will be led by All-America candidate Michael Dean Perry. The native of Aiken, SC, made a name for himself last season when he recorded 15 tackles for loss and nine quarterback sacks while playing just 37 percent of the snaps. Perry was sixth on the team in total tackles with 56, but he paced the team in both tackles for loss and sacks. The brother of William "The Refrigerator" Perry has more career tackles than William had heading into his senior year and Michael Dean is already third in career tackles for loss, and tied for second in sacks at Clemson.

"Michael Dean could be the best defensive player we have had at Clemson if he improves his discipline on the field. He needs to worry about just his position and not everyone else's responsibility on the field. We will look to him for a lot of leadership this season." Perry was one of the Leadership Award winners this past spring.

Eight of the nine players who lettered on the interior of the line return for 1987, including middle guard Tony Stephens, an all-conference candidate who might have been the most improved defensive player in the ACC last year. Stephens had two career tackles in three years prior to last season, but he had 52 stops for the 1986 season and recorded four sacks. He was named the team's most improved player last year. Mark Drag, a two-year letterman, will see plenty of action along with Stephens at the middle guard position.

Otis Moore and Raymond Chavous are two more tacklers who started at least half of the games last year. Moore saw the most playing time of any interior lineman (41 percent of the plays) and had 30 tackles and four sacks. Chavous had 34 tackles, including 12 in the big win at Georgia, and is a preseason All-ACC choice by the Sporting News. Richard McCullough, a red-shirted junior and J.C. Harper, son of Clemson defensive coordinator Tom Harper, both played over 175 snaps last season.

The defensive end positions (outside linebacker and bandit end in Clemson terminology) will be led by James Earle. The senior from nearby Easley, SC was fourth on the team in tackles last year with 61. He was a starter in all 12 games and had seven passes broken up, most among the linemen. Red-shirted freshman Stacy Fields is a bright prospect on and off the field at the outside linebacker slot as he had a 3.46 GPA each semester last year. Clemson is thin at the bandit position as converted fullback Reggie Harris is the starter heading into the fall. Clemson must replace All-ACC bandit end Terence Mack who has moved on to the pros. First-year freshman John Johnson, a first-team USA Today All-American from Georgia, certainly will get a shot at the bandit slot next fall. Jesse Hatcher is a junior college transfer who was the Defensive MVP of the National JUCO All-Star game a year ago. He could see action at either position.

The linebacker area is led by Henry Carter, who recorded a career high 13 tackles in the Gator Bowl. Carter was fifth on the team in tackles last year with 59, the top total among the returning linebackers. The native of Gastonia, NC is another preseason All-ACC choice according to the Sporting News. Vince Taylor is a talented sophomore who started five games. The native of Clearwater, FL, had 46 tackles to tie James Lott for the freshman team high.

Norman Haynes was the team's top tackler last year with 74 stops and he should return to a position of responsibility. Duane Walker is another veteran and is in fact the only senior among the linebackers. Dorian Mariable is a precocious player with top flight speed.

Clemson was the only team in the ACC to hold its opponents to under 50 percent in completion percentage last season. Delton Hall, Clemson's all-time leader in Donnell Woolford has a chance to become Clemson's best ever in the secondary according to Tiger coaches, quite a statement for a school that boasts two-time All-American Terry Kinard as a graduate of its program. Woolford had 12 passes broken up last year, most ever by a Clemson sophomore, and he also had three interceptions and led the team in punt return yards with 203 yards. The native of Fayetteville, NC is rated as one of the top 15 defensive backs in the nation according to the Sporting News.

Gene Beasley is the returning starter at strong safety. Clemson's top returning tackler had 70 stops and 10 passes broken up last year to go with three interceptions. James Lott is a red-shirted sophomore who started at two different positions, cornerback and free safety. Clemson's only freshman starter had 46 stops and four passes broken up. He likely will return to the cornerback slot and make way for Richard Smith as the starter at free safety. Smith is an aggressive player who was third on the team in special teams tackles last year.

Special Teams

Clemson had its best all-around year in a decade in terms of special teams play. Clemson led the nation in kickoff returns and held opponents to 17.8 yards a return, lowest average in a decade. Clemson was also among the conference leaders in net punting and punt return yards and had the top clutch kicker in the ACC.

Donnell Woolford had over 200 punt return yards and 12 passes broken up in 1986.

David Treadwell has connected on 29 of 44 field goals in his career, but he is 6-6 in the last eight minutes of the fourth quarter. Last season he booted 12 of 20 field goals, including 2-2 in the Gator Bowl. The all-conference candidate who won the Georgia game on the last play of the contest with a 46-yard field goal, has connected on 59 straight extra points, just 11 away from the Clemson record.

Clemson will again hold tryouts for the punter position as last year's starter, Bill Spiers, signed a pro baseball contract this past summer. He was the 13th pick of the entire major league draft after leading Clemson to the NCAA South Regional Finals. His 39.2 average will be missed. Greg Bailey and Blake Campbell are walk-ons who will vie for the position. Campbell had a 62-yard effort in the Spring Game.

Donnell Woolford returns as the top punt returner. He had 203 yards in returns last year, most by a Tiger since 1981. Clemson must find some kickoff return men, however. The Tigers, behind graduated NCAA champion Terrance Roulhac, averaged 25.1 per return last year, the best team figure in the nation.

Danny Ford

Assistant Coach Bill D'Andrea played for Assistant Coach Larry Van Der Heyden at Indiana State.

One need only look at the history of the Gator Bowl to understand the degree of success Danny Ford has had in college football. He is the only man to serve as a head coach, assistant coach and a player in the history of that Florida-based bowl game, and he is one of the few head coaches to win there twice.

Overall he has had 19 winning regular seasons in his 20-year affiliation with the game, and his teams have won nearly 73 percent of the time. How has he done it? "When you go to a Clemson practice you sense almost a buddy-buddy relationship between the head coach and players," said CBS Commentator and former Notre Dame Head Coach Ara Parseghian during a recent broadcast. "He has the respect of his players and his players enjoy playing for him. He is a disciple of Bear Bryant."

Communication with his players past and present has always been a strength for Danny Ford. This past spring when the 1981 National Championship team was honored at Clemson over 50 of his former players from that team came back to campus. Certainly testimony to the camaraderie of that team, but also a testimony to Ford, who has built Clemson into one of the top programs in America over the last 10 seasons.

Here is a sampling of his accomplishments:

1. Sixth winningest active coach in America.
2. Only coach in ACC history with over a 70 percent winning percentage, he is at .731 heading into this season.
3. Has coached Clemson in five bowl games.
4. Clemson has won three ACC titles during his tenure.
5. Has coached four teams that have finished in the final Top 20 of the AP poll.
6. Has beaten 12 top 20 teams and won 21 games by seven points or less.
7. Has been to 13 bowls in 20 years associated with college football.
8. Has coached 49 All-ACC players, 19 All-Americans and 38 of his former players have been drafted by the NFL.

This list can go on and on, an amazing list for someone who is still a year away from his 40th birthday.

Probably the most significant accomplishment on Ford's resume is the 1981 National Championship. His youthful accomplishments compare favorably to Mozart in terms of reaching goals at an early age. A look at past national champions indicates that the current Clemson mentor is the youngest coach in the history of the college game to win the Associated Press National Championship.

Ford took Clemson to the national title in 1981 at the age of 33 and now is the winningest coach in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference on a percentage basis. Additionally, Ford is already seventh in total wins among ACC coaches.

And, the success has come against top competition, Ford has already gained more wins over AP top 20 teams and top 10 teams than any other Clemson coach in history and is the only coach in ACC history (eight years experience) to have a winning record against top 20 teams (top 20 when playing against Clemson).

Clemson fans are certainly happy Ford entered the profession because he has brought a solid program to among the finest in the nation. Now in his ninth full season at Clemson, his record of 66-23-4 (.731) is the sixth best winning percentage in college football among active coaches. Additionally, Clemson has the 8th best winning percentage in the nation over the last 10 years.

Between 1981 and 1984 Clemson had a 37-6-2 ledger, the fourth best winning percentage in America. The class of '84 was the third winningest in ACC history in terms of winning percentage, and no ACC class in the 34-year history of the league ever won more games in a four-year period.

In 1978 he was offensive coordinator for the 11-1 team that won the Gator Bowl over Ohio State, 17-15. The Gadsden, AL native was more than just the offensive coordinator in that game, however, as he had become the head coach of the Tigers on December 10 after Charley Pell had already left to go to Florida. The 30-year-old Ford made quite a celebrated beginning to his head coaching career with that victory over the Woody Hayes-coached Buckeyes. The nationally televised Clemson victory helped put the Tigers on the national football map and it began Clemson's climb to among the elite of college football.

Ford has received two victory rides at Clemson, one after beating Ohio State in his first game at the 1978 Gator Bowl, and the other at the 1982 Orange Bowl when Clemson won the national title.

In 1979, Ford's first full season as a head coach, he proved the victory in the Gator Bowl was no fluke as he took a team that had lost six players to the pros to an 8-4 record and another bowl game. Included in the eight triumphs in 1979 were a win at Notre Dame and a triumph over Georgia on the way to a Peach Bowl confrontation with Baylor.

Two years later Ford became the youngest coach in the history of the game to win the National Championship. Ford surprised the college football world by taking the unranked Tigers to three wins over top 10 teams and a perfect 12-0 record. Clemson handed Herschel Walker the only regular-season loss of his Georgia career, downed North Carolina in Chapel Hill in the only showdown of top 10 teams in ACC history, then defeated former National Champion Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

That obviously is the highmark of Ford's brief, but eventful career at Clemson as he was named national Coach-of-the-Year by UPI, the College Football Writers of America, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Coaches of America, and WTBS Television.

Despite the loss of many excellent players off the National Championship team, Ford led Clemson to the ACC title in 1982 and a 9-1-1 record. The 1983 team also followed with a 9-1-1 record, giving Clemson a 30-2-2 ledger between 1981 and 1983, the best record in college football.

In 1984 Clemson continued many successful streaks, as Ford ran a record home unbeaten stretch to 25 games, and an ACC winning streak to 20 games. Ford gained his 50th win at Clemson with a victory over N.C. State in Raleigh. It was just Ford's 65th game in Tigertown, a record for an ACC coach for swiftness in reaching that victory plateau.

Over the last two years he has taken Clemson to two bowls and has been the head coach in a bowl five times overall. Clemson has continued its streak of consecutive winning regular seasons to 10, an all-time ACC record. It is no coincidence that the streak began when Ford first arrived, 1977. Last year Clemson finished 17th in the final AP poll, won the ACC championship and the Gator Bowl.

A review of Ford's football past should help us understand why he has been so successful as a head coach. Another in a long line of former Bear Bryant players that has gone on to greatness in coaching, Ford played for the Bear between 1967 and 1969. He was Kenny Stabler's sophomore tight end as a starter in 1967, played that position in 1968 and moved to offensive tackle in 1969. Ford started all three years, was all-conference in 1969 and played on three teams that went to bowl games. In 1969 he was also a member of the All-SEC academic team, and served as the captain of the Alabama team.

After Pat Dye's coaxing, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. He had already earned his B.S. degree in industrial arts and earned his master's degree in special education in 1971. Ford became a full-time aide for Bryant in 1972 and 1973. The Tide went to four bowl games while Ford was an assistant coach.

Clemson's current head man then accepted a position as an assistant coach under Jimmy Sharpe at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-76) before coming to Clemson as offensive line coach in 1977. And, just 23 games later he was named head coach of the Tigers at the age of 30, the youngest active division I coach in the country. Nearly 40 years after hiring 31-year-old Alabama graduate Frank Howard, Clemson had hired 30-year-old Alabama graduate Danny Ford.

Clemson has had four All-America offensive guards in the last nine years.

History

The death on April 6, 1888, of Thomas Green Clemson set in motion a series of events that marked the start of a new era in higher education in South Carolina — especially the future of scientific higher education in agriculture and the engineering sciences. His passing set the stage for the founding of a “people’s university” that opened the doors of higher education to all South Carolinians, rich and poor alike.

Mr. Clemson, son-in-law of famous South Carolinian John C. Calhoun, was a prominent scientist who was especially interested in scientific agriculture. He had a lifelong interest in farming and agriculture and served as the country’s superintendent of agricultural affairs (predecessor to the present secretary of agriculture position). He also actively promoted the establishment and endowment of the Maryland Agricultural College in the 1850’s.

He once wrote, “The only hope we have for the advancement of agriculture (in the United States) is through the sciences, and yet there is not one single institution on this continent where a proper scientific education can be obtained.” Although he never lived to see it, his dedicated efforts culminated in the founding of Clemson Agricultural College.

Mr. Clemson provided in his will for the Fort Hill plantation and a considerable sum from his personal assets be used to establish an educational institution of the kind he envisioned. He left a cash endowment of about $80,000 and his Fort Hill estate of 814 acres to the state of South Carolina for the establishment of the school.

In November 1889, Governor Richardson signed the bill accepting the Clemson bequest. The S.C. General Assembly then adopted legislation establishing Clemson Agricultural College, with its trustees becoming custodians of Morrill Act and Hatch Act funds made available for agricultural education and research purposes by federal legislative acts.

Clemson College formally opened in July 1893 with an enrollment of 446. Clemson was an all-male, military school until 1955, when it changed to “civilian” status and became a coeducational institution.

University Governance

The University is governed by a board of 13 trustees, including six elected by the state legislature and seven self-perpetuating life members, in accordance with the will of Thomas Green Clemson. The board is primarily responsible for setting policy and approving budgets and expenditures. The University’s day-to-day operations are administered by its president; its vice president for academic affairs, administration, agriculture and natural resources, business, and finance, institutional advancement, and student affairs; and the president’s executive staff.

Campus

The Clemson campus consists of 1,400 acres and represents an insured value of approximately $394 million in academic and administrative buildings, student, staff, and faculty housing, athletic and service facilities, and equipment. It is a progressive campus, with more than 80 percent of its main buildings having been constructed since 1950.

In recent years new dormitory space has been established, a new chemistry building, Hunter Laboratory, was completed and work on the Strom Thurmond Institute was begun. Along with its excellent modern facilities, the University retains its air of tradition through such landmarks as the Fort Hill home of the Calhouns and Clemson, Tillman Hall with its clock tower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson and the Outdoor Theater.

The campus is surrounded by 20,860 acres of farms and woodlands devoted to research in forestry and agriculture. In addition, 10,447 acres throughout the state are devoted to Agricultural Experiment Station research.

Other Facts

—The average SAT score of Clemson freshmen last fall (1,025) was the highest of any public college or university in South Carolina. That’s 199 points above the average state score and 119 points above the national average.

—Thirty-seven percent of the entering freshman class of 1986 graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school classes; 63 percent in the top 20 percent; and 78 percent in the top 30 percent. The mean grade-point ratio for their high school academic work was 3.38 on a 4.0 scale.

—In 1986, incoming students earned 4,785 credit hours through the Advanced Placement Program sponsored by the Educational Testing Service. With that statistic it is easy to see why Clemson’s retention rate (percentage of freshmen returning for the sophomore year) typically runs about 85 percent.

—Clemson is one of the most popular schools in the Southeast. In 1986, the University received nearly 6,500 applications for approximately 2,300 openings in the freshman class.

—In 1984 and again in 1987 Clemson’s candidates achieved 100-percent success in the annual competition for prestigious Fulbright grants and scholarships. All six Clemson nominees won awards in ’84, and all five Clemson applicants were successful in ’87.

—Clemson is the home of “CURBi” the nation’s first two-legged, walking robot. CURBi (for Clemson University Robot Biped) is the result of research by Dr. Y.F. Zheng, the state’s only 1987 recipient of a Presidential Young Investigator Award from the National Science Foundation and the third Clemson PYI Award winner in four years.

—About 82 percent of Clemson’s 1,000 faculty members have Ph.D.s. The faculty has published more than 350 books and has written more than 20,000 papers, articles and addresses.

—Clemson’s Robert Muldrow Copper Library has approximately 1.5 million volumes, including outstanding collections in agriculture, the natural and physical sciences, economics and technology.

—Clemson’s Electron Microscope Facility is one of the best in the South and one of the most versatile anywhere. This equipment, combined with dedicated research computers and lasers, gives Clemson a world-class facility for microelectronics research.

—Clemson is very strong in the engineering and mathematical sciences and has a business school that is growing by leaps and bounds. The University’s nine colleges are Engineering (with the largest undergraduate enrollment), Commerce and Industry (which in combination with Engineering accounts for half the total enrollment), Agricultural Sciences, Architecture, Education, Forest and Recreation Resources, Liberal Arts, Nursing, and Sciences.

—Among the many distinguished recipients of honorary degrees from the University are syndicated columnist Jenkin Lloyd Jones, architect R. Buckminster Fuller, Wall Street financier Bernard Baruch, nuclear physicist Edward Teller, and U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond.

President Lennon

Clemson has won nine or more games eight times, three of them have been under Danny Ford.

On September 6, 1986, Clemson University formally inaugurated Dr. Max Lennon as the university's seventh president. The governor of South Carolina, the Honorable Richard W. Riley, spoke of a "quest for academic excellence which has never been more important than today," at the inauguration. He called Dr. Lennon, "the leader for the future of all South Carolina."

During his short time as president, Dr. Lennon has accomplished much, including the school's "Second Century Plan." This project, drawn up with help from faculty and state business leaders, emphasized research in agriculture, engineering, basic science, marketing, management, textiles and the quality of life; all these areas and several more were just a portion of a proposal to endure economic growth within the state.

It is the by-product of Lennon's overall attitude that Clemson is here to help its students to become successful and in general make the state a better place to live.

Dr. Lennon is a native of Columbus County, NC and earned his bachelor's degree in animal science from N.C. State in 1962. He also earned a doctorate in animal science from the same institution in 1970.

He had been at Ohio State for two years prior to his move to Clemson. He served as executive dean for agriculture, home economics and natural resources. Lennon was also on the Ohio State Faculty Senate and was co-chairman of the Governor's commission on agriculture.

Previously, he had served as dean of the college of Agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Missouri and as associate dean and director of research in the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University.

Lennon, who has also served as an assistant professor at Texas Tech and Missouri, spent two years with the International Agri-business firm Central Soya of Illinois. He also has participated in many national and international conferences concerning new technologies in agriculture.

The 46-year-old Lennon was chosen from about 200 candidates for the presidency at Clemson.

Lennon commented on his philosophies and goals for Clemson in his opening press conference. "I am extremely delighted to be chosen as the leader of this great institution. We're at an extremely important time in our lives, not because of circumstances but because of where we are in history. We need land-grant institutions in a way that is almost unique ... so we can continue to be competitive in a world market.

"We at Clemson University must make our own priorities to lead us into the 21st century. We must begin by making ourselves visible in the state, then we must focus on the global perspective of the university and what we can accomplish in that arena."

Board of Trustees President Louis P. Batson declared that the long selection process had discovered a man who knows what he wants. "Max Lennon is a good planner, a deep thinker, and a man ready for the challenge. He is restless without being impatient."

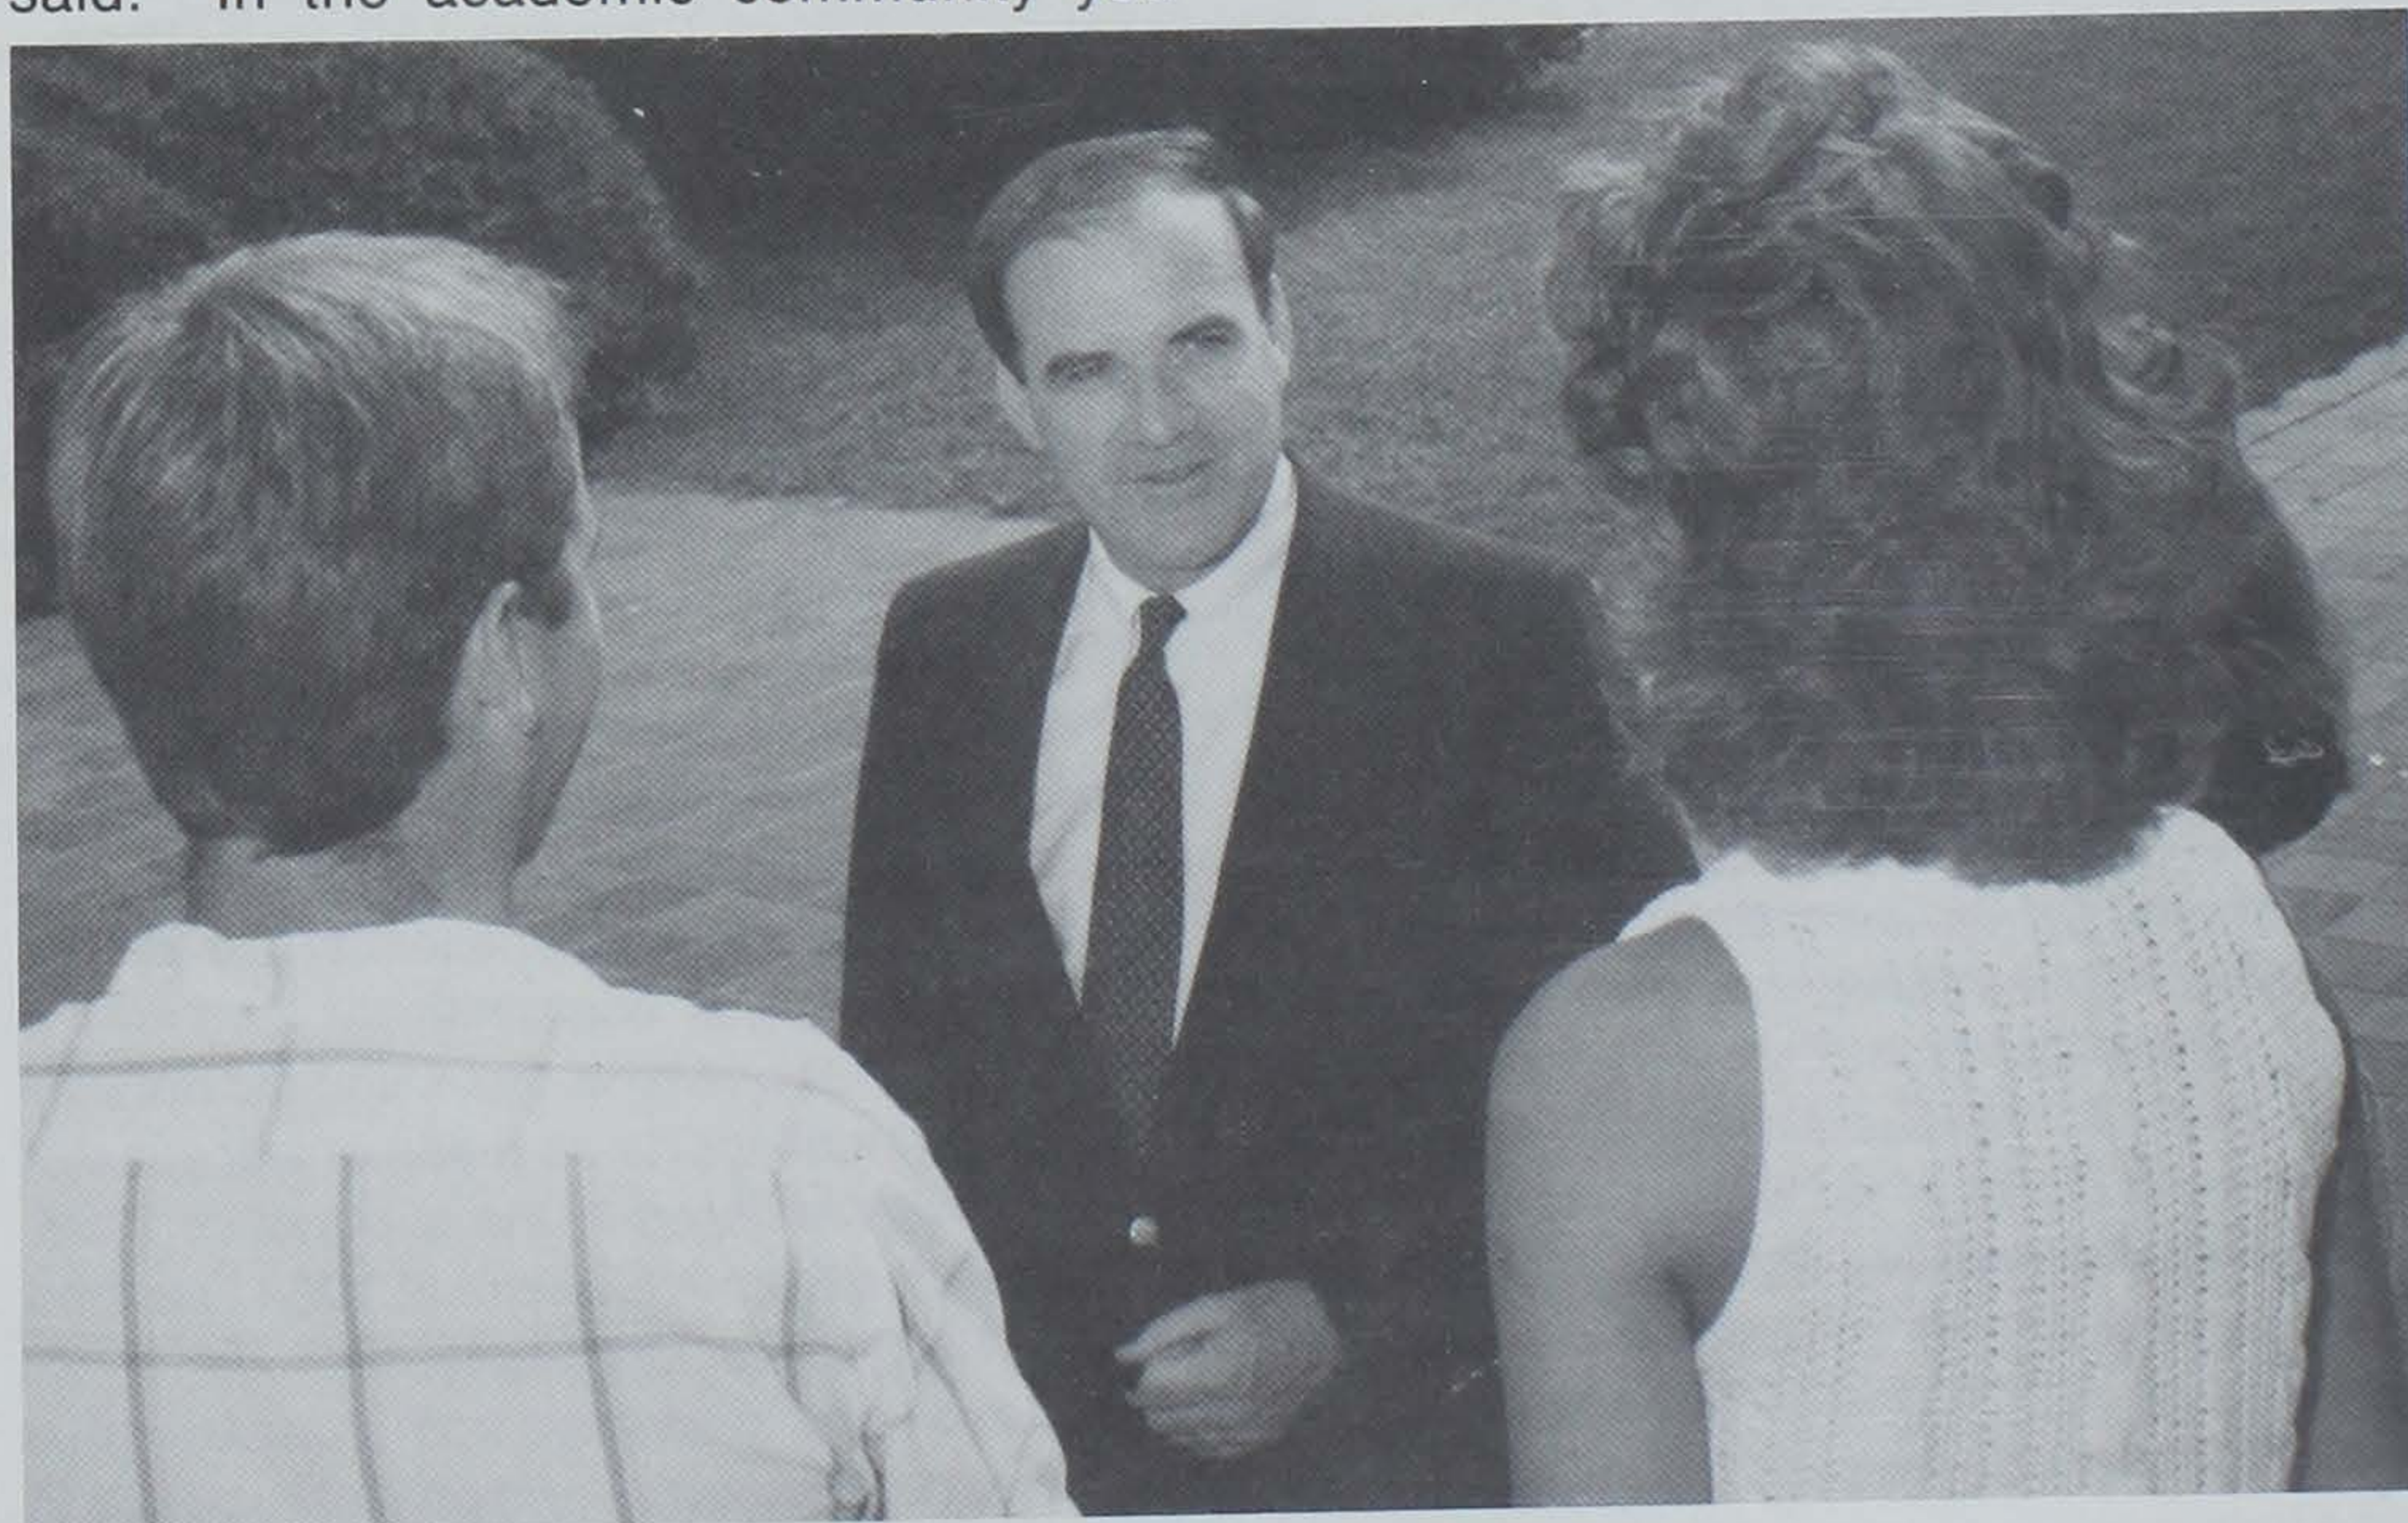

Lennon said the early part of his administration will consist of familiarizing himself more closely with Clemson's programs. "It would be presumptuous of me to come in here with a set of priorities," he said. "In the academic community you build on the strengths of the institution, and my first business has been learning about those strengths. I'll be calling for help from the students, faculty, administrators, alumni and the rest of the Clemson family to make sure our priorities are in order."

Lennon is active in many councils and commissions, including the American Society for the Advancement of Science; the National Association of State Universities and LandGrant Colleges and the National Dropout Prevention Fund.

Lennon began his teaching career at N.C. State in 1966 when he served as a graduate assistant professor. In 1970 he moved to Lubbock, TX, where he served as an assistant professor of animal science at Texas Tech University. He remained at the Texas institution as an assistant dean and associate dean in the College of Agriculture until 1980. On the first day of this decade he became the chairperson in the department of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri. He served as Dean of the College of Agriculture at Missouri until 1983, when he moved to Ohio State as vice president for agricultural administration.

Lennon is married to Ruth Carter Lennon and they have two children, Daniel Ray (24) and Robin (22).

Max Lennon is in his second full academic year as Clemson President.

Bobby Robinson

Clemson had the ACC scoring champion in both football and basketball last year.

A successful athletic program is usually the result of many factors, the most important being a well qualified leader heading up the entire program. At Clemson, continued success in all facets of athletics is evidence of the quality of leadership that has been found over the past few years under Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Last year was Robinson's most successful since taking over at the helm in March of 1985. In fact, it was one of the most successful years in the history of Clemson athletics.

Both major revenue sports, football and men's basketball were involved in post-season play in 1986-87, as were baseball and 12 other teams. In other words, out of 18 sports offered at Clemson, 15 were involved in some sort of post-season play.

In football, the Tigers finished the season ranked 17th in the AP poll and took a trip to Jacksonville, FL, where they defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

The 1986-87 basketball squad became the most successful in school history as they finished the season ranked 13th and advanced to the NAAs for just the second time in the school's history.

The Clemson baseball team ended its season with a number-10 ranking and also traveled to the NCAA baseball tournament. The golf and tennis teams also received bids to the NAAs, making Clemson one of just five schools to have these three spring teams participating in NCAA post-season play.

The success of the three major sports (football, basketball, and baseball) made Clemson one of only two universities (UCLA was the other) to have all three ranked in the top 20 in the final polls.

Robinson's continued success is a result of his great commitment to being the best — in competition, in academics and in facilities. Last season is evidence of the program moving towards the best in competition, but Clemson athletics is also taking strides towards being the best in the two other areas.

In academics, Clemson student-athletes had an outstanding year. Over 65 athletes had 3.0 or better grade point ratios either semester, with the football team having three players named to the Academic All-ACC team. Six students were named to various academic All-America teams, the most ever for one season.

In the area of facilities, Robinson has also enjoyed success. Renovations over the past few years have included the Strength Training Center, one of the finest in the country; Tiger Field, home of the Clemson baseball team; and the West End Zone locker room complex in Memorial Stadium. New facilities include a new activities room in Death Valley, an indoor tennis facility, and new permanent soccer stadium on Riggs Field. In addition to all of this, a continuing maintenance program for all facilities and practice areas has been established.

From a university perspective, Robinson envisions the athletic department as being one of 49 departments on campus, equal to English, accounting, and the others. "We believe the athletic department is a viable, important part of the mission of Clemson University," says Robinson, "as athletic competition provides a common bond for students, faculty, staff, and friends."

Under Robinson, the athletic department has continued support of the university. Band uniforms and travel, the educational enhancement fund (coordinated with the Athletic Council) are some of the areas that have been developed.

Robinson was born in Columbia, SC and attended A.C. Flora High School. During his high school career, he was a point-guard for the basketball team and a third baseman in baseball. He also played golf competitively, and was a scratch golfer at one time. Robinson did not play any high school sports as a senior because of a heat stroke suffered in the summer of 1963. He graduated from A.C. Flora in 1964 and then enrolled in Furman University.

Robinson was graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman. After he was graduated from Furman, Robinson worked in his family's laundry and dry-cleaning business for two years.

Robinson came to Clemson in 1970, not in athletics, but in the housing office. After three years, he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department. "I started at Clemson in the housing office, but I came to Clemson with the intention of working in athletics," said Robinson. "No opening existed at the time, so I had to wait until there was one."

After serving the athletic department in various capacities, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title for four years, and his area of responsibility moved to primarily football and basketball.

While serving his administrative duties, Robinson found time to coach the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach, Clemson won its first ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five finish. Clarence Rose was one of three All-Americans to play for the Tigers during his tenure and he is now a successful member of the pro tour.

With Robinson's qualifications, it is easy to see why the Clemson athletic program enjoys continued success - he has done it all. He has been an administrator at all levels, he has worked in other areas in the university, he has been a head coach, and he has handled the budgetary aspects needed to run a $12 million program.

Robinson has confidence in his staff, his coaches, his athletes, and the facilities at Clemson University. "We have a solid base to work from, but if we are not moving forward, we are losing ground. We will work within university guidelines and expand our horizons. We want to be as good as we can as a vital part of the university and the state of South Carolina."

DWIGHT RAINEY
Senior Associate Athletic Director

Early this year, Dwight Rainey was promoted for the third time in his four-year tenure within the athletic administration at Clemson. His new title, Senior Associate Athletic Director, brings few new responsibilities as Rainey had become more and more involved in the administration of the total athletic program over the past few years. He is responsible for overseeing all non-revenue sports, strength training and equipment room activities, in addition to his primary work with football and basketball scheduling, travel and general administration.

Rainey has done an outstanding job for the non-revenue sports program at Clemson, keeping Tiger teams in the national spotlight. In his five years of overseeing these 18 programs, Clemson has been in the top 25 in the nation in the Knoxville Journal All-Sports Poll all five years. Last year both the men's and women's programs were in the Top 20, a first in Clemson athletics.

Rainey came to Clemson's administration from the basketball office, where he served as Bill Foster's top assistant for 13 years, five at UNCC and eight at Clemson. With the basketball program Rainey was responsible for recruiting, scheduling, on-the-floor instruction and administrative tasks.

Rainey was the first assistant hired by Bill Foster upon his appointment at Clemson. He spent nearly a third of his life working with Foster as a player or a coach, as he played for Foster at Shorter College in Georgia and also coached under Foster at UNC-Charlotte.

He never really planned on being a coach, but he decided to join Foster in August of 1970 at UNCC and he stayed in the profession for 13 years. But, when an opening developed in the Clemson administration, he jumped at the chance. Since that time, more and more opportunities have developed for Rainey as he has rapidly advanced through the ranks of the athletic department.

Rainey has a fine business background as he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from Shorter in 1967. He then earned a master's degree in business from UNC-Charlotte in 1971. Between 1967 and August of 1970 he worked with a division of the Chrysler Corporation in Atlanta, GA.

Rainey was an outstanding athlete during his high school and college days. He prepped at Clarkston (GA.) High School where he was a standout athlete, earning letters in basketball, baseball, and golf. He earned a spot on the Georgia All-Star basketball team and led the South squad with a 16-point performance to walk away with the most valuable player honors.

His performance earned him a scholarship at Shorter College (Rome, GA.) where his association with Foster began. During his stay at Shorter, he paced the Hawks to a 94-23 slate and was a Converse All-America selection as a senior. He was ranked as the eighth-best free throw shooter in the country as a senior, with a 89.7 shooting percentage.

His direction is one reason Clemson tied an ACC record for conference championships in 1986-87 with seven, and had 10 teams ranked in the top 20 of their respective polls, a school record for an academic year.

LEN GOUGH, Associate Athletic Director

Len Gough is another staff member who has been through many of the branches of the Clemson athletic department. Gough, who is in his third year as associate athletic director, has been with the athletic department for 11 years in different capacities. Gough's association with Clemson started long before that, as his father was a 1952 Clemson graduate and Gough himself graduated from the university in 1974.

After graduating with a bachelor's degree in textile technology, Gough, a native of Chester, SC, began work as an assistant equipment manager. He was a student football manager during his undergraduate days.

He was also a member of Tiger Brotherhood and was the President of Block C, Clemson's lettermen association.

By 1976 he was named head equipment manager and was already supervisor for over $1.5 million in inventory and was in charge of purchase, maintenance and issuance of all athletic equipment. He also coordinated football and basketball trips, devised the lettermen's award system and designed the 1981 National Championship ring.

In July of 1982, Gough became assistant executive secretary of IPTAY. He assisted in the total fund-raising area, supervised the sale of executive suites in Memorial Stadium, served as game manager for all basketball games and coordinated all tournaments in all sports hosted by Clemson.

In November of 1984, Gough became an assistant athletic director for promotions and media relations. In March of 1985 he was promoted to the position of associate athletic director. In this position Gough supervises all promotions and media relations, supervises the SID office, coordinates spirit groups, oversees the administration of the executive suites in Memorial stadium, and supervises the radio and television programming for Tiger athletics.

Gough, a graduate of Chester High School in Chester, SC, is married to the former Jane Price of Greenwood, SC.

VAN HILDERBRAND, Assistant Athletic Director

Any tiger fan who has ever needed tickets or parking for a Clemson athletic event will recognize the name of Van Hilderbrand. He has served the Clemson athletic department for 11 years and is in his third year as an assistant athletic director. He is in charge of the ticket office and supervises all parking administration in his new capacity.

Hilderbrand is certainly familiar with the athletic department. He started his association there as a student employee in the ticket office during his college career, 1970-74. In 1976 he filled the newly created position of assistant ticket manager and in 1980 he was named Athletic Department Ticket Manager. In 1985 he was made an assistant athletic director.

Demand for tickets to Clemson athletic events is at an all-time high and it is Hilderbrand's responsibility to distribute the tickets to the thousands who attend the games. Hilderbrand and his staff sell twice as many football season tickets as any other school in the ACC and admitted the nation's sixth largest crowd for the 1986 football season. The improvement in the basketball program also meant an increase in basketball season ticket sales.

In the seven years since Hilderbrand took the job as ticket manager, he has distributed more season tickets than ever before for football and basketball. He has met the challenge by keeping up with the technology of the profession. Last year Clemson utilized a computerized ticket system for the first time.

Hilderbrand also had the added challenge of handling requests for tickets in the 15,000-seat addition to Memorial Stadium in 1983.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson.

Hilderbrand graduated from Clover (SC) High School in 1970, and earned his degree in parks and recreation administration from Clemson in 1974. The 35-year-old is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover and they have two children, Van Jr., who was born December 31, 1979, the day Clemson met Baylor in the Peach Bowl, and Lee Elizabeth, who was born October 2, 1985.

FRED HOOVER, Assistant Athletic Director, Head Athletic Trainer

Much of the credit for getting the Tigers on the field every Saturday afternoon should go to Fred Hoover, who is in his 29th year as head trainer for the Tigers. The 56-year-old Hoover is responsible for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to Clemson's athletes. In addition, Hoover, who was named assistant athletic director in the summer of 1983, is responsible for purchasing of athletic equipment, supervising the medical staff, making travel arrangements, supervising the athletic training room and directing the training table.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Hoover graduated with a BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953. He served as trainer at his alma mater for two stints, 1952-53 and 1957-58, before coming to Clemson in 1959.

Professionally, "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administration post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president, and he is an affiliate member of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine.

In 1981, Hoover was enshrined in the Citizens Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his work.

In the spring of 1982, he was named a consultant to the South Carolina Medical Association - Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. He is also a former chairman of the NATA National Symposium Committee and of the South Carolina Board of Certification for Athletic Trainers. Hoover is also a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and is past president of the South Carolina Trainers Association.

In 1983, Hoover was the recipient of the Distinguished Service to Sports Medicine Award given by the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. In 1987, he was awarded the South Carolina Hall of Fame Distinguished Service to Sports Award.

Hoover is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, IL, and the Hoovers have two children. Catherine is a 1980 Clemson graduate who is married, and Bryan, who finished Clemson in May 1986.

ROBERT RICKETTS, Assistant Athletic Director

Keeping the expense accounts of such a vast operation as the Clemson athletic department in order is no easy task, but Assistant Athletic Director Robert Ricketts is well qualified for the job. Ricketts is only in his third year in the department but he has already been elevated to assistant athletic director. He is in his 12th year with the university.

As assistant athletic director in charge of business operations, Ricketts handles all purchasing and expense accounts. This job is old hat to Ricketts as he spent nine years working for years, one of his main duties was the audit for the athletic department. He worked in the University's financial management division in accounting control and payroll benefits between 1976 and 1977, then worked in the internal auditing division as an auditor between 1977 and 1980. In 1980 he was named an audit supervisor, a position held until February of 1985. Thus he has seen all sides of his job.

Clemson in auditing and accounting departments. During these nine

Ricketts earned an associate of arts degree from Anderson College in 1969, and a business administration degree from Erskine College in 1971. He is also a 1967 graduate of T.L. Hanna High School in Anderson. After his graduation from Erskine, he entered merchandise management with the J.C. Penny Company of Greenville and Anderson. He worked for that company between 1972 and 1976, until he began his career with the University on May 28, 1976.

The native of Anderson has also completed the College Business Management Institute at the University of Kentucky and is a charter member of the Institute of Internal Auditors. He is also a charter member of the Pendleton Sertoma Club and has served as secretary of the Clemson Recreation Advisory Committee for six years.

Ricketts and his wife, Kathey, have two children Chesley (8) and Lindsey (4). His wife is employed in the payroll and insurance office at Clemson University.

CLYDE WRENN, Assistant Athletic Director

Clyde Wrenn has, at one time or another, been involved in almost all aspects of athletics. One of the newest members of the athletic staff, Wrenn is also one of its most experienced members. Now an assistant athletic director in charge of football operations, he formerly was the school's football recruiting coordinator in the mid-seventies.

Wrenn's position is a vital one to the football program as he specialized in supervising recruiting and the day-to-day administrative operation of the football department. A native of Chester, SC, he was a member of the Clemson football radio network team as a color analyst for the 1983, 1984 and 1985 football seasons. He was also a scout for the Denver Broncos during this time.

Coaching has also been a part of Wrenn's repertoire. He began his career at Southside High School in Florence as an assistant coach, and in five years the team posted a 40-16 mark. He also served as head baseball coach for three years and captured the state title in each season. The 43-year-old Wrenn moved to West Florence High School the next year as athletic director and head football coach. His two-year record on the gridiron was 14-5.

Wrenn first came to Clemson in 1972 and served as the junior varsity coach under Head Coach Hootie Ingram. After one season in that capacity he was named head recruiter under Red Parker. He served in this post through the 1977 season. He was the recruiting coordinator when Clemson brought in the class of 1981, the group that led Clemson to the national championship.

Wrenn got completely out of athletics in the spring of 1977 when he became operational manager of Waccamaw Pottery in Myrtle Beach for two years. In 1980 he went into private business with Tuff Stuff Furniture, where he remained for four years.

Wrenn earned 10 letters at Chester High School in football, basketball, and baseball and then played baseball two years at Spartanburg Junior College. He enrolled at N.C. State for his final two years of undergraduate work, and received his BS degree in recreation and park administration in 1965. Wrenn was awarded his MS degree in business administration from Western Carolina in 1969.

Wrenn is married to the former Willa Lynn of Chester and they are the parents of two sons, Craig (17) and Cal (15).

BOB BRADLEY, Sports Information Director

The Sports Information Department is a vital part of the athletic program as it is responsible for keeping the Tigers in the mind of the media and the public alike. Heading this department at Clemson is the man who has been with the athletic department as a fulltime employee longer than anyone else currently on the staff, Bob Bradley. This is Bradley's 33rd year as Clemson's sports information director and while in this position he has won every conceivable award and has become one of the most respected men in the sports information field.

The knowledgeable and personable Bradley was chosen president of CoSIDA in 1972 and was selected as the organization's Man-of-the-Year in 1976. He has also been elected by his peers to the organization's Hall of Fame. Additionally, he was honored in 1983 by the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame for his special contributions to athletics. He was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1985, and has also been honored by the ACC basketball and football officials.

In 1985-86 Clemson had seven national awards, the second highest total in the nation. Last year, Clemson was one of only two schools in the nation to have its football and basketball press guides ranked in the top five, as the football guide was ranked third best in the nation while the basketball guide was fifth. The Clemson football guide has ranked in the top five in the country three of the last four years. In all, Clemson won 10 national awards last year, more than any other university.

During his college days at Clemson, Bradley was the editor of The Tiger, the student newspaper. In addition to his task as editor and sports editor of that weekly publication, Bradley also worked for The Greenville News-Piedmont on both a full and part-time basis. Bradley graduated from Clemson in 1951 with a BS degree in textile manufacturing. He served in the Air Force for four years.

The 62-year-old Bradley was born in Randleman, NC, and is married to the former Louise Madewell of Dallas, TX. They have two children, Dorma of Montgomery, AL and Robert, sports editor of the Valdosta Daily Times. They also have one granddaughter, Amanda (9).

BOBBY DOUGLAS, Equipment Manager

Many fans think their Tigers are one of the best dressed teams in the nation. If this is true, thanks should go to Equipment Manager Bobby Douglas. Douglas takes great pride in the appearance of the Tigers on game days and he also strives to insure the players' safety by keeping the equipment in good working order. Douglas is also responsible for the associated athletic equipment for all 18 sports at Clemson.

Douglas took over his present position in July of 1982, when it was vacated by Len Gough, who was named assistant executive secretary of IPTAY. Douglas had served as the assistant equipment manager since 1978.

Packing and planning for extended road trips has become one of Douglas' specialties, as the Clemson football team went to four bowls in a period of five years and in 1982, traveled to Tokyo, Japan for the Mirage Bowl. The Tiger basketball team is also a frequent traveler, as the team regularly makes trips to Christmas tournaments.

Douglas, born on September 9, 1955, is a 1974 graduate of Toms River High School in New Jersey. He ran cross country, indoor and outdoor track and was a three-year letterman in each sport. He came to Clemson on a track scholarship and ran with the team his freshman year. He went into managing at Clemson as a student in his junior year. During his sophomore year he served as co-sports editor of The Tiger, the Clemson student newspaper.

The native of Montclair, NJ received his bachelor's degree in industrial education from Clemson in December of 1978 and became assistant equipment manager almost immediately. He married the former Ann Skelton of Clemson, SC, on June 28, 1986.

DON WADE, Administrative Assistant

The Tigers' success on the football field would not be possible without a great deal of behind-the-scenes work. Much of this work is the responsibility of Don Wade, who handles the day-to-day administrative tasks of the football program.

Since returning to Clemson five years ago, Wade's contributions have been considerable. This year he will serve as an administrator for Clemson's "walk-on" program and football camps, and will organize coaching clinics. He will also be involved with film exchange, and handling the day-to-day organization of the football office.

Wade is certainly no stranger to Clemson. After spending four years as a linebacker for the Tigers, he received his bachelor's degree in education in 1952. He then spent a year as an assistant coach at Waynesboro High School in Georgia before returning to Clemson for 15 seasons on the football staff.

In 1968, Wade left Clemson to become head football coach at Tennessee Tech and in 1974, he was also named that school's athletic director. On March 1, 1983, he returned to his alma mater and assumed his present position.

Wade, who was born in Tyronza, AR and attended high school in Lenoir City, TN, is married to the former Barbara Henderson of Clemson. The Wades have two daughters, Donna and Beth, and one son, Clint. In addition, they have four grandchildren.

GARY WADE, Strength Coach

Gary Wade, the Tiger strength coach, brings a wide range of experience into the Clemson weight room. This experience comes in handy as Wade, who is in his third full football season with the Clemson program, is in charge of the strength training for the athletes in all 18 sports at Clemson.

Wade served as an assistant strength coach at Nebraska for three years as an undergraduate and graduate student. He earned his undergraduate degree in education in 1978 and worked on his master's in exercise physiology.

In 1980 he became the Detroit Lions' first strength and conditioning coach. The 30-year-old received much credit for the Lions' immediate improvement as Head Coach Monte Clark took pride in Wade's work and the results on the field.

During his five years with the Lions the club finished second three times in the Central Division and won the NFC Central in 1983. The Lions made the playoffs twice during this time period.

In his three seasons at Clemson the teams' overall strength figures have grown significantly. He has had a National Strength and Conditioning Association All-American in each of his first three years, Kenny Flowers in 1984, Jim Riggs in 1985, and Ty Granger for the 1986 season.

Wade, who was born in Nebraska City, NE, earned 10 letters in high school at Weeping Water High. He was all-conference in football for three seasons and was second team all-state his senior year.

IPTAY

Only one Clemson quarterback (Thomas Ray) has thrown for over 300 yards in a single game.

On a hot muggy 1934 August day within the town of Clemson, Dr. Rupert H. Fike wrote a letter to Clemson football coach Jess Neely which began, "Coach last night we had a little meeting at our house and organized the IPTAY Club (I Pay Ten a Year)."

Since that day in 1934, IPTAY has revamped its name to I Pay Thirty a Year. From the early days when memberships were often paid in eggs and fresh vegetables, IPTAY has annually been one of the top organizations of its kind in America. Today, over 20,000 active members support IPTAY annually, and it is this scholarship fund-raising organization that is a prime reason for Clemson's ranking among the nation's elite in football and all sports. Clemson recently completed its most successful year ever athletically as 10 teams finished in the Top 20 of their respective final polls, and seven teams won conference championships.

IPTAY's first and foremost goal is to annually insure the financing of a quality education for nearly 400 student-athletes, trainers, and managers. Countless numbers of success stories begin with the receipt of an IPTAY scholarship, and through the generous support of IPTAY members, Clemson University has been able to award the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA in Clemson's 18 men's and women's varsity sports. For the over 3,000 students who have been awarded IPTAY scholarships, and for those who are still to come, without a doubt IPTAY works for them.

Because of IPTAY's commitment to excellence both in the classroom and on the playing field, the ability to expand programs has enabled IPTAY to directly benefit the entire university family. In the fall of 1984, the IPTAY Athletic Academic Endowment Scholarship Fund was created to award financial support to students whose performance in the classroom warranted distinction.

The concept that supports the endowment is based on money donated by matching gift companies, as well as monies generated by television appearances and scholarship awards in such contests. What results from this endowment is one of the largest unrestricted scholarships in the history of Clemson. Perhaps the most exciting feature of the fund is its potential. As the years go on, the growth of the program will only be equalled by IPTAY's desire to work for Clemson.

Other contributions made possible to Clemson University through IPTAY include several capital improvement projects which have helped to give the university the best facilities in the nation.

Some of the current projects that are sponsored by IPTAY include an indoor tennis facility, as well as permanent soccer stadium. The indoor facility features four indoor courts, as well as permanent seating, and will be available for faculty, students, and staff when not in use by the varsity tennis teams. The soccer stadium will provide a home for the 1984 National Champions.

The Tiger Band sported new uniforms last fall. The uniforms, as well as all expenses for band travel, are sponsored by IPTAY. This commitment, of well over $200,000, allows the Tiger Band to strut its stuff in style, both home and away.

Although the success of IPTAY's programs and the financial management of its Board of Directors have enabled IPTAY to assist in other concerns of the university, the primary concern of IPTAY is in educating young people and in servicing the needs of its membership.

IPTAY sponsors one of the most progressive tutorial programs in the country, and at any time, any athlete is able to supplement his education through the use of tutors, or the impressive study hall program. A highly-trained academic advising staff helps the student-athletes prepare for a future, and to shape their tomorrow by studying today. Through these efforts, nearly a fourth of Clemson's student-athletes were on the honor roll in the spring semester of 1987.

Working for IPTAY members is one of the major goals of the IPTAY Board and the internal staff. Each IPTAY member receives personal service to their account, and is constantly kept abreast of the programs of Clemson through the IPTAY office. Every member receives thirty-five issues of the Orange and White each year. As the official publication of IPTAY, the Orange and White is exclusively distributed to IPTAY members, and features indepth coverage of Clemson athletics.

IPTAY is a part of Clemson in many ways. Through its various programs and contributions, the 20,000 members of IPTAY spread their support of Clemson throughout the entire university family.

Danny Ford is a frequent speaker at IPTAY meeting.

ALLISON DALTON Executive Secretary of IPTAY

Allison Dalton is in his third full academic year as the leader of America's number-one athletic scholarship fund-raising organization, IPTAY. Since Dalton took over the position in March of 1985 he has continued to insure the financing of a quality education for nearly 400 student-athletes, trainers, and managers. Before Dalton took over the position he served as promotions director for four years and assistant athletic director for media relations and marketing for two years.

The well-rounded administrator raised money from an advertising standpoint at Clemson in his first six years for publications, scoreboard advertising and with the Clemson Orange Aids marketing program. Now he raises money for athletic scholarships and other areas for the athletic department. This year he helped continue IPTAY's consecutive year streak for increase in fund-raising, which now has reached 24 in a row.

During his tenure, Dalton was responsible for copyrighting the Tiger Paw and other Clemson logos, which has eliminated any unauthorized use of the symbols. He also supervised the highly successful direct-mail marketing program.

Dalton, who earned his bachelor's (1960) and master's (1964) from Clemson in industrial management, served as state campaign coordinator for U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond for a year prior to becoming manager of the Clemson House Hotel, a capacity he served in until coming to the athletic department in the fall of 1979.

After receiving his undergraduate degree, he served two years in the U.S. Army as assistant printing control officer at Fort Bliss, TX, and he was discharged as a first lieutenant. Following his master's degree, Dalton was a management trainee and staff assistant for Karastan Mills for two years and was then in partnership with his brother in the furniture and carpet business.

Dalton is married to the former Carolyn Jones of Pickens, SC, and the Daltons are the parents of two children, Brett (4-10-66), a graduate assistant in the Clemson strength training room, and CeCe (8-6-68), who is a sophomore at Clemson.

BERT HENDERSON Associate Executive Secretary of IPTAY

Bert Henderson has been associated with Clemson University since he began work as a trainer with the athletic department in 1978. After leaving the athletic department for a year to work with the Clemson Alumni Association, Henderson returned to the Jervy Athletic Center as Clemson's associate executive secretary of IPTAY, in April of 1985.

He began full-time employment under Fred Hoover in 1980 and served as basketball trainer during the 1983-84 season. He served in that capacity until October of 1984. He handled all travel and a majority of administrative tasks for the Clemson basketball program.

In November of 1984 Henderson moved across campus as an alumni officer. He performed many public relations and management functions for that department.

His central duties as associate director of IPTAY concern the Tiger Life Insurance Program. This insurance program is designed to create an endowment for the entire Clemson athletic department. Henderson is also involved with the organization of Clemson club programs and other administrative duties of IPTAY.

Henderson is a 1978 graduate of Mars Hill College. He earned a master's degree from Clemson in 1980 in administration and supervision. He is married to the former Lee Ann Hudson, and the couple has one child, Amy Lee (9-23-86).

Review of 1986-87 Sports Year

Clemson has had eight players selected to the All-ACC Academic team over the last two years.

In many ways 1986-87 was Clemson's most successful athletic year ever. The Tigers tied the ACC record for league championships in an academic year with seven (football, women's cross country, women's tennis, men's tennis, men's indoor track, women's swimming and golf) and this tied the mark held by North Carolina in 1980-81 and Maryland, 1964-65. Clemson's previous school mark was six in 1981-82.

Additionally, Clemson had 10 teams finish in the top 20 in the various national polls and an 11th was in the top 20 at one time or another. The most top 20 teams Clemson had previously in final polls over the course of an academic year was nine, established twice (1981-82 and 1982-83).

Clemson was successful in the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball and was one of only two schools in the nation to rank in the top 20 in football, basketball, and baseball in the final polls. UCLA was the only other institution to achieve this level of excellence in the three major sports and it is the first time Clemson has done it.

The year began with the football team upsetting Georgia in Athens for just the second time since 1915 on a last second field goal by David Treadwell. Danny Ford's Tigers won the ACC with a tie at Maryland and then captured the Gator Bowl with a victory over Stanford to conclude the season with an 8-2-2 record and a number-17 final AP ranking. Terrence Flagler and John Phillips were chosen to various All-America teams, while Clemson had more All-ACC players than any other team.

The basketball team enjoyed its best year ever with a 25-6 record and a number-two finish in the ACC, its highest league standing ever. Clemson defeated Virginia, Maryland, Georgia Tech and N.C. State all on the road and had many other landmark victories on the way to its second NCAA tournament appearance ever.

Horace Grant was the ACC Player-of-the-Year and a second-team All-American as he concluded his career as the number-five field goal percentage leader in league history. He also became the first ACC player in history to win the Triple Crown.

The Clemson baseball team set a school record for victories with 54 and also established a mark for winning percentage. The club earned 15 wins over teams ranked in the top 30 in the nation, and had four players chosen All-ACC.

Clemson was also the only school in the nation with a first-round draft pick in each of the major sports. Horace Grant was the number-10 selection in the NBA draft as he was chosen by the Chicago Bulls. Terrence Flagler went in the first round to San Francisco of the NFL, while Bill Spiers was the 13th pick of the major league baseball draft as he was chosen by Milwaukee. Clemson soccer player Eric Eichmann was the number-four pick of the MISL draft by the Cleveland team.

Individually, Mitzi Kremer won two NCAA championships at the NCAA women's swimming meet, a first in Clemson swimming, to lead the Lady Tigers to a number-five national finish. It was a good year overall for the women's program as Ute Jamrozky won the ACC women's cross country title and led that team to a number-five national finish.

The Clemson volleyball team boasted two Academic All-Americans, more than any other school in the nation, in Denise Murphy and Chris Sherman. The soccer team won 67 percent of its matches for the 17th straight year and Eric Eichmann was a consensus All-American leading Clemson to a number-18 national finish.

Mike Spiritoso was the number-two ranked shotput performer in the country at the NCAA indoor meet and led Clemson to its first ACC indoor track championship. Terrence Herrington was a first-team All-American in outdoor track as he finished third in the 1500 meters. Doug Stalnaker went from soccer manager one year to ACC wrestling champion the next in highlighting a winning wrestling season, while Rick Aronberg and Dave Hrovat were honorable mention All-Americans in men's swimming.

The women's tennis team won its sixth straight ACC championship. The golf team won the second ACC title in its history and Kevin Johnson ran off a string of 10 straight rounds of par or better.

The men's tennis team upset National Champion Georgia 8-1 in April and qualified for its ninth straight NCAA tournament appearance. Four players received All-America honors and Matt Frooman was granted an NCAA post-graduate scholarship.

Clemson Broadcast Group

Clemson Football '87 airs in the upstate on WSPA-TV Sunday mornings at 8:30 a.m.

The Clemson Broadcast Group has expanded its radio and television networks for the 1987-88 academic year. The CBG is in its second year of operation as the media marketing arm of the Clemson athletic department and the hardwork of its leaders means a wider range of Clemson fans will see and hear the Tigers' action up and down the east coast.

The radio network has expanded to over 65 stations, including nearly 20 markets in North Carolina, more than ever before. The television network has also been cleared in every market in North Carolina and South Carolina for the first time and the coaches' shows will also be viewed in Georgia, Florida and on Home Team Sports.

In the Spring of 1986, Clemson Athletic Director Bobby Robinson announced that the CBG had obtained exclusive rights to the Clemson football and basketball radio networks and the Clemson coaches' television shows.

The CBG is comprised of private investors who handle the marketing arm of the organization, headed by General Manager Mark Packer. WSPA-TV in Spartanburg, SC will serve as the flagship station for the coaches television shows, while WFBC Radio will continue to be the flagship station for the football and basketball radio networks.

CBG is a unique concept for Clemson University in that the University as a whole will be marketed rather than just the athletic endeavors. "It's the 'family' of Clemson, from athletics to academics to facilities to the sponsors involved through advertisements that will be marketed," according to Packer.

Clemson Football Illustrated — is a magazine-style show that airs in various markets the week of the game. It shows some highlights, but also zeros in on the off the field aspects of Clemson football. From university features, to player profiles to Frank Howard reflections, Clemson Illustrated has it all.

Clemson Football '87 highlights more than just replays from game footage. It provides more indepth interviews with the players, assistant coaches and other personnel involved with Clemson football.

Major expansion is planned in the television area for 1987 as CBG extends the viewing areas and number of television markets previously accessible. The aim is to saturate more and more of the country with Clemson University.

Jim Phillips is in his 20th season broadcasting Clemson athletics and he is one of the most respected play-by-play men in the nation. The native of Youngstown, OH has described 210 Clemson football games and 540 Clemson basketball games in his career. His voice is truly synonymous with Clemson sports. Phillips will also be involved with the Clemson highlight television shows in addition to his play-by-play accounts on the radio.

Phillips is sports director of WFBC radio in Greenville, SC and in addition to providing commentary on Clemson athletics, he is also the voice of the Greenville Braves of the AA Southern League. He does all 140 games for the Atlanta Braves number-two farm club, thus he is a very active man 12 months of the year.

He has long been regarded as one of the most reliable broadcasters in the business and he has proven it on many occasions. In the fall of 1982 he had a back injury that required disc surgery. The surgery took place just five days prior to the Western Carolina game, but he was on the scene at Clemson Memorial Stadium, as he broadcast the game standing up with a walker.

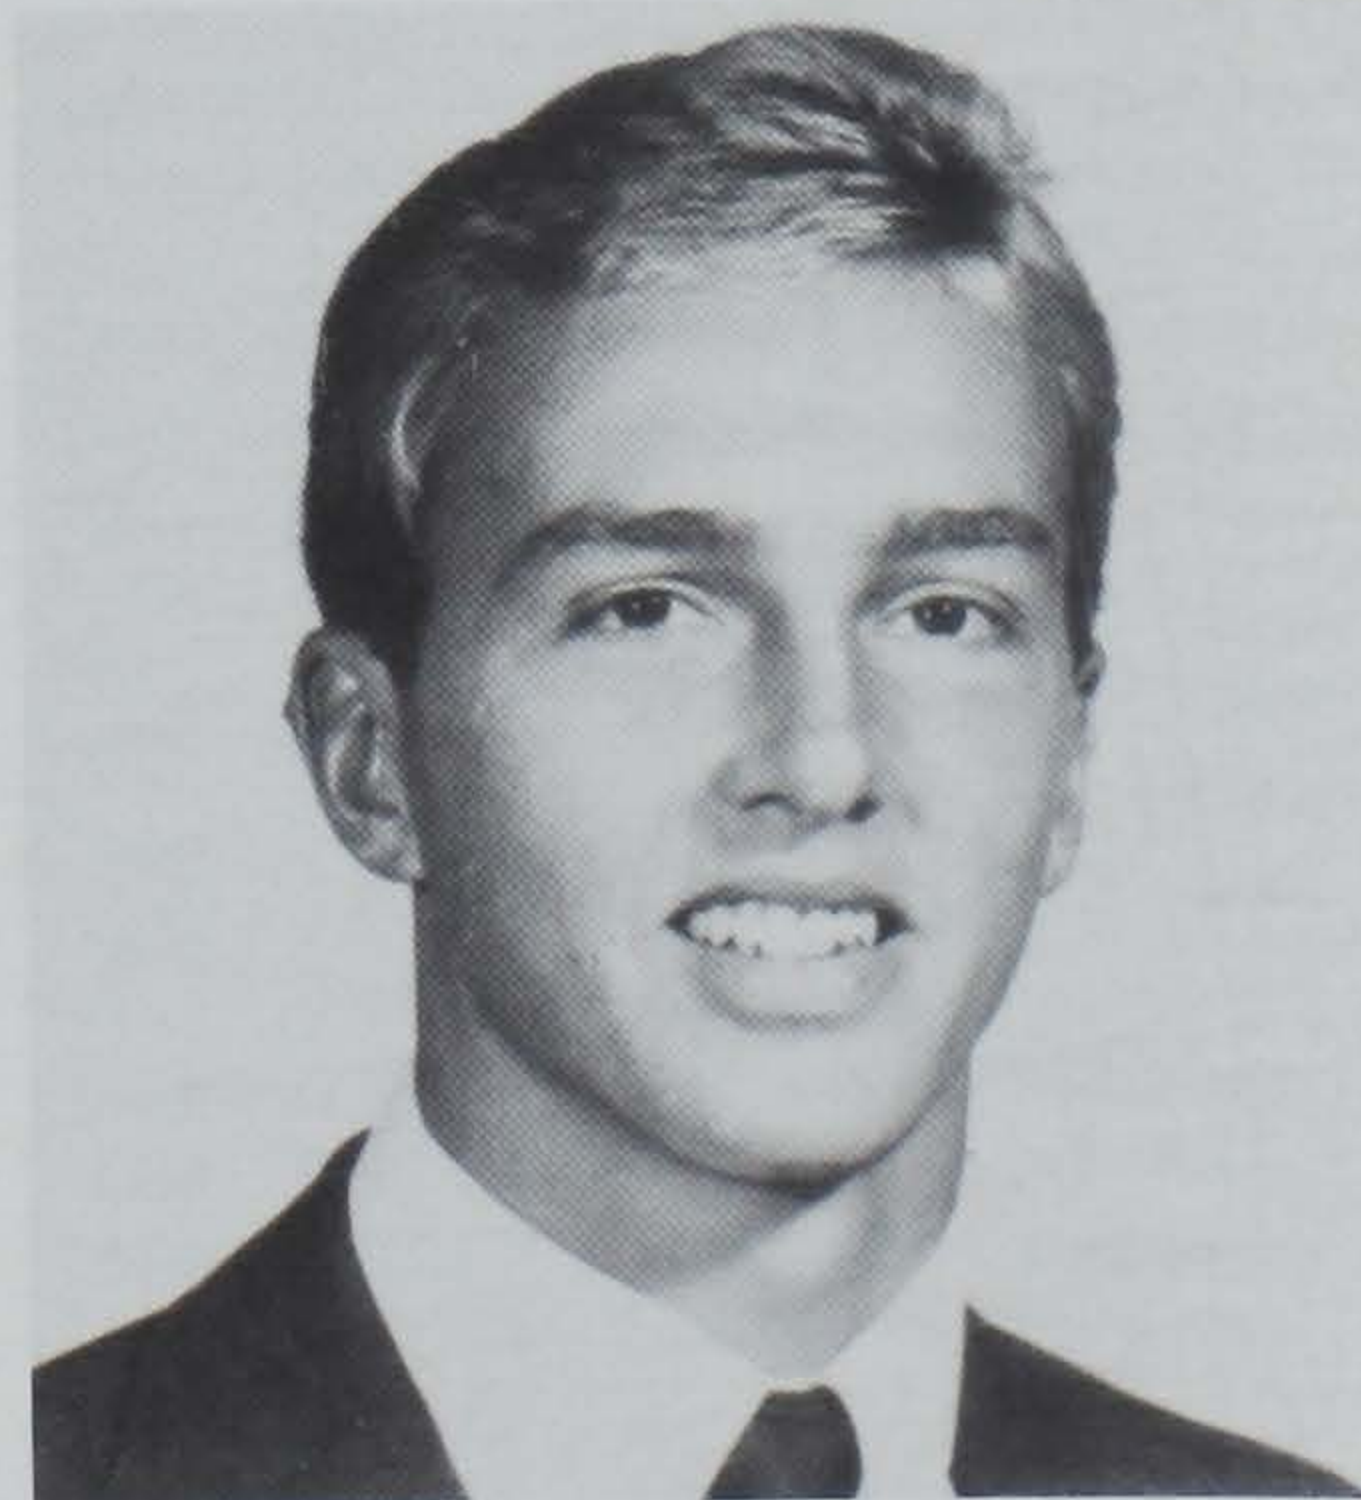

That same year Phillips saw his streak of consecutive basketball broadcasts snapped at an incredible 386. The streak was not snapped because of injury, however, it was stopped because he could not be at two places at the same time. The Clemson basketball team was in Alaska at the Great Alaska Shootout and the Clemson football team was in Japan participating in the Mirage Bowl against Wake Forest trying to clinch an ACC championship. Phillips opted for the trip to the Orient and his basketball streak went by the boards.

Phillips is a past president of the Atlantic Coast Conference Sportswriters Association. He is also a veteran of a dozen years as sports director at WFBC-TV in Greenville, a position he held between 1968-1980. He is a five time winner of the Sportscaster-of-the-Year award in South Carolina.

Prior to coming to Greenville, Phillips broadcast play-by-play for Kent State University in both football and basketball for two years. During that period, he was the sports and program director

TAILGATE SHOW

The Tiger Tailgate Show returns for its 11th year under the direction of WFBC radio in Greenville. The program, which is on selected Clemson radio network stations three hours prior to Tiger games, is a popular program about the day's activities at the stadium.

Host Russ Cassell brings you interesting interviews with former players, coaches, fans and dignitaries and in general gets every Tiger fan ready for the spectacle that is Clemson football. Jane Robelot is the co-host of the program, while Mary Beth Curry serves as a roving feature reporter.

for WFAH radio in Alliance, OH. He also freelanced a late night sports show on WJAN-TV in Canton, OH.

Tim Bourret and Mike Eppley will assist Phillips on the radio network for the second year in a row. Bourret has broadcast with Phillips for five seasons on the football radio network and eight years on the basketball network. The 1977 Notre Dame graduate has also worked selected Greenville Braves games with Phillips in recent years and has play-by-play experience at Clemson in basketball and baseball. He is Clemson's associate sports information director.

Eppley joined the broadcast team for the first time last year. The native of Charlotte, NC is Clemson's number-two ranked passer in terms of efficiency rating and he guided Clemson to 21 victories as the starting quarterback between 1982 and 1984. He is also the school record holder for touchdown passes with 28. Eppley, who recently earned his MBA from the Clemson/Furman program, deals with the strategical aspects of the game. Eppley is employed as a salesman for a heating and air conditioning firm in Charlotte, NC.

Stan Olenik is in his second year as host of the Clemson football shows. He is a veteran of 15 years in television and has been at WSPA-TV in Spartanburg as the sports director for 13 years. He has been chosen Sportscaster of the Year in South Carolina five times.

The native of Milwaukee, WI has served as sports director at WJKS-TV in Jacksonville, FL and WVTM-TV in Milwaukee. He also has writing experience as a reporter for the Florida Times Union and public relations experience as the PR director for the Jacksonville Express of the World Football League.

Assisting Olenik with the coaches shows will be Jane Robelot. The 1982 Clemson graduate is a 6:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. anchor for WSPA-TV in Spartanburg, and is in her second year as a feature producer for the Clemson television shows. She has significant experience in sports, as she co-hosted Clemson football pre-game shows during the 1985 season. The native of Greenville also has radio experience with WCCP in Clemson and WFBC radio in Greenville. She is also in her fifth year as a co-host of the Tiger Tailgate show.

Notes of Interest

Fullback Marvin Sims was thrown for a loss just once in 316 carries in his Clemson career (1976-79).

Balanced Defensive Line

Clemson might have the deepest and youngest defensive line in the nation (three down line positions, MG, RT, LT). Nine players were in on 184 plays or more for the three positions, meaning Clemson was truly three-deep at those slots. No Clemson down lineman played as much as 50 percent of the plays last season.

Although Clemson was 13th in the nation in rushing defense and led the ACC in total defense, Clemson did not have a down lineman with over 60 tackles. Michael Dean Perry led the way with 56 stops, while Tony Stephens had 52.

An example of Clemson's depth took place against Duke. Richard McCullough, the third-string right tackle all year, got his first career start because his mother was attending a game in Death Valley for the first time. He had two sacks on the first defensive series.

Clemson Hopes For Early Score

The Tigers were 6-0-1 last season when they registered the first score of the game and 2-2-1 when the opposition scored first. Over the Danny Ford years Clemson is 49-9-2 when the Tigers score first and 17-14-2 when the opposition scores first.

Turnovers have been a significant indicator of Danny Ford teams, but not as much last season. Clemson had a +1 turnover margin last year, but still had a 8-2-2 record. In the Danny Ford era Clemson is 40-3-2 when the Tigers commit fewer turnovers than the opposition. Clemson had fewer turnovers than N.C. State, yet lost the game, just the third time that had happened under Danny Ford.

Clemson Holding Fourth Quarter Lead

Clemson is 59-6-3 under Danny Ford when leading going into the fourth quarter, including 7-0-1 last year. The only tie came at Maryland. You might think the losses are spread out over his career, but that is not the case. The 1985 team lost four of those six games when the Tigers had the lead going into the fourth period. Prior to that (1978-84), Clemson had lost just two games under Danny Ford when the Tigers led going into the fourth quarter.

First Position Important

With Clemson's grind-it-out attack field position was important to the Tigers. A look at the position a team took over the ball was important last season. The Clemson offense was solid in converting when it took over in good field position. Of 50 drives last year in which Clemson took over in enemy territory, Clemson converted for a score 17 times (14 TDs and 3 field goals).

On the defensive side, over the last nine games covering 45 series, the opposition drove for a touchdown only three times when they started at their own 25 or worse. In fact, opponents drove for a touchdown only three times all season in that situation. Overall, teams scored just eight times against Clemson (four field goals and four touchdowns) when they took over at their own 25 or worse in 33 attempts. In the regular season finale South Carolina failed to score a point when they started a drive at their own 25 or worse. They had seven drives that began inside their own 25.

Treadwell Streak

Clemson placekicker David Treadwell has never missed an extra point in his Clemson career, a distinction he holds with Donald Igwebuike (Tampa Bay Bucs). They are the only perfect PAT kickers among players in Clemson history with 10 attempts or more.

Treadwell has a streak of 59 in a row going and that is the second longest streak in Clemson history. Bob Paulling booted 70 in a row between 1981 and 1983. Igwebuike was 43-43 during his career, 1981-84. Paulling also had another streak of 36 in a row.

Rodney Williams was sacked only three times all year.

Only 3 Sacks Allowed

The NCAA does not officially keep it as a stat, but Clemson must have led the nation in fewest sacks allowed in 1986. Clemson quarterbacks were sacked only three times all year, only once in the last 10 games. Rodney Williams was sacked in the second quarter of the Georgia Tech game on September 27 and was not sacked again until the second quarter of the South Carolina game on November 22, a streak of 146 straight pass attempts without being sacked. Virginia Tech was the only other team to get to the Clemson quarterback. That is quite an accomplishment for an offensive line that did not start a senior.

NCAA Ranking

Clemson wide receiver Terrance Roulhac led the nation in kickoff returns last season, only the fourth player in Clemson history to lead the NCAA in a statistical category. Roulhac had a 33-yard average on 17 returns in the 10 games he played in the regular season.

Obed Ariri, William Perry and Donald Igwebuike are the only other individuals to lead the nation in a statistical category. Perry's championship is not recognized by the NCAA, as he led the nation in tackles for loss per game in 1984. Donald Igwebuike led the nation in field goal percentage in 1984 when he hit 16 of 17 field goals, and Ariri led the nation in field goals per game in 1980 when he had 23 field goals in 11 games.

Clemson's Terrance Flagler was 13th in the nation in rushing with 106.9 yards per game. He was also third in yards per carry at 6.5 and 30th in scoring with 7.1 points per game.

As far as team stats are concerned, Clemson was sixth in rushing offense at 273.4 yards per game and 13th in rushing defense, allowing 103.5 yards a contest. The Tigers were also 25th in total defense and 15th in scoring defense. Clemson also won its second national team statistical championship. The Tigers led the nation in kickoff return average with a 26.1 figure. This is the first time Clemson has led the nation since 1941 when the Tigers led the country in punting.

Comparison with 1981

In a lot of ways, last year's team was the Tigers' best offensive team since the 1981 season. Clemson had a 381.1 total offense average, the best average per game since the National Championship team had a 400.8 figure. This team also had a 4.6 yards per rush figure, much higher than the 4.2 posted by the 1981 team and the third best since 1949 when Clemson had a 4.9 average. The 1941 team holds the record with a 5.1 yards per rush figure.

In other areas this 1986 Clemson offense is comparable to the 1981 team. Here is a 12-game comparison of offensive stats for the two seasons:

Category	1981	1986
Total Offense per Game	400.8	380.8
Yards per play	5.2	5.0
Yards per rush	4.2	4.6
Yards Rushing	2977	3245
Firstdowns	254	242
Firstdowns rushing	167	165
3rd Down Conversion %	.468	.475
Time of Possession	385:09	403:49

Second 3,000-Yard Rushing Team

The Tigers rushed for 3245 yards last year, just the second 3,000-yard team in Clemson history. Only the 1978 Clemson team, which also went to the Gator Bowl, had a higher rushing total for the season. That club had 3469 yards for the 12 games. The National Championship team was just 23 yards short of 3,000 for the year (12 games).

Tailback Rushing a Key

Clemson tailbacks gained 2041 yards rushing collectively last year, the second most by the tailback position in Clemson history. The record is 2363 set by the 1985 team. The tandem of Kenny Flowers and Terrence Flagler combined for 1853 rushing yards last year from the tailback position, the third best combination in Clemson history. Kenny Flowers and Stacy Driver combined for 2031 in 1985.

Tailbacks rushed for over 200 yards collectively in games three times last year, including a high of 295 against Virginia in 44 carries. The record under Danny Ford is 347 (Cliff Austin had 260 of it) and the Virginia game last year was the second best. The Tigers also had 274 against Wake Forest last season for the third best under Danny Ford.

In terms of yards per carry last year's Georgia game was the best ever under Danny Ford. Tailbacks that day combined for 170 yards in 18 carries, an average of 9.4 yards per rush.

In Danny Ford's 93-game career, Clemson tailbacks have collectively gone over 100 yards 56 times, over 150 yards 38 times and over 200 yards 17 times. In terms of yards per carry, tailbacks have been over 5.0 yards a carry 42 times and over 4.0 yards a rush 65 times. They have been over 4.0 yards a rush in 45 of the last 57 games.

Two of Top Backs on Same Team

Clemson probably had the best tailback combination in the nation last season. A look at the single season Clemson records for rushing tells us that. The top two totals in Clemson history are held by Kenny Flowers (1985) and Terrence Flagler (1986). Both played on the same team and at the same position. Flagler set the single season rushing record last year with 1258 yards. Flowers and Flagler have two of the top three all-purpose running yardage years in Clemson history and both rank in the top 10 in Clemson history in career rushing yardage and touchdowns. Here is a list of the top single season rushing marks in Clemson history based on total yards in a season:

Rk	Name	Year	GP	YPC	TD	YPG	Yards
1.	Terrence Flagler	1986	12	6.5	10	104.8	1258
2.	Kenny Flowers	1985	12	5.3	13	100.0	1200
3.	Cliff Austin	1982	10	5.4	14	106.4	1064
4.	Buddy Gore	1967	10	4.5	8	104.5	1045
5.	Lester Brown	1978	12	5.1	17	85.2	1022
6.	Ray Yaeger	1969	10	4.3	6	96.8	968
7.	Kevin Mack	1983	11	5.7	8	78.4	862

Seniors Over 5000 Yards Rushing

Kenny Flowers, Terrence Flagler and Steve Griffin were three red-shirted seniors who played the same position. They played in their final game for Clemson at the Gator Bowl. Collectively they gained 5690 yards rushing in their careers and were well over 6,000 yards in terms of all-purpose running. They are a big reason Clemson has been so successful since 1982 when they all came to Clemson as freshmen. They collectively averaged 170 yards per game last season. Flowers had 2914 career yards, Flagler 2162 and Griffin 614.

Clemson Gains ACC Title

Clemson has now won nine outright (and tied for another) ACC titles since it joined the league in 1953. No other school has had as many ACC championship football teams as Clemson. Maryland is second with six outright titles and two co-championships. Three of the last four times Clemson has clinched the ACC title the Tigers have played Maryland. Clemson clinched the 1978 crown at Maryland with a 28-24 victory, while the 1981 National Champions clinched the league crown with a 21-7 win over Maryland in a game at Clemson. The Tigers clinched the 1982 crown with a win over Wake Forest in the Mirage Bowl. Clemson or Maryland have won the last six ACC championships. Clemson clinched a 7-0 season against ACC teams with a 52-27 win over Maryland in 1983, but the Tigers were ineligible for the league title that year. Last year Clemson tied Maryland to win the conference title.

Chris Lancaster was one reason Clemson was a reliable short-yardage team in 1986.

The Tigers also have a string of 10 straight winning regular seasons going, the longest string in ACC history. Clemson has not had a losing regular season since 1976 when the Tigers were 3-6-2. In 1977 the Tigers were 8-2-1 in the regular season, then lost to Pittsburgh in the Gator Bowl to end up 8-3-1. But, the Tigers have been at least 6-5 in the regular season every year since. It is no coincidence that Danny Ford first came to Clemson in 1977. He was an assistant for two regular seasons then became head coach in 1978 at the Gator Bowl.

Phillips Had Great Season

Clemson All-American John Phillips was the leader of the Clemson offensive line last season, the best young line in Clemson history. He is a prime reason Clemson rushed for over 3000 yards in a regular season for just the second time in history.

He has started each of the last 20 games and Clemson has had at least 200 yards rushing in 19 of those games. Clemson has averaged 272.8 yards rushing per game since he moved into the starting lineup. Clemson had a streak of 14 straight 200-yard games during the stretch and it is no coincidence that the streak began when Phillips began starting.

He is also a major reason Clemson averaged 270.4 yards a game rushing last season, the sixth best figure in the nation. Phillips set a Clemson record for knockdown blocks in a season with 100. He was the first Clemson player regardless of position to get 100 in a season. He broke the record of 86 held by James Farr (1983) when he had six against South Carolina.

Williams Much Improved

Rodney Williams made a strong comeback over the last five games of the 1986 season in terms of passing. Williams completed just 42.5 percent of his passes for 607 yards over the first seven games of the season, including a 5-20 performance for 58 yards against N.C. State on CBS-TV.

But, over the last five games Williams completed 50-87 passes for 638 yards. That is a 56 percent completion rate. The stretch included the best game of his career to date, a 13-18 passing effort for 193 yards and two touchdowns. That was his career best in completions, yards and touchdowns. Additionally, he had just 2 interceptions in his last 121 passes, one in his last 79 attempts. He has also improved as a runner and had a career high 76 yards rushing against North Carolina and was the Player-of-the-Week in the ACC. Williams was fifth on the Clemson team in rushing with 352 yards, the most rushing yards by a Clemson quarterback since Homer Jordan in 1981.

Williams was the MVP of the Gator Bowl as he completed 12 of 19 passes for 135 yards and had 153 yards in total offense.

Clemson Secondary Much Improved

Clemson's most improved area on the team might have been in the secondary last year. The Tigers led the league in completion percentage defense as Tiger opponents completed just 48.2 percent of their passes last year, the only team in the league to hold the opposition under 50 percent. Additionally, Clemson yielded the fewest yards per attempt in the ACC, just 5.93 yards per attempt.

Secondary coach Bill Oliver had the Tigers on a roll at the end of the season. Over the last five games Clemson opponents completed only 82 of 186 passes, just 44.0 percent. And, they were not giving up the yardage as the opposition picked up just 5.8 yards per attempt. The Clemson passing game, by no means an attack that ranks with BYU or Miami, averaged 7.4 yards per attempt over the last four regular season games.

Perry Chasing Perry

Clemson junior Michael Dean Perry is quickly moving up the Clemson all-time lists for quarterback sacks and tackles for loss. Both lists are headed up by his brother, William "The Refrigerator" Perry and Michael Dean will have to go some to reach his brother's ACC marks. But, Michael is already third in tackles for loss and tied for second in quarterback sacks. He has 37 tackles for loss, third only to William's 60 and Randy Scott's 43. Michael Dean also has 18 sacks, just seven away from his brother's ACC record and the same total as Jim Stuckey, now with the New York Jets.

The comparisons between Michael Dean and William are amazingly similar. For instance both players had exactly 161 career tackles at the end of their respective junior regular seasons. Both had 15 tackles for loss in their junior years. William had 15 career sacks and Michael Dean had 18 at the end of the same time period. Here is a comparison of their respective junior seasons and career totals after their respective third seasons at Clemson.

27 Gene Beasley

Strong Safety 6-0 210 Junior 2VL Atlanta, GA

Only returning ACC player to rank in the top 10 in the ACC in passes broken up, caused fumbles and interceptions.

In 1986: Third leading tackler on the Clemson team with 70, most for a sophomore defensive back since Terry Kinard played for the Tigers ... also had 10 passes broken up and three interceptions ... returning starter at strong safety who already has 14 career starts heading into his junior year ... second on the club in interception return yards and tied for second in number of interceptions ... his pass broken up total was third best on the team ... top tackler in the secondary with his 70 stops ... Clemson's leading tackler in three games last season, he had eight against Citadel, 10 against North Carolina and nine against South Carolina ... only Terence Mack led Clemson in tackles in more games last season ... seventh in the ACC in passes broken up ... tied for third in the ACC in caused fumbles and tied for seventh in interceptions ... ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week for his play against The Citadel, it was his best all-around game of the year ... had eight tackles to lead the club, picked off two passes in the fourth quarter and returned them 27 yards, had two passes broken up and a caused fumble ... one of the hardest hitters on the Clemson team, he had the Goody's Hit-of-the-Game twice last year, against Virginia and South Carolina ... also led the team in caused fumbles with three ... had a season high 10 tackles in the win over North Carolina ... also had an interception and nine stops against South Carolina ... had a career high three passes broken up against Duke ... had seven tackles against Stanford in the Gator Bowl ... had a coaches' grade in the 90s five times (Virginia Tech, Georgia Tech, Duke, North Carolina and Stanford) ... had +46 bonus points in film grading in The Citadel game, more than any Clemson defensive player in a game last season ... in for 647 snaps for the season and he started 11 of the 12 games ... missed starting only the Virginia Tech game, he was then a fixture the rest of the season ... made his first start of the year at Georgia, quite a thrill for the native of Atlanta, especially when Clemson came away with the win ...

In 1985: Strong safety who came on strong at the end of the 1985 season ... did not appear in the first three games, he was supposed to be red-shirted ... but, injuries forced him into action and he responded well ... listed as third-team strong safety heading into fall practice ... had his best game against Wake Forest when he had 11 tackles and two passes broken up ... graded out at 85 percent for his 35 plays of action, he also had eight first hits in the contest ... followed that with seven tackles and a pass broken up at North Carolina on 50 plays ... had an 86 grade for that game, his highest of the season ... also had seven tackles at South Carolina ... had a blocked punt and a PBU against Maryland, the blocked punt led to a Clemson score ... missed the first three games, then played a total of just 10 plays against Kentucky and Virginia and received an injury in the UVA game ... missed the Duke game altogether then was starting by the North Carolina game because of an injury to Kenny Danforth ... had five passes broken up and 32 tackles, 28 of the 32 tackles came in the last four regular season games.

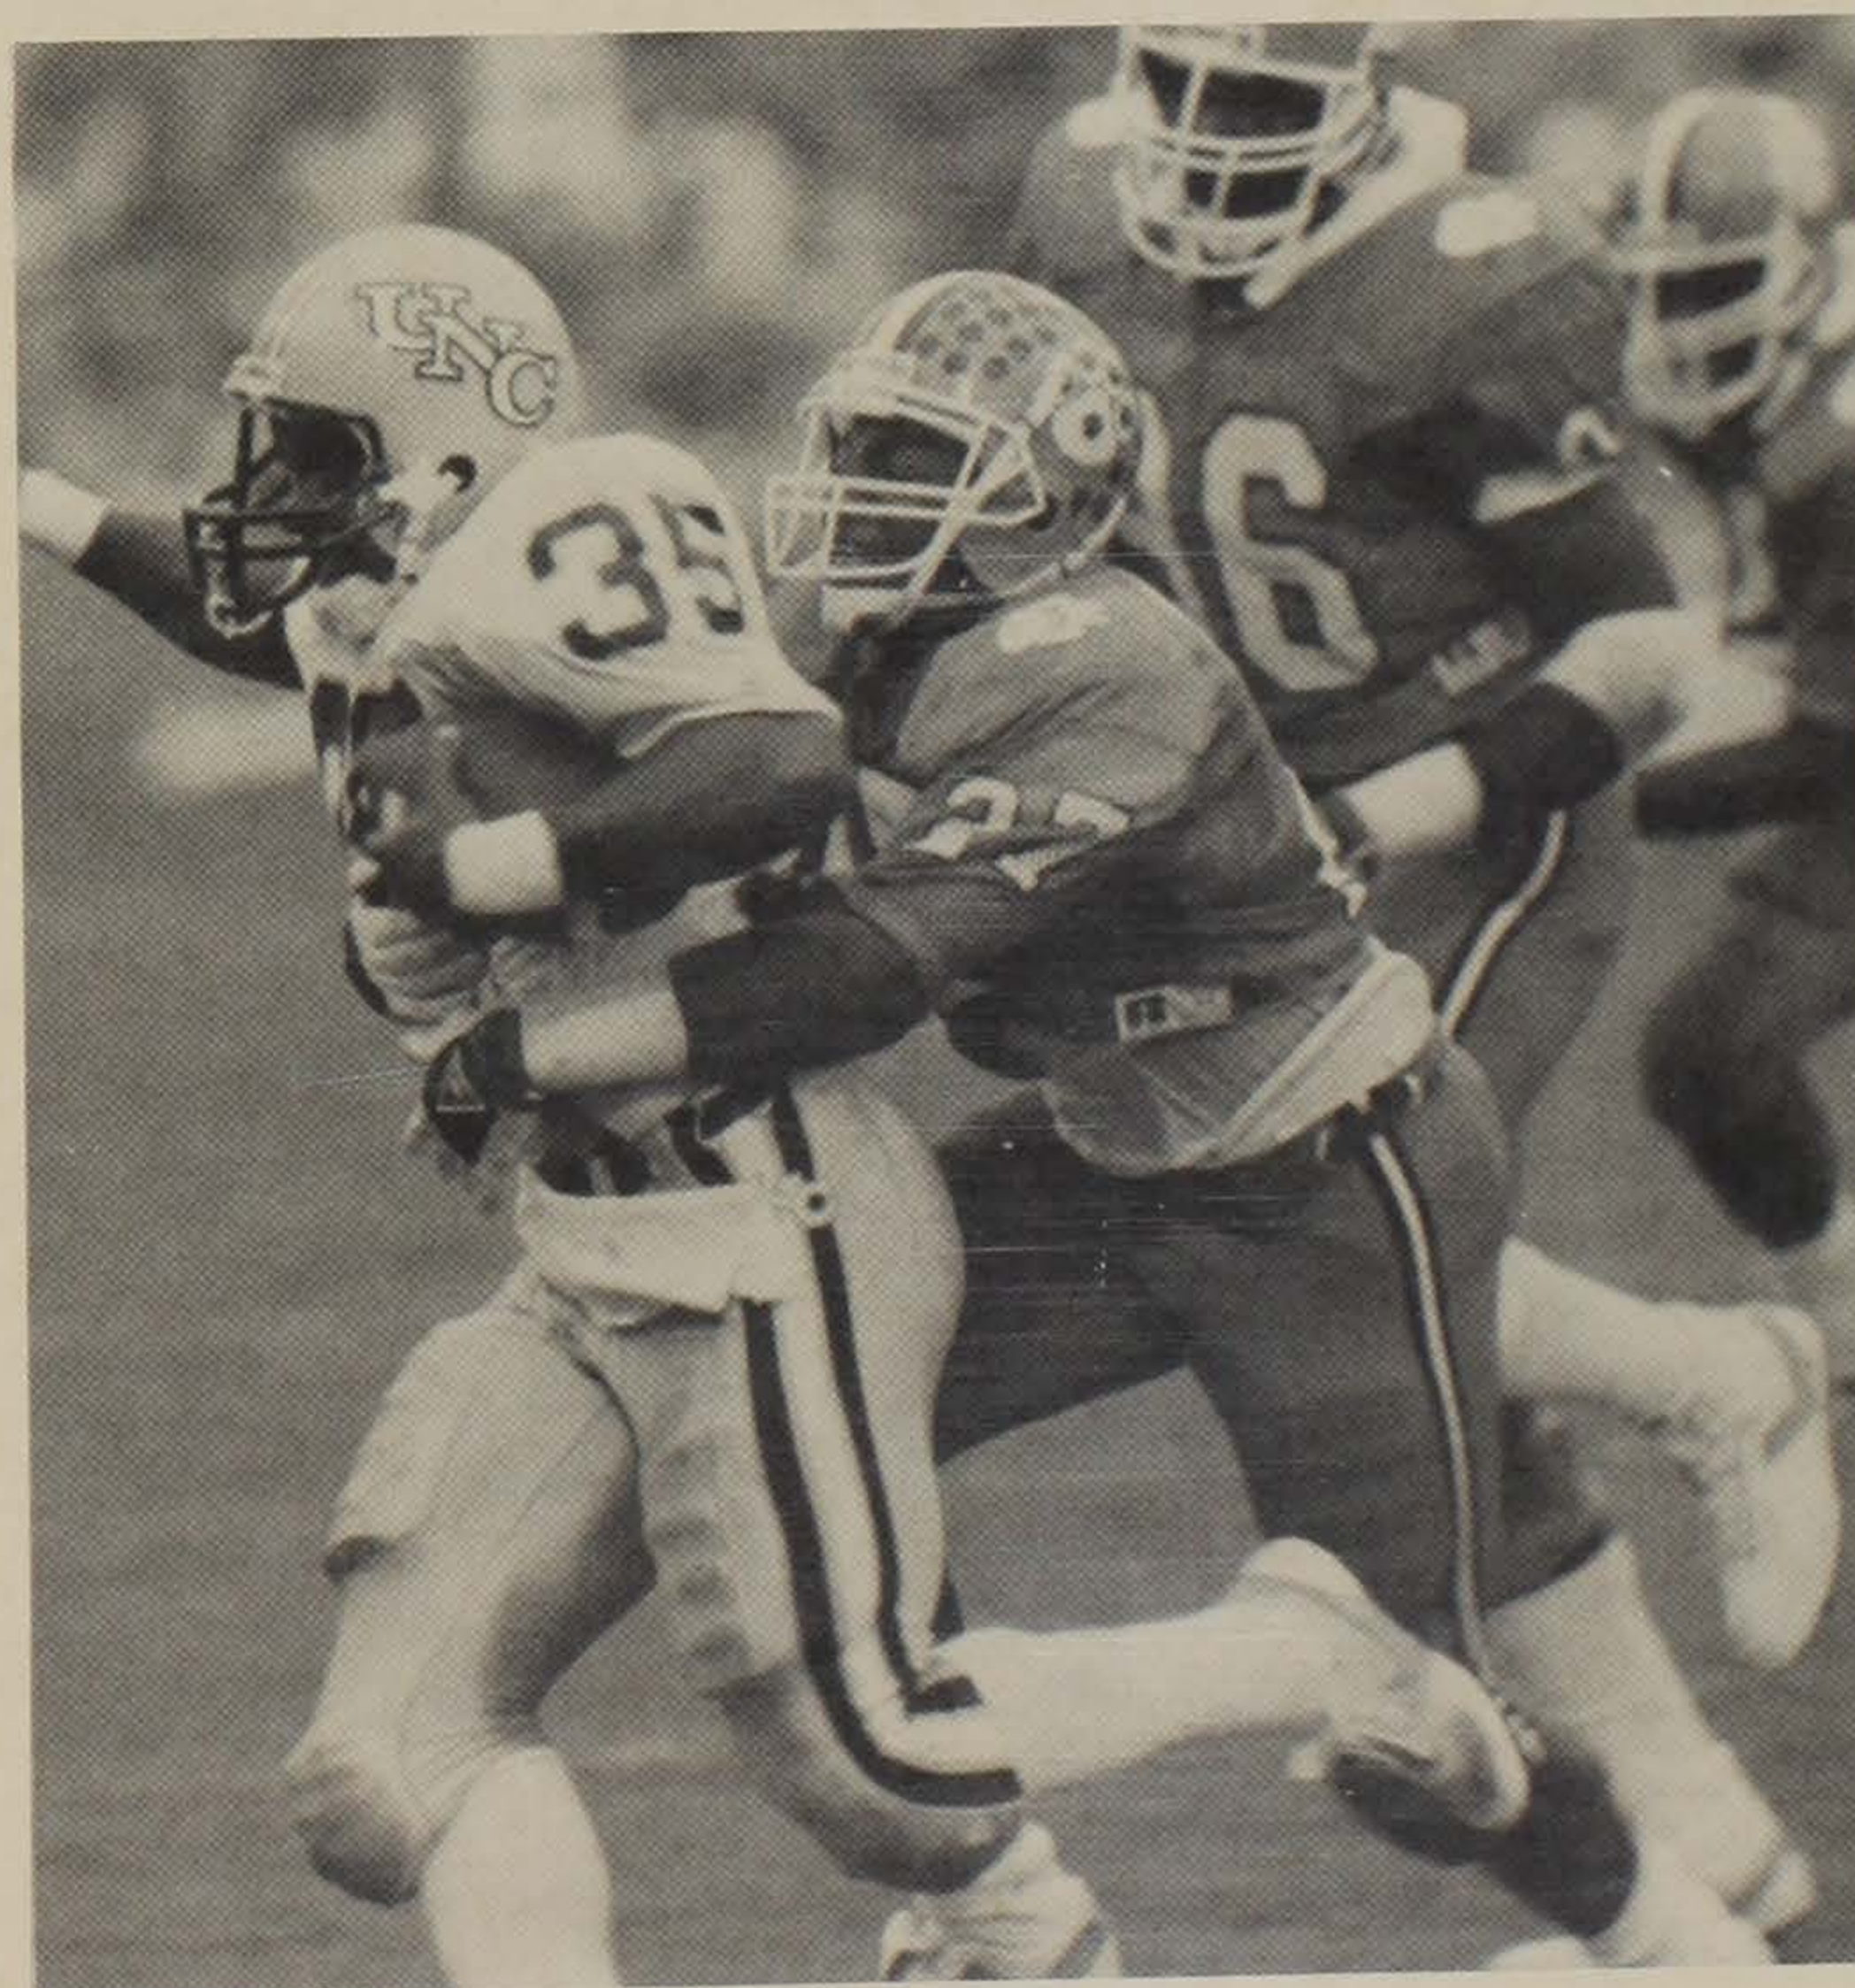

In High School: Product of Coach Leon Jamison's football program at Booker T. Washington in Atlanta, GA ... an all-city performer who was named school's most valuable player five consecutive seasons ... versatile athlete who rushed for 896 yards and passed for another 500 yards in senior year ... earned monograms in football, basketball and track ... majoring in industrial education ... born 2/13/67 in Atlanta, GA.

40 Henry Carter

Linebacker 6-2 240 *Junior 2VL Gastonia, NC

Ended 1986 strong with a team high 13 tackles vs. Stanford

At Clemson: Fifth leading tackler on the Clemson team even though he missed two complete games and most of another due to a knee injury ... averaged 5.9 tackles per game with a high individual effort of 13 against Stanford in the Gator Bowl ... led Clemson in tackles against Virginia and also had a pass broken up ... had seven tackles in the opener and six at Georgia ... the Stanford game was his career high in terms of tackles ... had a big fumble recovery in the fourth quarter of the Georgia game that led to a Clemson score ... might have had his best all-around game against the Gamecocks as he had five tackles, a sack, two passes broken up and a caused fumble ... injured a knee just five plays into the N.C. State game and he had surgery on October 27 ... missed the entire Wake Forest and North Carolina games, he came back to play 38 snaps at Maryland ... back as a starter against South Carolina ... he started each of the first seven games before the injury in Raleigh ... in for his most snaps of the regular season against Virginia Tech when he played 60 plays ... had his highest film grade against Citadel when he had a 70 percent figure.

In 1985: Moved to linebacker in spring of 1986 and impressed the coaches so much that he was listed as number-one middle linebacker coming into the fall ... had some excellent spring scrimmages, he had 13 tackles to lead everyone at a March 26 workout in the stadium that convinced everyone he could play the position ... had four tackles in the Spring Game ... named Most Improved Linebacker that spring ... red-shirted 1985 season as a reserve fullback ... had three injuries in 1985 and he got an extra year ... at one point he had an eye, leg and arm injury, causing Coach Ford to comment that he looked like he had just returned from Beirut.

In 1984: Second or third-team fullback much of that season, he was sixth on the team in rushing ... one of only two freshmen to play and letter that season ... an outstanding blocker, he was a two-time ACC Rookie-of-the-Week selection ... honored for his efforts against Virginia and Duke, he graded in the nineties for his blocking in both games ... had his best game in carrying the ball against Duke as he had six rushes for 18 yards ... caught his only pass of the season at Georgia Tech ... injured a knee in Maryland game and missed the South Carolina game ... had solid spring, he had eight receptions out of the fullback position for 55 yards in the six scrimmages, two of the receptions came in the Spring Game.

In High School: A three-sport letterwinner (football, basketball and track) at Hunter Huss High School in Gastonia, NC ... participated in the Shrine Bowl and the East/West All-Star game ... served double duty for Coach Tom Merritt as he played both fullback and linebacker ... member of the Associated Press all-state team ... as a senior was selected as the Conference Player-of-the-Year ... as a junior led his team to the co-conference championship ... majoring in industrial education at Clemson ... born 2/17/66 in Gastonia, NC.

9 James Earle

Outside Linebacker 6-5 225 Senior 3VL Easley, SC

Has 18 tackles over last two years against North Carolina and two of the top 3 tackle games of his career are against the Tar Heels.

At Clemson: Only Clemson defensive player to start every game last season ... fourth leading tackler on the club who had 27 tackles over the last four games of the season ... had his best tackle total with 10 against Maryland, it was the only time all season he led the team in tackles ... also had two passes broken up in the game ... had his best all-around game at N.C. State when he had seven tackles, including a career high three tackles for loss, a sack and a blocked punt ... he was named Clemson's Chevrolet Player-of-the-Game by CBS Sports for that contest ... also named the CarQuest Player-of-the-Game by the Clemson radio network for his performance against N.C. State ... had eight tackles, including two tackles for loss and a pass broken up in the win over North Carolina ... had just 15 tackles the first five games, he had 45 over the last seven ... has significant experience at the outside linebacker and bandit end positions ... sat out spring practice of 1987 due to an operation to repair calcium deposits in a calf ... appeared in 669 plays on defense during the season and started all 12 games ... only Delton Hall was in for more snaps among Clemson defensive players ... had a grade over 70 percent in all but two games ... had a high mark of 79 percent for the Duke game ... graded in the 70s in each of the last seven games ... had 29 bonus points for the North Carolina game ... had seven passes broken up, most among linemen and tied for fifth on the club ... in for a season high 73 plays and graded 77 percent in the tie with Maryland.

In 1985: Despite starting only three games, Earle was ninth on the team in tackles with 65 ... played both defensive end positions after working as a strong safety as a freshman ... had his best game against North Carolina when he led the Tigers in tackles with 10 and graded at 83 percent ... in for 44 plays and had a tackle for loss of two yards ... also started the Georgia game and blocked a punt in addition to picking up six tackles ... had eight stops against Georgia Tech and Virginia in reserve roles ... had an 86 percent film grade against Duke for his best grade of the season ... also had six tackles in that game ... in for 372 plays for the season, most for a non-starter ... had an excellent spring of 1986, he was named Most Improved Defensive End and cited as having given the most outstanding effort on the entire defense ... listed as co-starter with Michael Dean Perry at strongside linebacker that fall ... had six tackles and a tackle for loss in Spring Game.

In 1984: Letterwinner at safety ... outstanding all-around athlete who came to Clemson as a quarterback ... followed in the footsteps of Andy Headen in moving from quarterback to secondary to the bandit end, he even wore the same number Headen wore as a sophomore ... never played quarterback at Clemson ... one of only two first-year freshmen to letter in 1984 ... got his career off to a good start with a diving interception at Virginia ... saw limited action in the secondary, but was a solid member of the special teams ... had a high of two tackles, both first hits in the Maryland game and two against N.C. State ... listed as second-team bandit end behind Terence Mack heading into the 1985 fall ... played in every game in 1984 and had eight stops, most of those were with the special teams ... only first-year freshman in 1984 to play in every game.

In High School: Led the Easley High School Green Wave to the finals in the South Carolina upstate playoffs ... passed for 1,338 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior ... has a wide base of versatility as he played five different positions, (tight end, wide receiver, quarterback, strong safety and free safety) ... a play-action quarterback for coach Larry Bagwell ... a versatile athlete as he was all-state in football and basketball as a senior ... a Shrine Bowl participant ... as a sophomore he was an all-conference and All-Pickens County selection at defensive back ... all-region and All-Pickens County in his final two seasons at quarterback ... team captain for two seasons ... team MVP ... a three-sport letterwinner, earning three monograms in football, basketball and two in track ... averaged more than 20 points per game in basketball and finished in the top 10 in the state in individual scoring ... majoring in secondary education at Clemson ... born 3/26/66 in Easley, SC.

42 Tracy Johnson

Fullback 6-0 230 Junior 2VL Kannapolis, NC

Converted the first down on third or fourth down and two-yards-or-less 17 of 18 times in 1986.

At Clemson: Listed as second-team fullback, but he and Lancaster are virtually co-starters ... one of the most reliable short-yardage rushers Clemson has ever had ... third leading rusher on the team with 334 yards, they were well earned yards ... had his best game against Georgia Tech when he was the CarQuest Player-of-the-Game with 81 yards in 16 carries and two touchdowns ... also had a career high 10 knockdown blocks in that game for 46 plays of action ... thus he either carried the ball or had a knockdown block in 26 of his 41 plays ... missed just the Duke game due to injury and averaged 35 plays per game ... had at least one knockdown block in every game and had 39 KDs for the season ... had his best game in terms of grade against Virginia Tech with a 92 percent on 49 plays ... also had 40 yards rushing and six KDs ... scored one touchdown at Georgia, two at Tech, one against Citadel and one against South Carolina ... led Clemson in rushing in two games last year, Georgia Tech and Maryland ... had 37 yards rushing on Clemson's 90-yard drive to tying field goal in the last few seconds of Maryland game ... has 25 carries for 132 yards in two games vs Maryland ... had 84 yards for his career high vs the Terps in 1986 ... graded over 80 percent in nine games he played in ... in for 383 plays for the season ... he touched the ball 108 times on either rushes or pass receptions ... seventh on the team in the leg sled and 10th in the power clean ... his leg sled figure of 870 pounds is best by a Clemson running back in three years ... tied with Rodney Williams for the Outstanding Effort Award on Offense for this past spring.

In 1985: Freshman who was fourth on the team in rushing and was the leading fullback rusher ... played in just nine games, he started two, as an injury limited his playing time ... had his best game against Kentucky in terms of total yardage with 12 rushes for 55 yards ... had his best all-around game against Maryland as he scored his first college touchdown and had nine rushes for 48 yards ... the touchdown put Clemson ahead in the third period ... carried the ball in eight of the nine games he played ... in for 180 plays in his nine games, 20 a game ... graded out at 98 percent for his 40 plays against Kentucky ... runs the 40 in 4.78 and bench presses 365 pounds — tied for the best among all backs ... listed as backup fullback behind Chris Lancaster heading into the fall of 1986 and 1987 ... leading rusher in the 1986 Spring Game with 22 carries for 104 yards and a TD.

In High School: Honorable mention All-American from A.L. Brown High School ... joins high school teammate James Lott in the Tiger program ... helped Brown under the guidance of Bob Boswell to a 13-1 record and conference crown in '84, as well as Western North Carolina football championship ... a member of the Sporting News' Top 100 list ... selected most valuable back two straight years at Brown ... lettered in football and track ... he posted impressive stats on either side of the line his last season with 125 tackles and five interceptions on defense ... he accounted for 800 yards on 100 rushing attempts and scored 25 touchdowns as a tailback ... majoring in marketing ... born 11/29/66 in Cabarrus County, NC.

49 Chris Lancaster

Fullback 6-0 235 Junior 2VL Mableton, GA

Has been stopped behind the line of scrimmage only once in 118 career carries.

At Clemson: Clemson's starting fullback over the last two years, he might be the best blocking back in the nation ... like having an extra offensive lineman in the game ... offensive line enjoys it when Lancaster scores because they feel like it is an offensive lineman scoring ... had five TDs on the season, two at Virginia, one at Georgia Tech, one against Duke, and one against Stanford ... scored his first career TD at Tech, a rewarding experience for the native of Georgia ... destined to be Clemson's all-time leader in knockdown blocks for a fullback ... had 62 knockdown blocks in 1986, more than all but one of Clemson's offensive linemen ... now has 90 for his career ... had a high of 12 against Virginia and had a grade of 85 percent for the game ... had four other games in which he had at least six knockdown blocks ... had his best game in terms of rushing yardage at Virginia with the 53 yards in 15 carries, that is his career high also ... carried the ball at least three times in every game and averaged nine attempts per outing ... third on the team in carries and fourth in rushing yardage ... had at least a grade of 85 percent in terms of blocking and all-around performance in every game last year ... only Clemson player with that type of consistency in terms of blocking and all-around performance in every game ... only Clemson player with that type of consistency in terms of average grade ... in for 526 plays for the season with a high of 66 against Virginia and Duke, and a low of 26 against North Carolina ... one of the young leaders of the team, coach Ford says Lancaster has the best work ethic on the team ... rode his bike 120 miles a week between Clemson and Anderson last summer to keep his legs in shape and one day drove it to Spartanburg ... the team barber, he sports a flat top with variations ... had his highest grades of the year at Georgia Tech, North Carolina and South Carolina with 96 percent marks ... had four grades in the 90s ... one of the reasons Clemson has had such productive tailbacks the last couple of seasons ... won the Hardest Hitter Award on offense for spring practice for the second straight season ... attended Clemson camp three years ... his father attended Clemson for just a month as a student but stayed a Clemson fan ... West Georgia was the only other school to offer Lancaster a scholarship ... parents have not missed one of his games in high school or college ... "Best blocking back I have had in nine years at Clemson," according to Chuck Reedy.

In 1985: Played 310 snaps, but carried the ball just eight times for 19 yards ... when he was in the game he was usually leading Kenny Flowers around or through the line of scrimmage ... played in eight games, the last eight of the year, and graded in the eighties or nineties in every game but one ... had a 90 grade for the South Carolina game on 31 plays, his top grade of the year ... had five carries for 11 yards against Duke for his most carries in a game ... did not rush the ball from scrimmage since the Duke game, he played 255 straight plays without carrying the ball to end the season ... but he had some excellent blocks and he was a reason the Clemson running attack flourished over the last seven weeks of the regular season ... was supposed to be red-shirt status but injuries moved him from the bench to starting in two weeks ... played 47 plays against Virginia in the season's fifth game after not playing a snap in the first four outings ... did not even make home travel squad for the Georgia game and attended First Friday Parade with the rest of the student body the night before the first home game ... named Most Improved Running Back and was the recipient of the "Headhunter Award" in spring of 1986 ... runs the 40 in 5.02 and bench presses 310 pounds ... attended a military high school.

91 Michael Dean Perry

Defensive Tackle 6-2 275 *Senior 3VL Aiken, SC
All-America Candidate

Has more career tackles and sacks entering his senior year than his brother, William Perry, had at the same stage in his career.

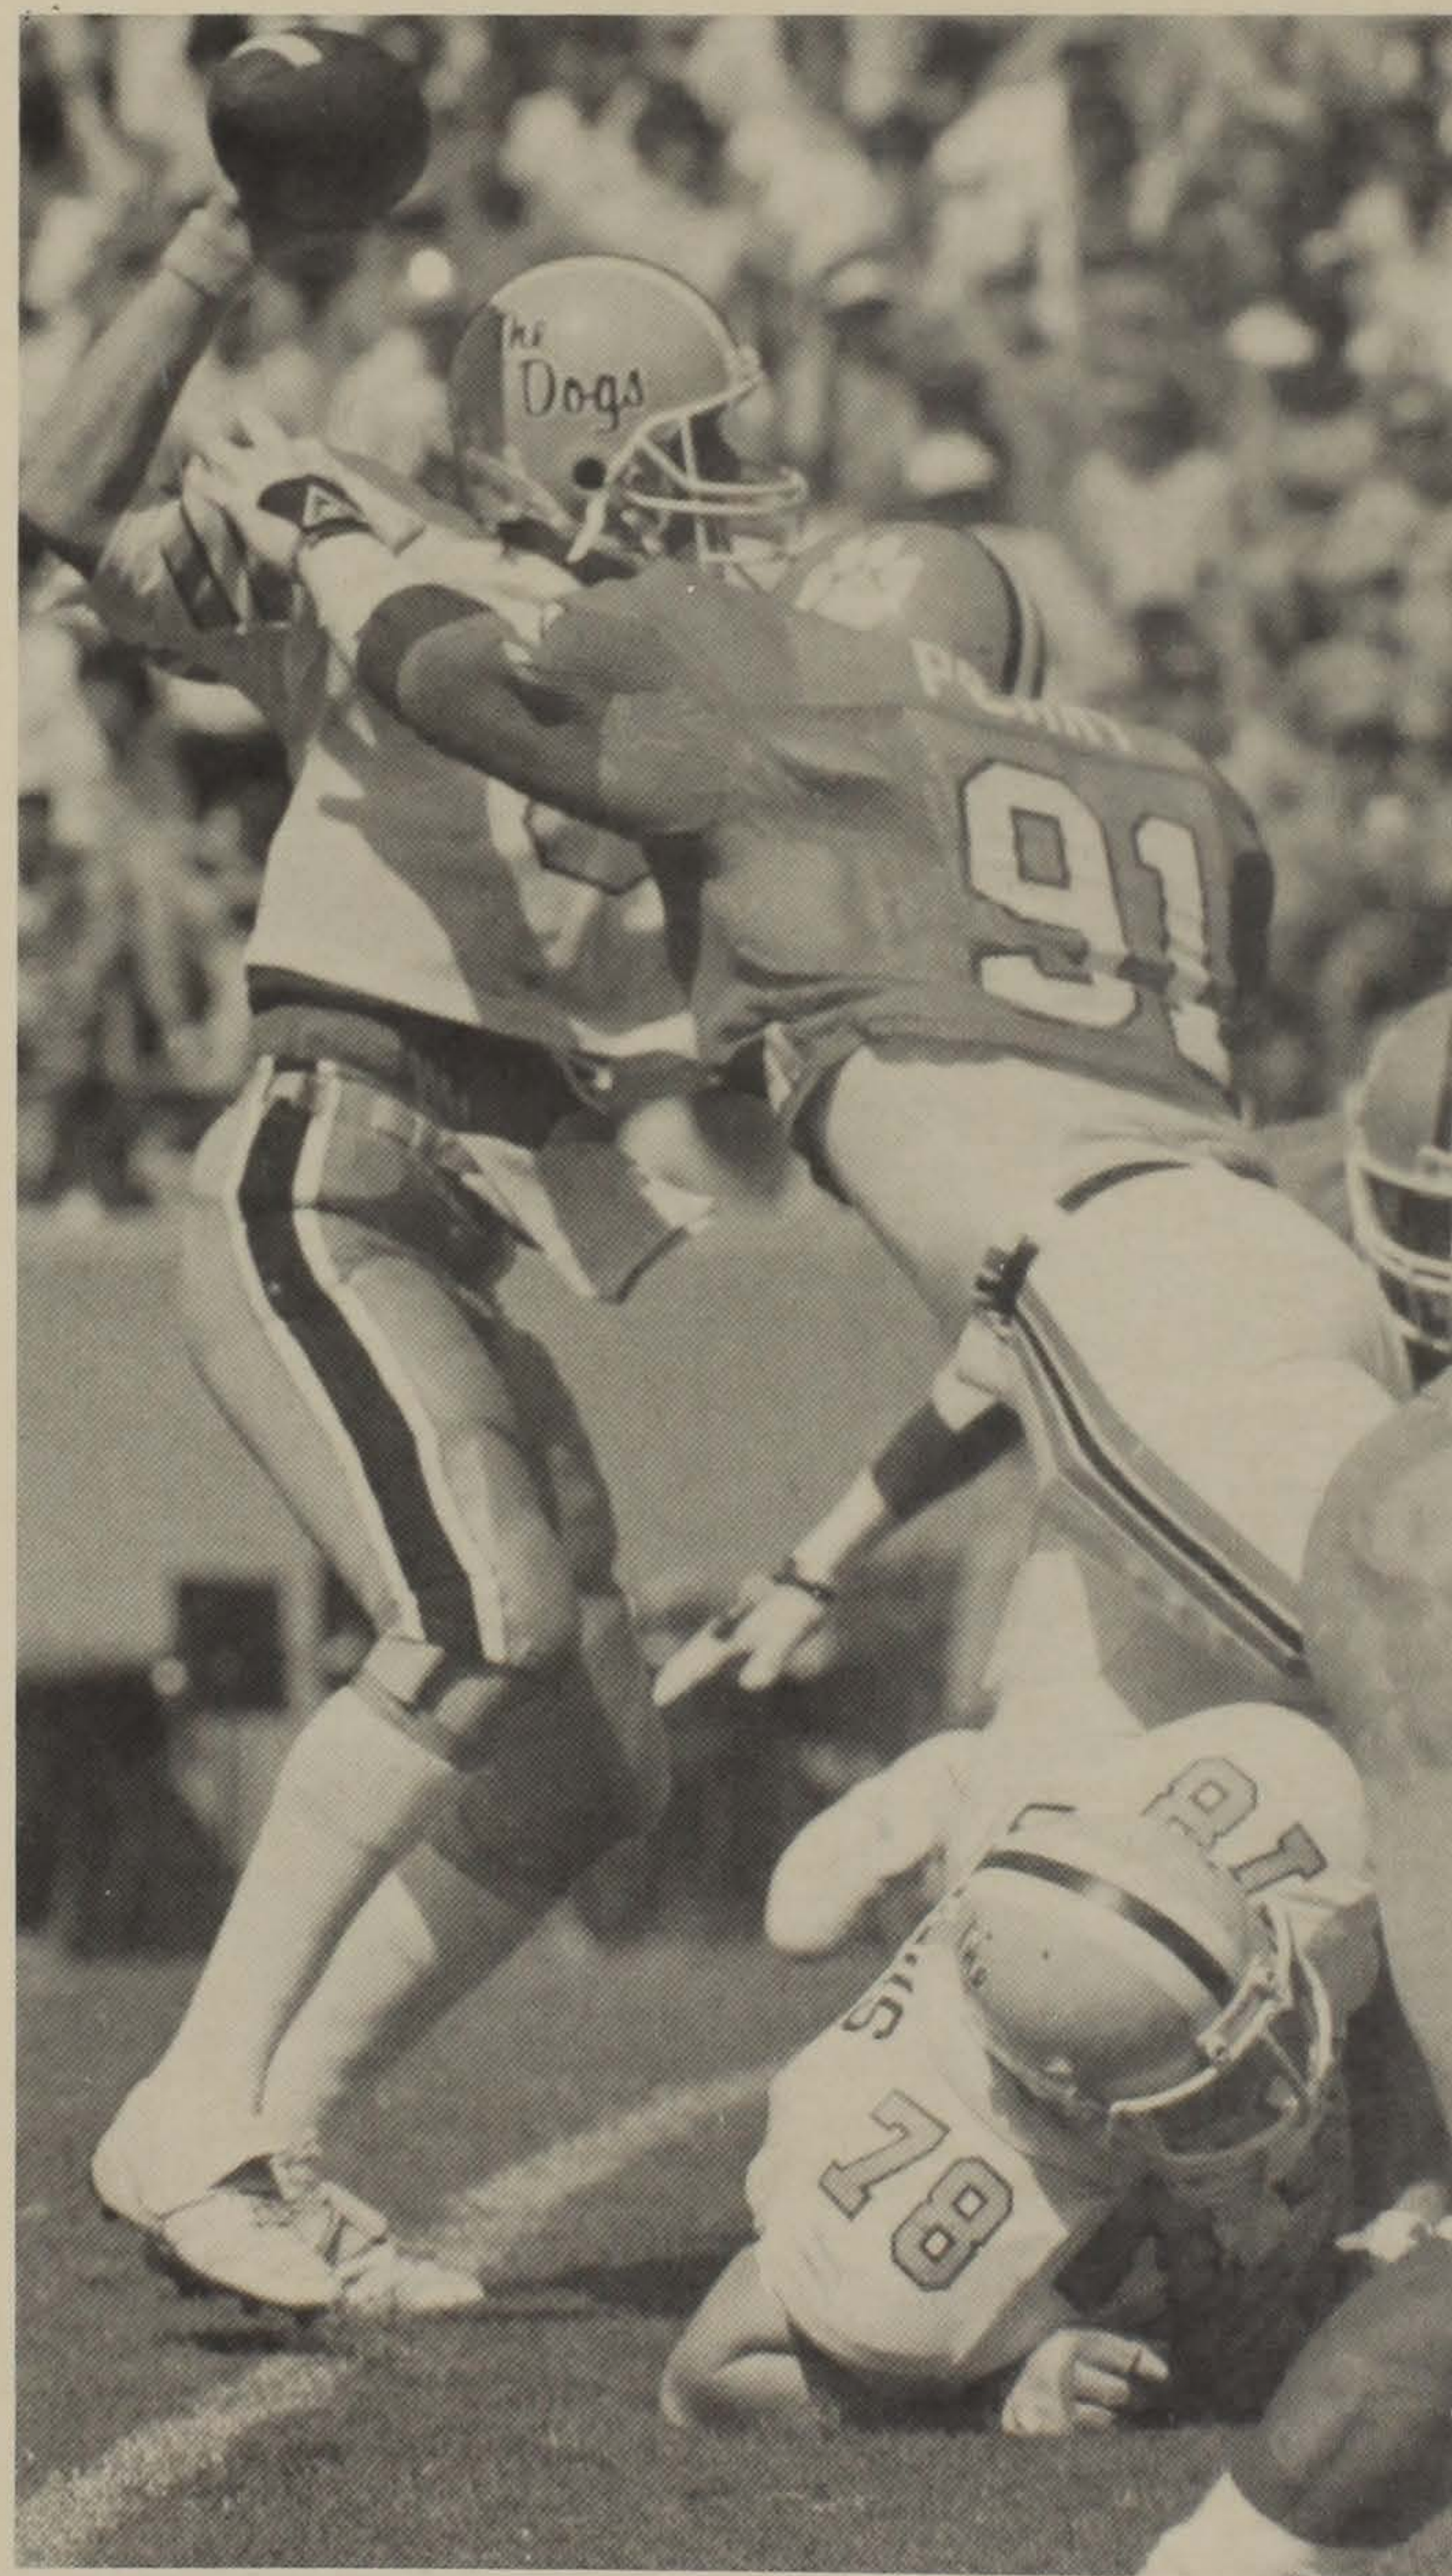

At Clemson: Led the ACC in quarterback sacks in 1986 with nine ... has more career sacks than any other active ACC player ... first team All-America candidate for 1987 ... making a name for himself in the Clemson record book ... already tied for second in Clemson history in career sacks with 18 ... tied with Jim Stuckey (New York Jets) and trails only his brother William "The Refrigerator" Perry, who has 25 ... also third in Clemson history in tackles for loss with 37 ... Randy Scott had 43 between 1975 and 1978 and William Perry had an ACC record 60 between 1981 and 1984 ... had nine sacks last year to lead the team and that total is third best in Clemson history ... also played fullback for one play in the Gator Bowl and helped block on a TD play ... had four tackles in the Gator Bowl and three QB pressures ... his stats in his junior year and those for this point in his career are amazingly similar to William's ... has 165 career tackles, four more than William had at the end of his junior year ... he has 18 career sacks, William had 15 at this point ... Michael Dean has 37 tackles for loss, compared to 33 by William at this point in his career ... Michael Dean and William both had 15 tackles for loss in their junior years ... William was a first-team All-American that season ... Michael Dean was first-team all-conference according to ACC Sportswriters and Associated Press ... AP and Football News Honorable Mention All-American ... Michael Dean achieved all this in 1986 by playing only 37 percent of the time (323 plays out of 867 possible defensive snaps) ... led the team by far in tackles for loss with 15 and in sacks with nine ... consistent all year, you have to wonder what he would do if he played the entire game ... did not play more than 35 plays in a game all season, he was in for 35 at Virginia ... had a season high seven tackles at Maryland, he also had two tackles for loss and one sack ... involved in a sack in eight of the 12 games and had a tackle for loss in nine of the 12 games ... had three games in which he made six tackles and four others when he made five stops ... had three tackles for loss against Duke and South Carolina and two sacks in each of those games ... finished the regular season with three tackles for loss and a pair of sacks against South Carolina ... ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Week for his game against Duke, state Player-of-the-Week against Maryland and the CarQuest Player-of-the-Game for the Tigers according to the Clemson radio network against Duke and South Carolina ... has the third best bench press figure on the team at 425 pounds ... also fifth in the leg sled (950), 12th in the power clean (300) ... only player on the club to rank in the top five in both the bench press and the leg sled ... won the Outstanding Leader Award for the Defense during spring practice of 1987 ... 1987 preseason Sporting News All-American.

In 1985: Despite an injury plagued season, Michael Dean was second on the team in tackles for loss and had the second most pass deflections by a down lineman in Clemson history ... played defensive end the entire season, only year he has not played defensive tackle ... fractured his right fibula in a scrimmage in Memorial Stadium on August 31 and fought an ankle problem all season ... missed the first three games of the year and played in just seven of the 12 games ... at half speed for three of those games ... had a season high eight tackles against Minnesota, including a tackle for loss ... had a great game against N.C. State even though he was in for just 26 plays ... had seven tackles, two passes broken up, caused a fumble, had two tackles for loss and a quarterback sack ... had six tackles, a sack and two PBUs in the Virginia game ... had four tackles, two behind the line of scrimmage at North Carolina in just 21 plays ... broke his left hand at Chapel Hill, which held him out most of the second half ... in for just 234 plays, or only 25 percent of the defensive snaps ... had two PBUs in three games, Virginia, N.C. State and Wake Forest ... did not play against Maryland or South Carolina ... preseason All-ACC in 1985 ... ran 40 in 4.79 in Spring of 1985 ... sat out Spring of 1986 after ankle surgery in January to have a pin placed in the injured ankle.

In 1984: Second in the Atlantic Coast Conference in tackles for loss with 15 ... trailed only his brother William in that important big play category, as William set an ACC mark with 27 behind the line that season ... Michael's tackle for loss total and quarterback sack total are freshman records at Clemson ... that TL figure is tied for seventh best in a single season in Clemson history ... also had seven sacks, which is tied for fourth best in Clemson history ... had a tackle for loss in each of the last 8 games ... the seven sacks tied for fifth in the Atlantic Coast Conference ... first-team freshman All-American according to Football News and third-team All-American according to the publication in the preseason for 1985 ... started 10 of 11 games at defensive tackle, he was moved to defensive end in spring of 1985 ... had some outstanding performances in 1984 as he tied for fifth on the club in tackles with 75, the second most tackles ever by a Clemson freshman and a record for a freshman down lineman ... he actually broke his brother's freshman records for tackles for loss, sacks, and tackles by a down lineman ... while William Perry and Bruce Smith received the attention before the Virginia Tech-Clemson game, Michael was the star with 10 tackles, three of which were behind the line of scrimmage ... named Brut/Raycom Player-of-the-Game for his performance in Clemson's 17-10 win ... tied a Clemson record with three quarterback sacks at N.C. State, he also had nine tackles in that game ... had just one double figure tackle effort

(VPI), but he had two others with nine and one with eight ... kicked his career off to a great start with six tackles, including a QB sack and forced a fumble against Appalachian State ... tied for the team lead in caused fumbles with three, he tied for fifth in the ACC in that category ... only freshman starter on the Clemson team in 1984.

In 1983: Red-shirted the 1983 season ... had one of the top four overall strength figures on the team that fall.

In High School: Followed in the tradition of his brother and became a standout defensive lineman ... played for Gary Smaller at South Aiken where he was named to the all-conference and all-district teams for three straight years ... broke his left ankle in high school and his right ankle at Clemson ... did not attend the same high school as his brother, William went to Aiken High ... set the South Aiken records for most tackles in a game and in a season ... lettered three years in football as a prepster ... one of 12 children, he has seven brothers and four sisters ... son of Mr. Hollie and Mrs. Inez Perry ... majoring in recreation and parks administration ... born 8/27/65 in Aiken, SC.

18 David Treadwell

Place Kicker 6-1 165 *Senior 2VL Jacksonville, FL

Has made 6-6 field goals in the last eight minutes of games over the last two years.

At Clemson: A fullback at 165 pounds during high school career, but it was on the soccer field ... did not play high school football ... has hit 3-3 each season in the last eight minutes, including 3-3 in the last two seconds ... his kicks have directly changed the outcome of the game on the last play or next to last play three times in two years ... booted 36-yard field goal with no time left to beat VPI in 1985 ... then kicked 46-yard field goal with no time left to beat Georgia last year in Athens ... never knows how long his attempts are, he hits it the same way every time ... kicked 21-yard field goal with two seconds left to tie Maryland to give Clemson the ACC title ... finally, had 31-yard field goal with 2:50 left to tie South Carolina in the last regular season game ... had two field goals in the Gator Bowl, one a 46-yarder, which tied for his longest of the year ... spent the week practicing at his old high school, but he never played football on that field ... continues to move up career charts at Clemson, he is now fifth in field goals with 29, fourth in PATs with 59 and third in kick-scoring with 146 ... has booted 59 straight PATs, the second longest streak of its kind in Clemson history ... needs 12 more in a row to break Bob Paulling's record ... has kicked five field goals in two years against South Carolina ... Chevrolet MVP for the Tigers in the win over Georgia on ABC-TV ... the Toyota Scholar-Athlete Award winner for the N.C. State game ... 22-26 inside the 40 in his career ... can do 85 situps in 60 seconds, tied for second on the team.

In 1985: Won the Virginia Tech game in his very first college contest ... booted a 36-yard field goal with no time left on the clock to give Clemson a 20-17 win at Virginia Tech ... did not find out he would be the starting placekicker until Coach Ford told him to go out on the field for his first attempt of that game ... had not even suited up for an organized football game since he was a Pee Wee quarterback in Florida almost a decade earlier ... hit 2-2 field goals and 2-2 PATs in that contest as he provided the margin of victory in his very first game ... his kick-scoring also meant the difference in wins over Virginia and South Carolina ... second in the ACC in field goals per game with 1.36 per outing, he was fourth in the league in scoring overall ... also second in the league in kick-scoring and first among returning players for 1986 ... his 17 field goals in 1985 season is the third best single season total, only Obed Ariri (23 in 1980) and Bob Paulling (18 in 1983) had better figures ... did not even rate a bio in the Clemson press guide in 1985, he was third string heading into the season ... had a streaky season in some ways, he made his first five field goals and his last eight but hit just four of 11 in the middle ... had season high three field goals in the win over South Carolina ... his 49-yarder in the second quarter helped Clemson battle back from a 14-3 deficit ... also had a 46-yarder in the game, he had his longest two field goals of the season in that South Carolina game ... did not miss an extra point all season and he missed just seven field goals, five of the misses were from 45 yards or more ... 12-14 inside the 40 ... had multiple field goal games against VPI, Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Minnesota ... had two field goals, including a 40-yarder, in his first national TV game, against Georgia in September ... had a fine Spring Game, Treadwell booted three field goals in three attempts for the White Team in his club's 22-15 win ... came to Clemson in August of 1983 as a walk-on, he red-shirted his first year and never got into a game in 1984. In High School: Played soccer at Bolles High School in Jacksonville for four years, but never played football ... honorable mention all-city during his senior year ... his father, Richard Treadwell, is an oral surgeon ... it was his father that convinced him to start kicking a football after his senior year of high school ... David was hoping for a soccer scholarship, but he did not get one to a school he was interested in ... came to Clemson for its outstanding engineering program ... majoring in electrical engineering, he was on the academic honor roll the last two years ... Academic All-ACC in 1986 ... born 2-27-65 in Columbia, SC.

75 Pat Williams

Offensive Guard 6-4 275 *Junior 2VL Lincolnton, GA

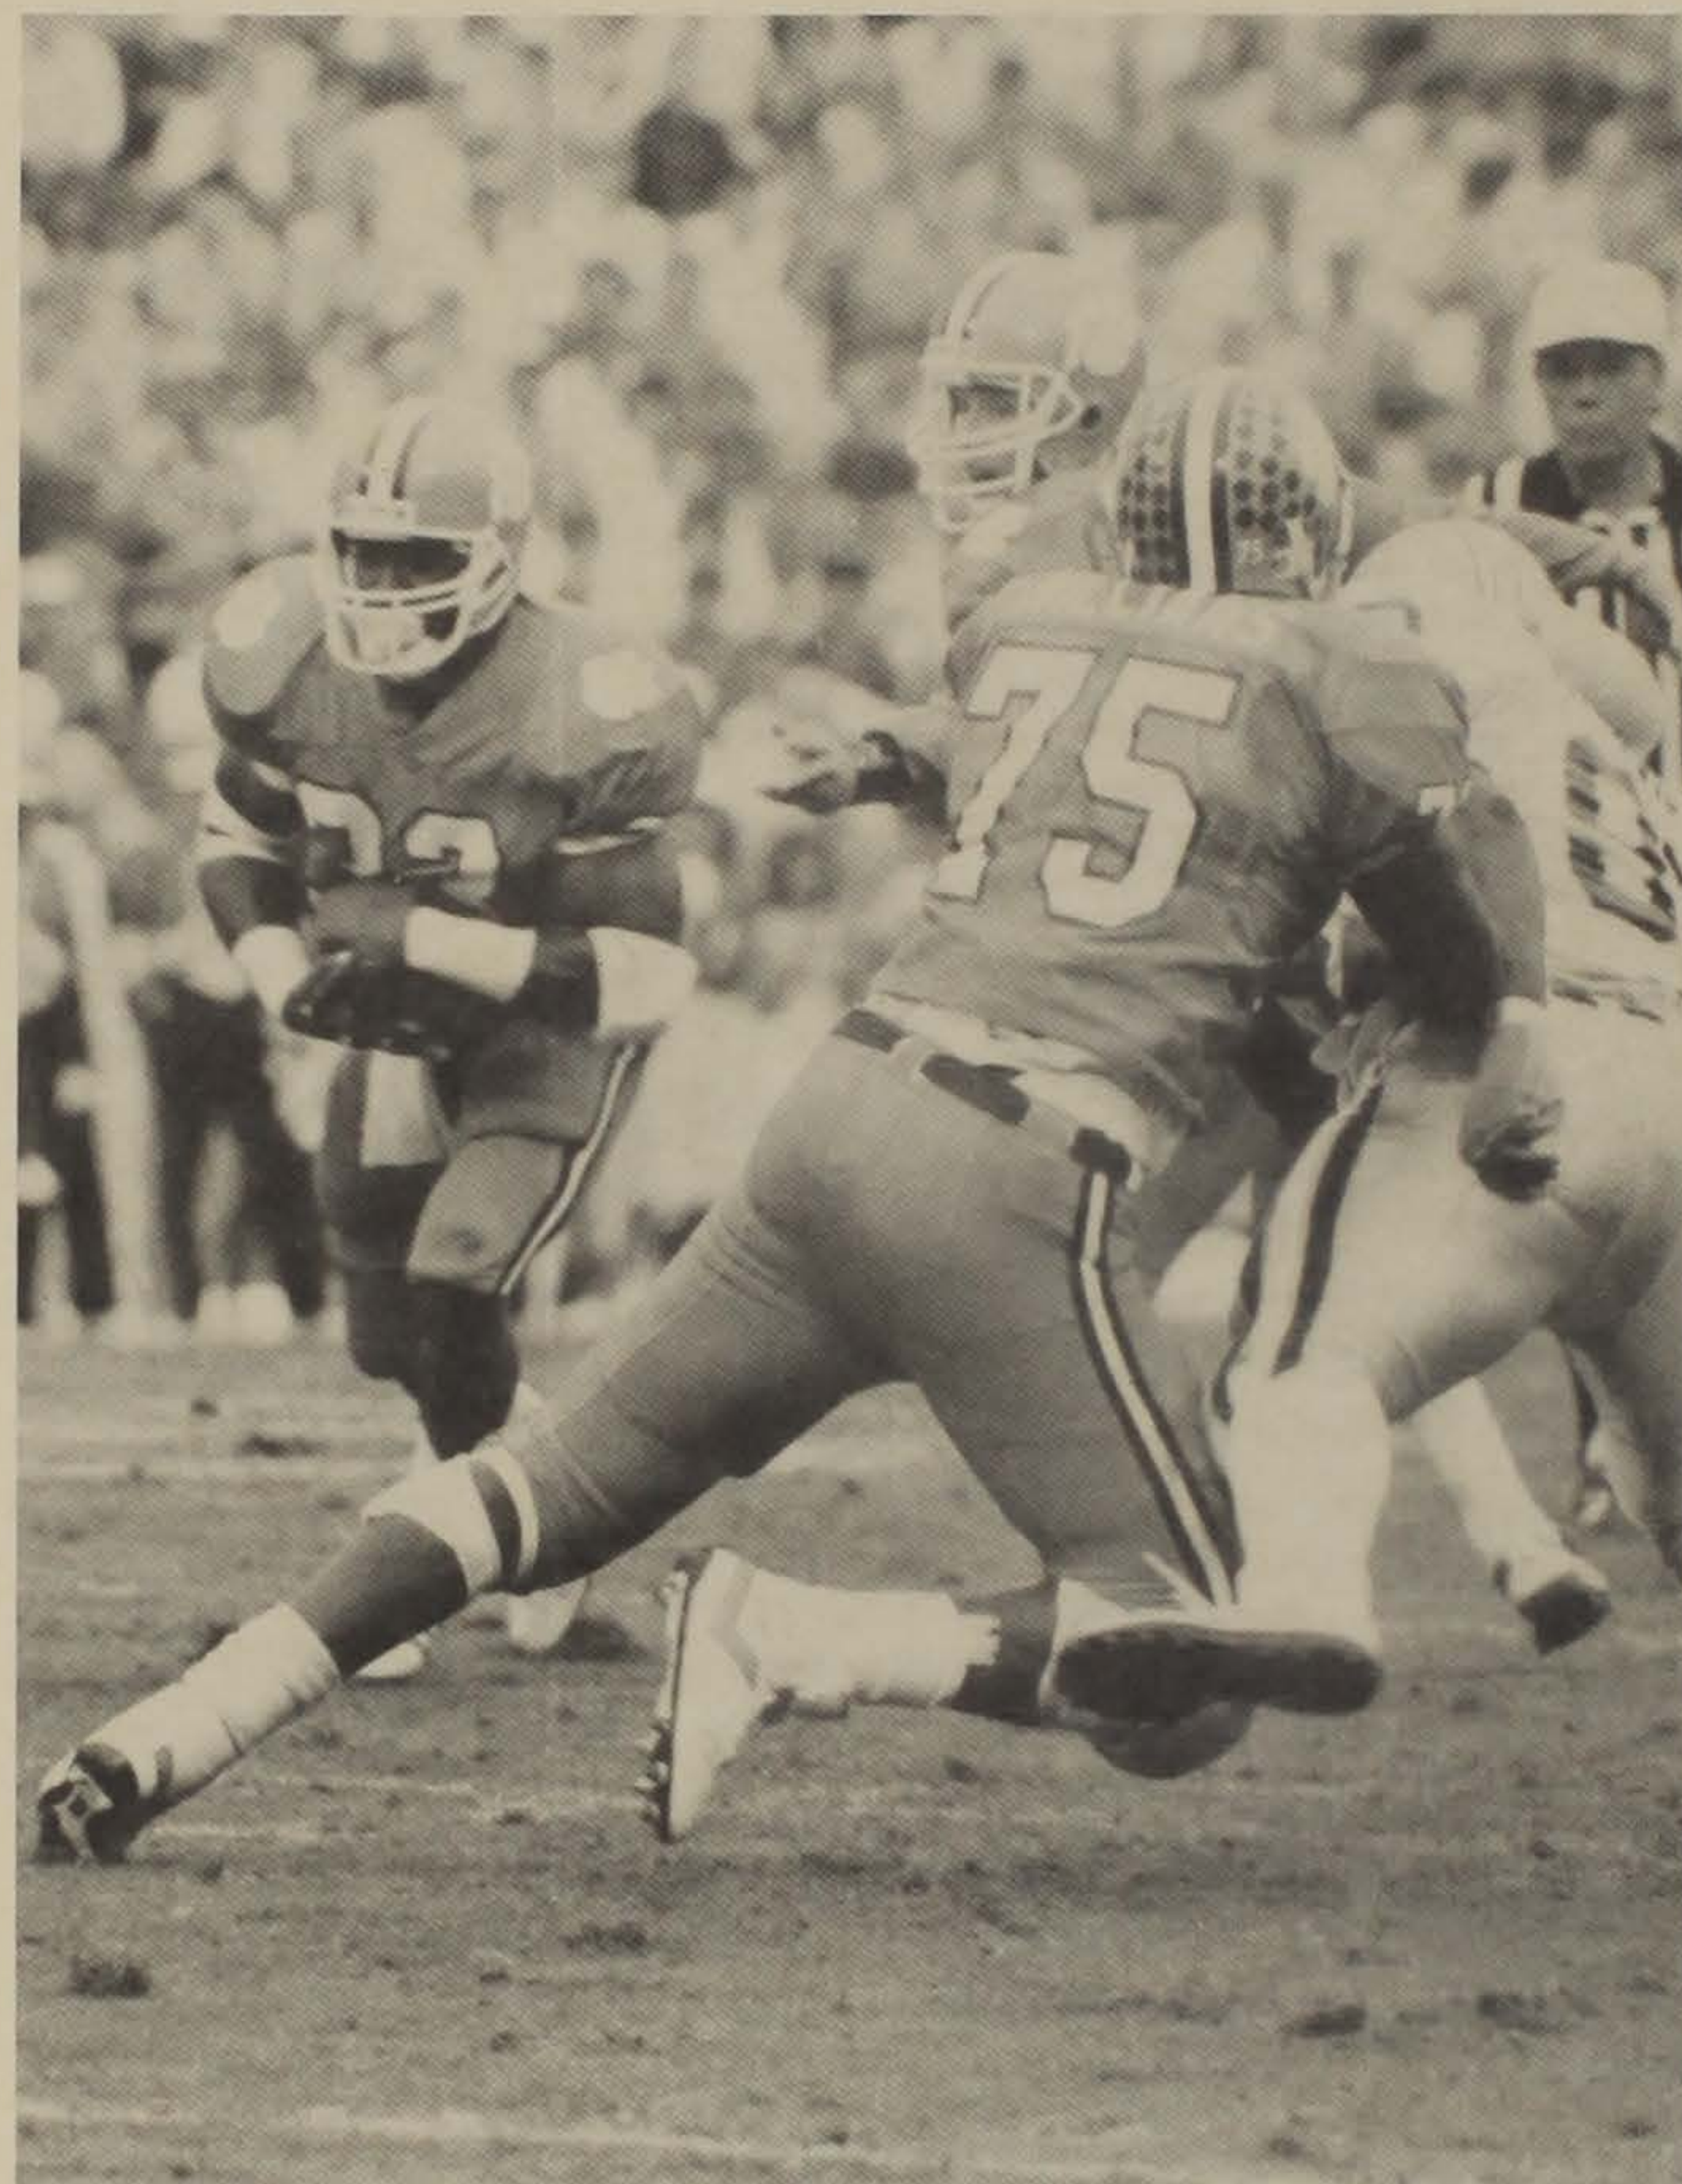

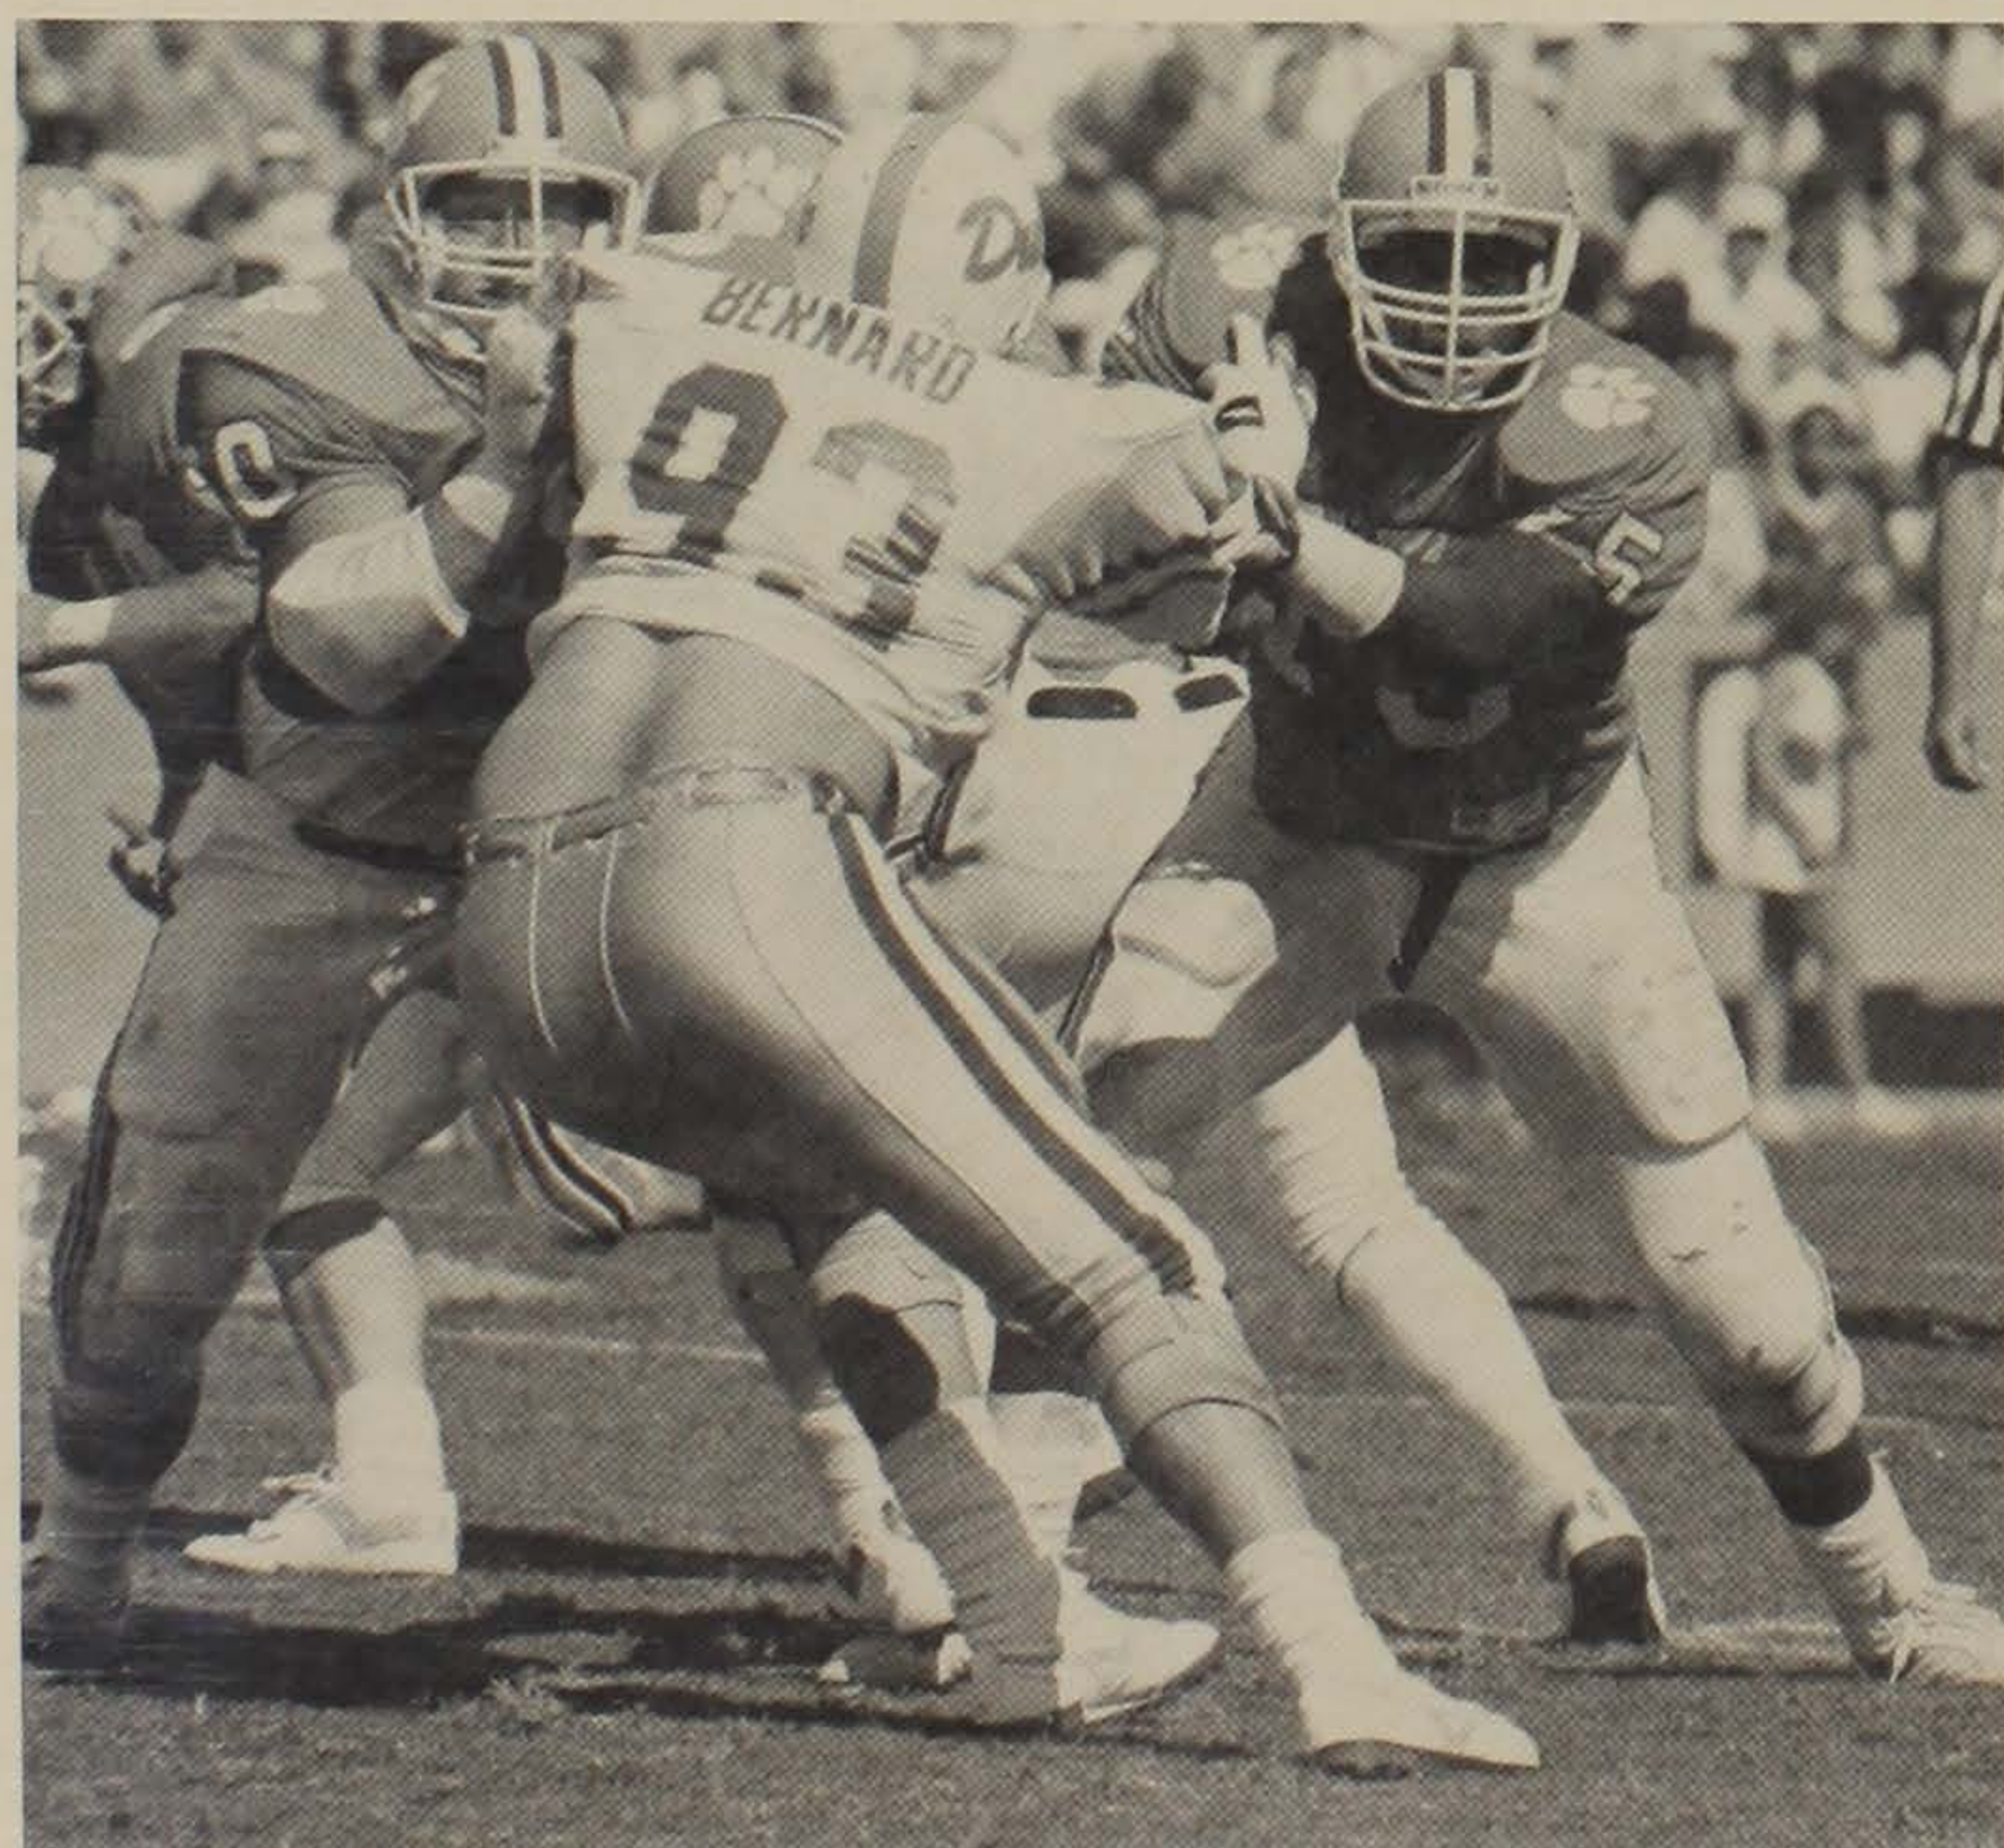

Had a career high tying 11 knockdown blocks in the win at Georgia in 1986.

At Clemson: Sat out spring practice with a shoulder injury, he will be 100 percent for fall practice ... suffered the injury in the Gator Bowl and was in for just 25 snaps ... was having a great game prior to the injury, he graded 87 percent for the 25 plays ... All-ACC candidate for 1987 ... listed as first-team left guard heading into this season ... had one of the finest sophomore campaigns in quite some time ... a starter in all 12 games ... converted defensive lineman, having switched to the offense during mid-season in 1985 ... on the field for the second most snaps on the entire Clemson team with 816 ... only All-ACC guard John Phillips was in on more plays ... in four of the 12 games he saw more action than any other offensive lineman ... he also was Clemson's highest rated (71 percent) interior offensive lineman at N.C. State ... in that game he defeated his opponent 48 of 68 plays ... twice he delivered double-figure knockdown block performances ... he had 11 knockdown blocks at Georgia Tech and 11 against the Virginia Cavaliers ... fastest offensive lineman on the team in 1986 with a clocking of 4.77 in the 40 ... only once in the 12 games did he draw a film grade of less than 60 percent ... averaged 68 plays each outing ... had at least three knockdown blocks in every game but Wake Forest and concluded the season with 61 knockdown blocks, second highest total among the linemen ... has played in 20 career games for Clemson, three on defensive.

In 1985: Moved from defensive line to offensive line in middle of the year ... played in eight games, three on defense and he made two tackles ... only player on the Clemson team in 1985 who played both offense and defense ... appeared in three of the first four games on defense as a tackle, then moved to offense for the last eight games of the season ... played in each of the last five as an offensive guard as a second-team player behind Steve Reese ... played 22 snaps on defense against Virginia Tech and had two tackles ... saw five plays of action against Georgia Tech and Kentucky on defense ... had a 100 percent grade on eight plays against Maryland ... in for 11 snaps against N.C. State for his most offensive action of the season ... Clemson coaches considered moving him in the early fall because of his excellent 4.77 time in the 40.

In 1984: Red-shirted freshman defensive lineman who was third fastest on the team among all linemen ... worked at right tackle as a reserve behind Dwayne Meadows ... had 13 tackles and a pass broken up in the spring scrimmages of 1985.

In High School: Selected as the Northeast Georgia Lineman-of-the-Year by the Anderson Independent ... listed in the Atlanta Constitution's Top 30 players in the state of Georgia ... a three-time letterwinner in football and basketball in Lincoln County High School ... in 1982 (12-1) and 1983 (12-2) led his prep squad to the regional championship, area championship and the South Georgia runner-up spots ... as a senior averaged a grade of 85 percent or better as an offensive lineman ... as a defensive tackle averaged six solo hits per outing ... active in other student functions in high school as he was a member of the Beta Club and the Student Council ... majoring in sociology at Clemson ... born 7/2/66 in Evanston, IL.

Irmo, SC

Clemson's Player-of-the-Game in each of the last three games on network TV in 1986.

At Clemson: Most valuable player for the Tigers in three of the last four games, and each of the last three on TV ... most valuable player of the Gator Bowl as he completed 12 of 19 passes for 135 yards ... Chevrolet Player-of-the-Game vs. North Carolina and Maryland ... averaged 6 yards per rush vs. Maryland and hit 10 passes for 103 yards ... also ran for a touchdown ... completed 56 percent of his passes over the last five games, he hit only 33 percent the last four games of 1985 ... Clemson's starting quarterback in all 12 games last season ... has been the Tigers' starting signal caller the last 20 games, during which time he has directed Clemson to a 13-5-2 record ... in for 805 snaps which was third most plays on entire squad ... celebrated his 21st birthday in leading Clemson to a 28-20 victory at Wake Forest and in the process set personal best passing marks in completing 13 of 18 for 193 yards and throwing two scoring strikes ... Terrence Flagler connected with Williams for scoring strikes of 39 and 21 yards against the Deacons ... he followed that outing by completing 75 percent of his passes against North Carolina, hitting 9-12 for 108 yards and helping Clemson to its first turnover-free outing of the season ... in that game he scored his fourth career rushing touchdown and racked up a personal high 76 yards on 10 carries ... that fine outing earned Williams the ACC's Player-of-the-Week for an offensive back ... he graded out at 80 percent or better in seven of the 12 contests and completed 50 percent or more of his passes in eight outings ... in just two short seasons he is already listed among career leaders in passing yardage, pass attempts, completions, completion percentage and career interception avoidance ... more than halfway to becoming winningest starting quarterback in Clemson history, he has 13 and Homer Jordan has the record with 22 ... had his first 200-yard game (201) in terms of total offense at Georgia ... he reached the 2,000 mark at Maryland when he had 152 yards in total offense ... has 2496 in total career yards ... 14th in Clemson history in that category ... had second best yards per carry figure (4.1) in a regular season for a Clemson quarterback in last 25 years ... Williams was sacked just three times all year, with most of the credit going to his fine offensive front, but a bit of credit to his much improved ability to read defenses and avoid being thrown for a loss ... had a busy spring of 1987 as he had a couple of scrimmages where he had to quarterback both teams because of injuries to quarterbacks ... won the Outstanding Effort Award on Offense along with Tracy Johnson for the Spring of 1987.

In 1985: First freshman to start at quarterback (for the course of the season) since 1942 when Butch Butler was the starter for the Tigers ... actually only the third freshman starting quarterback in Clemson history (Doc McFadden in 1906 was the other) to serve that position consistently over the season ... Clemson was 5-4 with him as the starting quarterback ... set Clemson record for passing yardage by a freshman (772) ... exceeded Steve Fuller, Homer Jordan and Mike Eppley in terms of freshman stats at Clemson ... second among ACC quarterbacks in rushing ... Clemson averaged 267 yards a game rushing after he took over, the Tigers also picked up 400 yards per outing over the last seven regular season games in total offense ... had his best game against Wake Forest when he had 173 yards in total offense and hit 10-19 passing for 147 yards ... averaged 65 plays a game over the last eight contests ... graded at least 81 percent in every game he played with a high of 94 percent against Virginia ... had an 89 for the N.C. State contest ... had an 85 percent mark against South Carolina ... had a good 1986 Spring Game as he accounted for 234 yards in total offense, 197 passing and 37 rushing ... hit 13-20 in 1986 Spring Game ... now 13-6-2 as starting QB over two years.

In 1984: Red-shirted 1984 season ... had a fine spring of 1985 as he completed 36 of 71 passes for 336 yards and two touchdowns during the six scrimmages he worked ... battled Randy Anderson all spring for the number-one position and finally won job in the fall ... started for the White team in the 1985 Spring Game and completed 11 of 20 passes for 97 yards and a touchdown, a nine-yarder to Kenny Flowers.

In High School: Led the South Carolina All-Stars from the quarterback position to an impressive 45-7 victory over the all-stars from North Carolina ... voted captain and selected offensive MVP of the Shrine Bowl ... a Parade All-American ... also, named All-American by the National High School Athletic Coaches Association ... rated the number-three quarterback prospect in the nation after leading Joe Turbeville's Irmo Yellow Jackets to a 10-2 mark in 1983 ... an all-state choice for 4A schools in the state at the quarterback spot ... named the Columbia area Player-of-the-Year ... led Irmo to eight different come-from-behind wins and a 22-3 record ... as a junior led the Yellow Jackets to an undefeated season and threw 16 TDs ... umpires little league baseball in his hometown in the summer ... majoring in administrative management at Clemson ... born 11/1/65 in Columbia, SC.

20 Donnell Woolford

Cornerback 5-10 190 Junior 2VL Fayetteville, NC

Preseason All-America according to Sporting News.

At Clemson: Number-two in the ACC in passes broken up behind teammate Delton Hall ... fifth in the league in punt returns with 8.0 average, best average by a Clemson punt return man since 1981 ... All-ACC candidate ... missed The Citadel contest because of a pulled hamstring ... in for 657 snaps for the season, which was the eighth most overall ... only one other defensive back played more downs and that was All-ACC cornerback Delton Hall ... linebacker James Earle is the only other defensive performer with more snaps ... second leading tackler in the secondary and finished seventh in total tackles with 53 ... he was second overall in PBUs with 12, just two behind Hall ... his first career start came in the season opener against Virginia Tech ... he broke up two passes in that game and made four tackles, one behind the line of scrimmage ... he followed that outing with a career-high 10 tackles against No. 14 Georgia ... he had a grade of 80 percent or better in Clemson's final six regular season outings and seven on the year ... his best game grade-wise came against North Carolina when he graded out at 100 percent on 43 plays ... missed the Citadel game with a pulled hamstring, his only miss in two seasons ... had four punt returns for 45 yards vs. South Carolina to go with seven tackles ... should return punts and kickoffs this year, he did just punts last season ... four times he had five or more stops and he broke up at least one pass in seven of his 11 appearances, including a high of four at Maryland ... CarQuest Player-of-the-Game against Maryland and had the Goody's Hit-of-the-Week against N.C. State and Maryland ... his four punt returns for 60 yards against Duke were the reason Clemson had 127 return yards, second most ever by a Danny Ford coached team ... he has played in 23 career games and made at least one tackle in all but his very first collegiate game ... tied for 4th on the team in the vertical jump with a 34½ figure ... his bench press of 340 pounds is best by a Clemson DB in three years ... won the hardest hitter on defense award for 1987 spring practice ... became interested in Clemson because former Tiger Ray Williams lived around the corner from him ... grew up idolizing Williams and followed him to Tigertown, then got beat by him in the first scrimmage he ever played at Clemson.

In 1985: Most Improved Defensive Back award winner for 1986 spring practice ... had such a great spring he moved ahead of Perry Williams, a returning starter, into top left cornerback position ... one of four freshmen defensive backs who made a significant impact on the secondary play ... in for 132 plays from scrimmage for the regular season, third among freshmen on the defense ... had a season high four tackles against N.C. State in 25 plays and graded at 98 percent ... also had a 34-yard interception return, longest interception return by a Tiger that season ... credited with 14-yard punt return on his blocked punt against Maryland ... had a grade in the nineties in each of the last seven games ... had at least one tackle in every game but the first contest ... played very well with the special teams ... had three tackles against Maryland and North Carolina ... played double figures in snaps in each of the last nine games.

In High School: Another fine product from the Fayetteville area ... three-sport star who earned all-conference honors three straight years in football, basketball and track ... participated in 1984 Shrine Bowl for North Carolina ... coached by Bob Paroli at Douglas Byrd Senior High ... helped prep squad to state championship in 1984 ... named to East/West all-star squad ... majoring in industrial education ... born 1/6/66 in Dunn, NC.

RUSTY
SEYLE6-1, 175, *Junior, 1VL, PK
Savannah, Georgia

Seyle Fact: Once booted a 54-yard field goal in high school, a boot that would be the fourth longest in Clemson history.

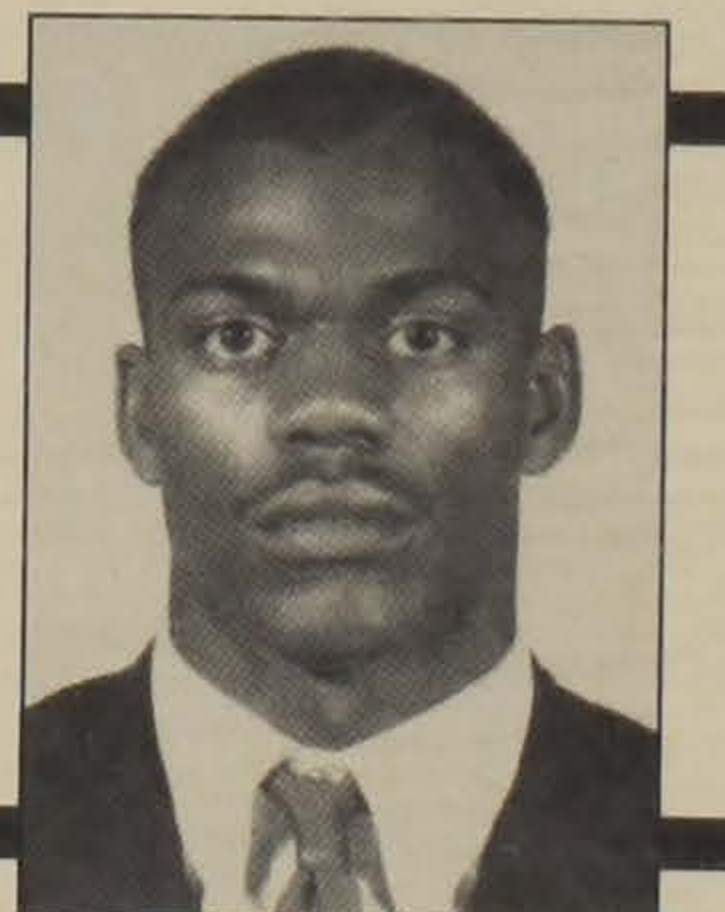

At Clemson: Handled nearly every kickoff last year and was a prime reason Clemson allowed just 17.6 yards a kickoff return, one of the top five kickoff return defenses in Clemson history ... you have to go back 10 years to find the last time the opponent kickoff return figure was that low ... hits high kickoffs, so most are returned, but not very far ... teams failed to average at least 15 yards a return in each of the last three regular season games ... had two conversions for his only career points, one apiece against North Carolina and Duke ... missed on his three field goal attempts, but most were long distance ... actually has better range than David Treadwell ... should kick off again this year and will push Treadwell all season for the starting field goal job.

In 1985: Named Most Improved Kicker in Spring of 1986 ... hit a 51-yard field goal in one of the scrimmages that spring and was 3-3 in another scrimmage ... did not get to show off his field goal abilities in the 1986 Spring Game, but did hit a PAT ... travelled, but did not appear in a game in 1985 ... top rated placekicker heading into the fall of 1985 but Treadwell beat him out ... tied for fourth on the team in flexibility index with a +9½ inch figure.

In 1984: Walk-on who sat out 1984 season ... kicked six field goals in the spring scrimmages to lead the team ... had two field goals of 47 yards for his best efforts of the spring scrimmages, he had a total of four over 40 ... hit 6 of 8 field goals in the spring, including a 25-yarder in the 1985 Spring Game.

In High School: Fine all-around athlete at Calvary High School in Savannah, GA ... lettered four seasons in football, basketball and baseball ... his baseball, football and basketball teams all won a regional or state title his senior year ... MVP of his basketball team his junior and senior seasons ... kicked a 54-yard field goal in high school on the gridiron, which set a city record ... played for Dennis Roddenberry at Calvary High School ... majoring in financial management at Clemson ... born 1/3/66 in Savannah, GA.

RICHARD
SMITH5-11, 195, Junior, 2VL, FS
Sparta, Georgia

Smith Fact: Has 18 special team tackles over the last two years, second on the team.

At Clemson: Starting free safety heading into 1987 ... a demon on the special teams ... he was second behind Matt Riggs with 10 special team tackles ... a reserve free safety, he saw action in 11 games and lined up for a total of 187 snaps ... for the season he had 24 total tackles to give him 34 career stops in 22 games ... he reached a couple of firsts in Clemson's homecoming win over Duke, he broke up a Steve Slayden pass and tackled a Duke runner for a loss as well ... in that game he also was credited with two special teams stops, to finish with his most all-around effort ... led Clemson's most outstanding special teams performance at Georgia Tech, coming up with three hits ... had at least one stop in all 11 games and two more in the Tigers' final six outings ... twice he graded out a perfect 100 percent, against the Bulldogs of Georgia and at Maryland ... he was in for 33 plays against the Terps and made three hits ... he saw his most action in The Citadel shutout as he was in for 39 plays.

In 1985: Had 10 tackles for the season, eight were on special teams, mostly on kickoffs ... first man down on kickoff returns most of the time ... had two tackles in five different games ... saw his most action against N.C. State when he was in for eight plays ... played in 11 games for the season, but just four at safety position ... served as second or third team free safety most of the season ... did not play in the first game and thought he would be red-shirted, but injury to Kevin Brady forced him into action ... tied for fourth best vertical jump on team at 34½ inches.

In High School: All-conference performer from Hancock Central High School in Sparta ... played under the direction of coach John Flen ... selected to All-Middle Georgia all-star team ... once scored four touchdowns, gained 210 yards and had 10 solo tackles in one outing ... closed out his prep career by winning 10 letters including four in football and track and two in basketball ... from same high school as Horace Grant of roundball fame at Clemson ... majoring in industrial education ... born 10/29/66 in Sparta, GA.

Speed Fact: Offensive tackle at Clemson who had 126 tackles as a defensive tackle in high school.

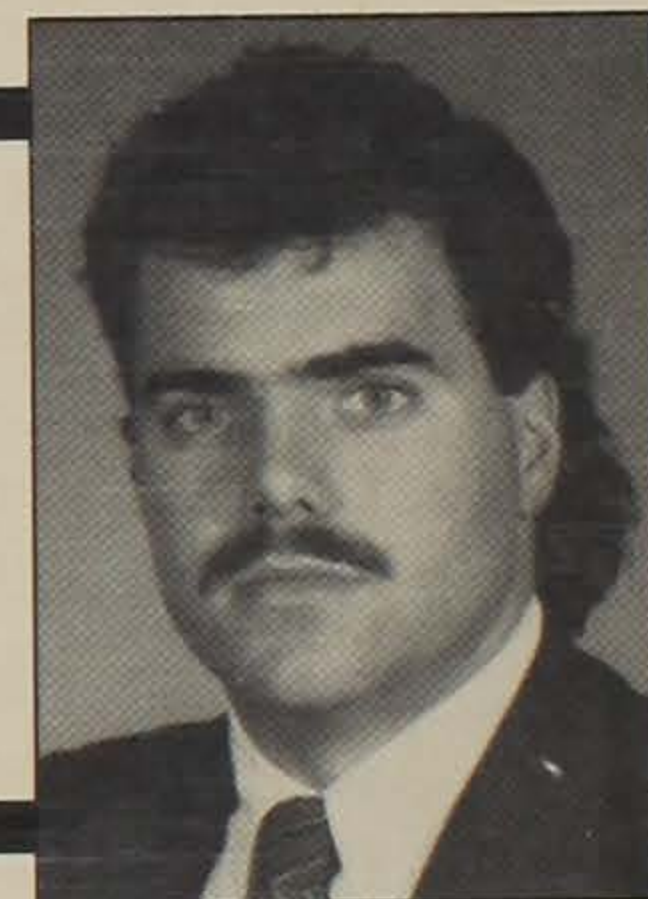

At Clemson: Third-team offensive tackle heading into the season ... made his fame in high school as a defensive player, he is on offense at Clemson ... should provide backup strength behind Clemson's veteran offensive line ... sat out 1986 as a red-shirt, he gained considerable experience this past spring ... has been troubled by a shoulder injury during his Clemson career.

In High School: Agile lineman from Rabun County High School ... coached by Bill Hall ... a defensive stalwart, he was credited with 126 tackles (91 solo stops) from his strong-side linebacker slot his senior year ... he also broke through the line of scrimmage to make 10 tackles for a loss of 58 yards ... he caused three fumbles and recovered one ... as a placekicker, he was on target on 14 of 16 PATs ... The Atlanta Constitution named him to their all-state team ... a three-sport star, he collected three letters each in football and track and two in basketball ... he owns a career-high toss of 50-5¾ in the shot-put ... majoring in Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management ... born 6/11/68 in Clayton, GA.

DAVID SPRY

6-0, 240, *Senior, 3VL, C
Sanford, North Carolina

Spry Fact: Has had just three snaps lead to a busted play out of exactly 200 in his Clemson career.

At Clemson: Clemson's long snapper for all 12 games last season and seven in 1985 ... he missed Clemson's final four 1985 regular season clashes because of a knee injury ... came back for the Independence Bowl ... he snapped for 100 punts, 38 field goals and 51 successful point after attempts during those games ... in 1983 he came in during the second quarter of the Maryland game when Scott Williams, the deep snapper, suffered an injury ... Spry did all the snapping for the remainder of the game and did all the snapping for the 1983 South Carolina contest ... so for his career he has centered for 106 punts, 42 field goal attempts, and 52 PATs ... only once in the 106 punt attempts has an opponent blocked a Clemson punt when he's been the snapper ... he's had just three bad snaps in 200 opportunities ... has played in 21 career games ... tied for second on the team in flexibility index with a 11 inch figure.

In 1985: Clemson's starting snapper ... did majority of the snapping, he missed last four regular season games due to a knee injury ... came back for Independence Bowl ... played in seven games for the year ... one reason Clemson did not have a punt or field goal blocked ... did not have a bad snap on punts all year.

In 1984: Sat out season and gained experience and weight ... picked up 30 pounds and worked as a prep team player while sitting out the season ... lettered in 1983 as a freshman, the only walk-on freshman to do so ... only member of the Clemson team with any experience snapping the ball on punts and placekicks ... came in during the second quarter of 1983 Maryland game when Scott Williams, the deep snapper, was injured ... did all the snapping for the remainder of the game and did all the snapping for the 1983 South Carolina contest ... named special teams Player-of-the-Week against Maryland ... missed the spring of 1984 workouts due to a viral infection.

In High School: A two-year letterman in football and baseball ... as a prepster at Lee County High School (NC), was all-area and honorable mention all-conference and honorable mention all-state ... team captain in football and baseball ... hit .400 on the baseball field as his high school squad reached the semifinals of the state playoffs ... majoring in administrative management ... born 1/6/65 in Chardon, OH.

Paws For Pushups

Terrence Flagler, Kenny Flowers and Steve Griffin collectively gained over 5,000 yards in their careers.

Of all the colorful sidelights to Tiger football—tailgating, fans dressed in orange attire, faces painted with Tiger paws, running down the hill, Tigerama, and the First Friday Parade—the antics of the man in stripes, the Tiger, stand out above all. The Tiger mascot started entertaining the young and old at Clemson football games nearly 30 years ago and many Tiger stories get better and better each time they are retold.

The Tiger's tail is a much-sought-after prize at away games, as frequent attempts to claim the trophy have resulted in spirited altercations between the student bodies of the opposing schools. Tigers have been seen on goalposts, riding motorcycles, posing with the President of the United States, marching in visiting schools' bands, kissing homecoming queens, and generally getting into all kinds of mischief. But, THE Tiger tradition that has gained the most attention is the pushup.

Tiger mascot Zack Mills started a new tradition in the fall of 1978 by doing pushups for every point Clemson scored. This doesn't appear to be so difficult at first glance, but the pushups are done cumulatively. That is, when the gridiron Tigers score to bring their point total to 17, the mascot Tiger does 17 pushups. When the team scores to bring their total to 24, the Tiger does 24 more pushups, not just seven more. During the 1978 season, Mills established four Tiger pushup records, including the NCAA single season mark of 1,334 pushups in 12 games.

Mills served as the Tiger for two seasons, and in 1980, he turned the stripes of the suit over to Ricky Capps. The rookie Tiger could only manage 600 pushups, as the football Tigers of 1980 were not the scoring machine they had been the two previous years.

In 1981, things picked up, as the on-field Tigers lit up scoreboards to the tune of 338 points in 12 games. Due to the efforts of the National Champions, Capps concluded his senior season with 1,144 pushups, which nearly doubled his 1980 output, and Capps ended his career with 1,755 pushups.

Capps will also be remembered for setting the individual game pushup record. On Halloween Day 1981, Clemson scored 82 points against Wake Forest on the way to setting four conference records and three stadium marks. While the team was running up and down the field, Capps was pumping out a total of 465 pushups, a pushup total that may not be broken.

The mascot from Wake Forest showed how spirited he was when Clemson scored its 76th point. Capps was near the point of exhaustion when the Deacon did the 76 pushups for the Tiger, as the fans counted the total. Clemson scored again to make its point total 82, and Capps, now sufficiently rested, was able to complete the 82 pushups. Capps was recognized by the Tiger Band at the 1982 Orange Bowl, as he was allowed to dot the "i" in Tigers, an honor usually reserved for dignitaries.

Capps made the symbolic passing of the Tiger head to Randy Faile for the 1982 season, and Faile proceeded to bring further honor to the Clemson Tiger as he was named Universal Cheerleader Association Mascot-of-the-Year at the national championships in Dallas, TX. Faile was the first Tiger to perform overseas duty, as he worked off 72 pushups in the Mirage Bowl in Japan. During his two-year Tiger tenure, Faile surpassed Zack Mills' career record of 1,801 pushups with 2,177 of his own to become Clemson's all-time pushup leader.

Jay Watson, who served as the mascot in 1984, did not break any career records, but he brought notoriety of his own when the Tiger appeared on the same stage with President Reagan in Greenville. David Friedman held the position in 1985 and had 640 pushups to his credit. Last season Chris Schimakonis set a new record for pushups in a Bowl game with 89. He ended his season with 842 pushups.

While it appears that the man inside makes the Tiger what he is, the suit is also a story in itself. The head weighs in at about 20 pounds, while the suit tips the scale at 45 pounds. The stripes are lined and quilted, which makes for a lot of weight loss to the Tiger's soul during the ball game. Mills, Capps, Faile, and Watson all report shedding up to 12 pounds in a single game, and to keep the suit from smelling like the inside of an old sweatsock, it must be cleaned three times during a football season.

The 1987 Tiger mascot, Martin Lowry, certainly has some big "paws" to fill this season. But, after a summer of hard work with the weights, Lowry should be ready for a season of pushups.

Strength Training

No Clemson down defensive lineman played more than 41 percent of the snaps last season.

Clemson has the eighth best winning percentage in the nation over the last 10 seasons and this improvement on the gridiron parallels the improvement in the strength training facility. After three major refurbishings in the last nine years Clemson now has one of the best, if not the best, weight rooms in the nation. Over half a million dollars worth of modern equipment is available as a staff of six weight coaches supervises individual programs for each Tiger gridder.

Third-year coach Gary Wade, former head strength coach of the Detroit Lions, supervises the facility and his knowledge of the profession and the sport is second to none. He spent five years with the Lions and before that he worked as an undergraduate and graduate student at the University of Nebraska.

The 8,000 square-foot facility comfortably houses the top of the line in Nautilus, AMF Free Weights and CAM-II equipment. With a recent expansion Clemson now has over 10 tons of free weights, 12 new ceiling fans, a 16-speaker sound system and new windows that let that beautiful South Carolina sunshine into the spacious area. It might be the most pleasant working environment for such strenuous activity in the nation.

A major reason Clemson has excelled in athletics in recent years is the development of the strength and conditioning program. The facility was designed not only for the football team's training, but for all of Clemson's 18 varsity sports. Each athletic team has its own training program. The program for most sports is designed for each individual, but the football workout is broken down by position.

"We want well-balanced workouts," says Wade. "We want our football players to have good strength and flexibility and be well-conditioned. We want them to be able to perform at peak efficiency for four quarters."

"I think we've made tremendous strides so far. We've also set standards with the players - we want them to live up to their capabilities and to think that, 'I owe it to myself and the rest of the team to be the best athlete I can possibly be.'"

Wade's impact has already been felt by the Clemson athletic teams as evidenced by the number of All-Americans (24) for 1985-86 and 10 top 20 national team finishes last year. The women's program and the men's program both finished in the top 20 in the nation in The Knoxville Journal's collegiate all-sports poll.

Comparing football strength statistics from 1985 to 1987 shows a dramatic overall improvement. The average lift for this year was the top figure on the squad a year ago. The use of a lot of free weights and a lot of explosive lifts, such as the power clean, have contributed to the squad's tremendous overall improvement.

Clemson has placed eight football players on the All-American Strength Team over the years, including three members the past three seasons. Academic All-ACC tackle Ty Granger was named to the squad in 1986, All-ACC tight end Jim Riggs was named to the squad for 1985, while Clemson's career rushing leader Kenny Flowers was a selection in 1984.

Granger, at 6-7, 270-pounds, registered the first and second best attempts in the leg sled and power clean events for the Tiger squad last year. The native of Easley set a record for the leg sled with a mark of 927 1/2 during the 1986 season and had the squad's second best power clean figure of 341.

With continued leadership and enthusiasm provided by Wade and his capable staff, the Clemson athletic teams should continue to distinguish Clemson University.

1987 Spring Game

Only two Clemson clubs (1986 and 1978) have rushed for over 3,000 yards in a season.

White Tops Orange

Tracy Johnson's one-yard touchdown following a 66-yard Richard Smith interception return led the Clemson White to a 9-7 victory over the Clemson Orange in the team's annual spring scrimmage on April 4 in Death Valley.

The Orange team, led by starting quarterback Rodney Williams, actually outgained the White team in total yardage, 222-162, but the Orange was unable to score until the very last play of the game. With two seconds left, Rodney Williams threw a 25-yard pass into an endzone crowd and James Coley pulled down the ball for a score. David Treadwell kicked the extra point with no time showing.

The White team drew first blood with 7:33 left in the first quarter when Rusty Seyle connected on a 47-yard field goal. The score came on the first possession of the game. Chris Morocco engineered an eight-play drive that was highlighted by an 18-yard pass to Jerome Williams.

The Orange team threatened to tie the game on the first drive of the second half. Starting at their own 37, Rodney Williams took six plays and moved the ball to the White 22. Williams met with Coley for a 45-yard pass that put the ball on the White 18, but the defense pushed the Orange four yards back. David Treadwell was called on for a 38-yard field goal attempt, but Matt Riggs broke through the line and blocked Treadwell's effort.

Turnovers spelled the Orange team's fate. Midway through the third, Rodney Williams had moved the Orange to the White 23, but a fumble on an attempted reverse was recovered by the White's Jesse Hatcher. Later, with just under four minutes left to play, Williams fired a pass from the White 45 that was picked off by Smith at his own 28 near the right sideline. Smith crossed the field and rumbled to the Orange six before Pat McKenny dragged him down. Three plays later, Johnson jumped in from the one. The snap for the PAT was bobbled, and Seyle's pass attempt failed.

Wesley McFadden led the Orange with a game-high 46 yards on the ground, carrying the ball 14 times. Terry Allen led the White with 40 yards on 13 carries.

Head Coach Danny Ford said following the game, "I don't know that what was seen today is any indication of our team. When you split your team and are also suffering from as many health problems as we are, you just can't always tell."

"I thought we made some poor decisions out there. You don't like to see mental errors in a game of tag."

"But we've also had some pleasant surprises with our spring practice season. Defensive end

Jesse Hatcher improved considerably and worked his way towards a starting position. Tony Stephens and Michael Dean Perry also stood out defensively. Reggie Harris (a bandit) showed as much hustle and enthusiasm as we have had in a spring season in years.

"We need some help in depth at the corners and other areas. Our wide receivers will need help. We don't have the speed and ability in the backfield that we had with (Kenny) Flowers or (Terrance) Flagler, but our backs have the ability to produce a backfield that Clemson is used to."

*Denotes missed one game due to suspension or personal reason

Schonhar held in every game, but was in for a scrimmage play in just two games.

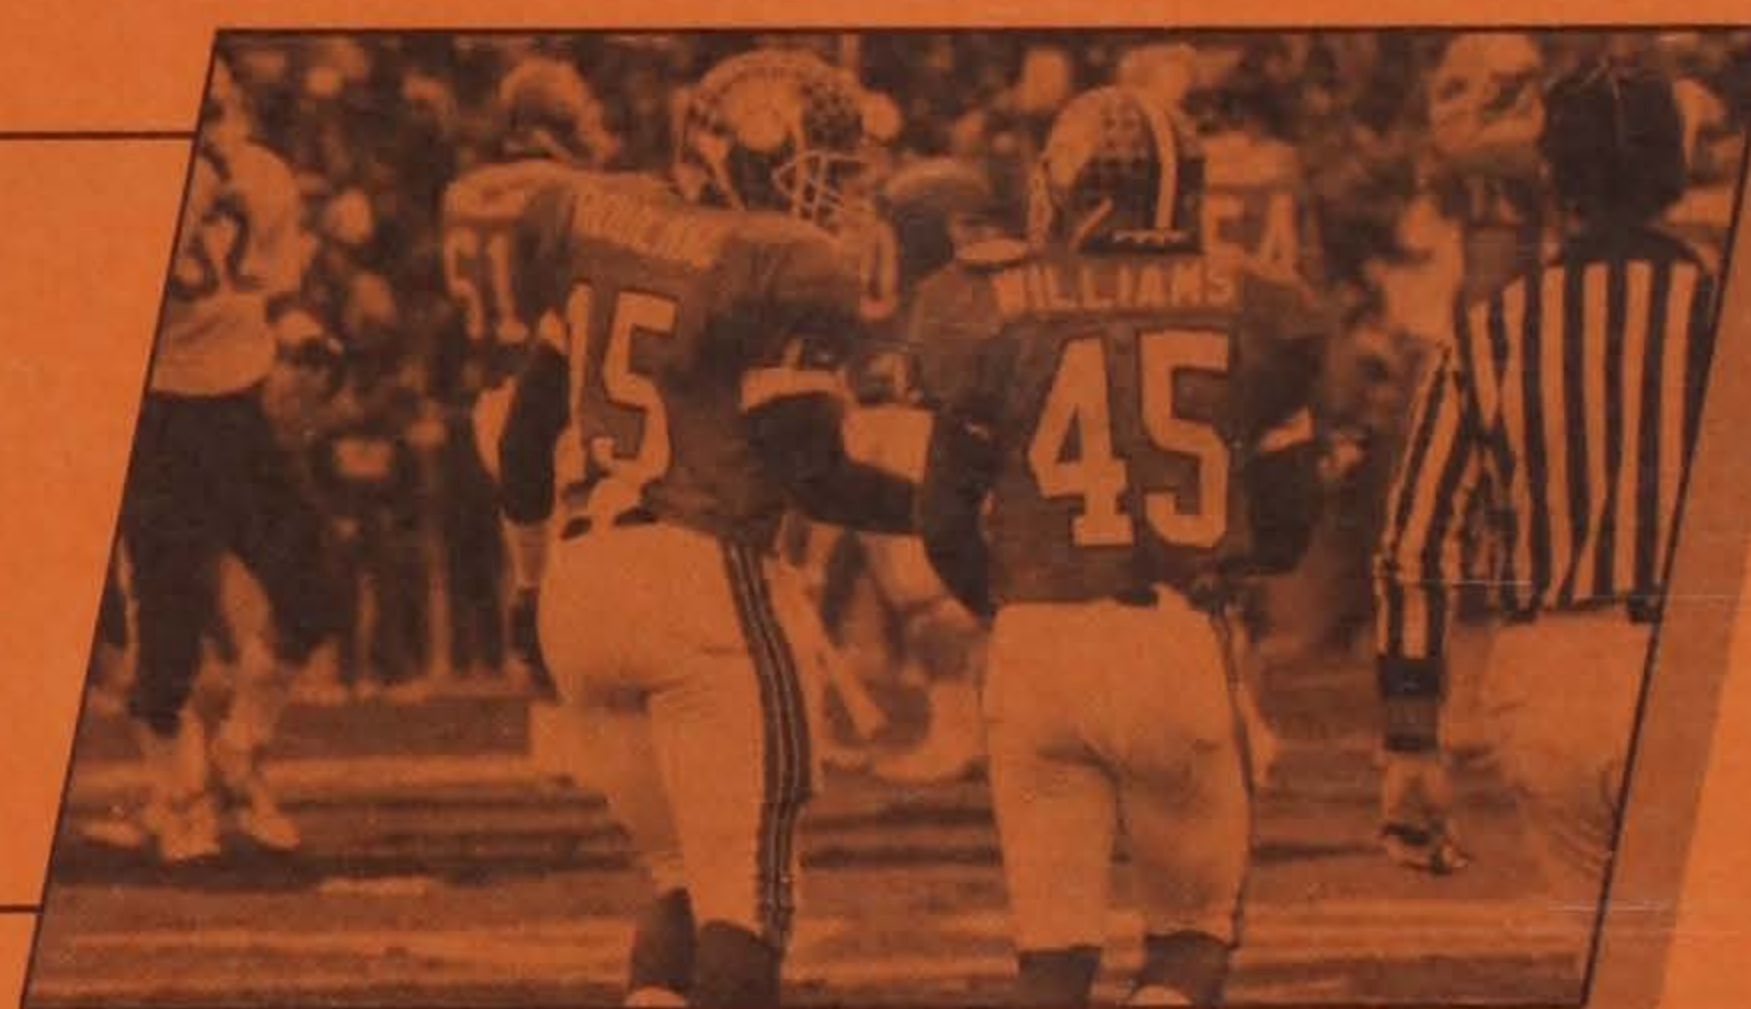

Plays denotes snaps from scrimmage plays only, it does not count special teams plays.

GM denotes game missed in 1986 due to injury.

1986 Tiger Stats

Virginia Tech

 September 13, 1986 at Clemson, SC

The Virginia Tech Hokies ended Clemson's 32-year domination over teams from Virginia by spoiling the Tigers' season opener with a 20-14 upset win at Tigertown. It marked the first opening-day loss at home for a Clemson football team since 1977. It marked only the second season opening setback in nine games for Danny Ford as a head coach and was Clemson's eighth in the last 25 seasons.

Led by the passing of quarterback Erik Chapman, who rattled Clemson's defense for 242 yards on 13-23 pass completions, the Hokies snapped a nine-game losing streak to the Tigers in picking up their first win since 1954. In the first quarter Tech opened the scoring when Victor Jones blocked a punt by Clemson's Bill Spiers and Mitch Dove recovered in the end zone. It marked the first time since the opening game against Georgia in 1982 that Clemson had had a punt blocked.

The Tigers came back in the second stanza, when, with 14:22 left tailback Terrence Flagler weaved his way 13 yards to the end zone. The drive, which was set up by a 29-yard Tech punt, took three plays and 32 yards. Two minutes and nine seconds later Tech's Kinzer booted a 38-yard field goal to put the Hokies back out in front 10-7. The Hokies extended their lead 17-7 early in the third quarter as Chapman connected with Maurice Johnson on a five-yard scoring strike.

Clemson pulled to within three with 4:09 left in the third when Kenny Flowers capped a 13-play, 80-yard drive on a one-yard plunge. Tech added an insurance score on a 31-yard Kinzer field goal early in the fourth quarter and the defense stalled a couple of Clemson drives to hold on for the victory.

Georgia

September 20, 1986 at Athens, GA

The Tigers ended an era of frustration when they upset No. 14 Georgia 31-28 on David Treadwell's second career game-winning field goal as time expired. Never before had Georgia lost a game in which it had scored 28 points or more.

The odds seemed stacked against the Tigers. Not only were they coming off a disappointing performance against Virginia Tech, Clemson's 18 seniors had never beaten Georgia, and only once in the last 17 tries had a Tiger club left Sanford Stadium victorious, that a 7-6 win by the 1977 Gator Bowl Clemson team. Also, second games for Clemson gridders had not been too kind either as the Tigers were 5-15-1 since 1965 in second games.

Before a regionally televised game on ABC, the Tigers had to rally three times for a 21-21 halftime tie. The 42 combined first-half points are the most markers scored by the two teams in the first two periods. As it turned out the game ended as the highest scoring in series history, breaking a 66-year-old record.

Kenny Flowers carried six times for 72 yards, but an ankle sprain sidelined him the entire second half. Ironically, he registered his longest rush from scrimmage, a 57-yard romp, that set up his two-yard score where he suffered the injury. However, his departure marked fellow senior tailback Terrence Flagler's entrance. He began his All-America journey in this game, by carrying 10 times for 90 yards and catching three passes for 58 yards. His scoring connection with quarterback Rodney Williams was the first time in six games that a Tiger signal caller had passed for a score.

Although the Tiger defense surrendered 383 yards, the defenders forced four turnovers, broke up five passes and had three players rack up double figure tackle totals. Defensive tackle Raymond Chavous earned ACC Player-of-the-Week for his 12 tackles, two for loss, in 49 plays. He caused a fumble late in the game that keyed the Clemson comeback. Athens, GA native Norman Haynes had a career high 14 stops at linebacker and cornerback Donnell Woolford finished with 10 hits.

Georgia Tech

September 27, 1986 at Atlanta, GA

For only the third time in the 17 seasons in which Clemson has had to play Georgia and Georgia Tech on the road, the Tigers swept the two clubs. Before a sellout crowd of 46,062 at Georgia Tech's Grant Field and its third straight television audience, Clemson snapped a two-game losing streak to the Yellow Jackets with a convincing 27-3 win. Playing ball-control offense, the Tiger offense, defense, and special teams played near flawless ball in dominating Tech. Clemson had the ball 21 minutes and 58 seconds longer than the Yellow Jackets. Coach Danny Ford upped his "no letdown" record to 11-1 (games played the week after a Ford-coached squad has tied or defeated a top 20 team).

Terrance Roulhac set the tone for the game as he returned the opening kickoff 81 yards to Tech's 19, and five plays later the Tigers were on the scoreboard. Whereas the tailbacks stole the show at Georgia, Clemson's sophomore fullbacks, Tracy Johnson and Chris Lancaster, combined for 118 yards and three scores at Tech. Johnson gave Clemson 14 points in the first half on a pair of one-yard scores, David Treadwell added field goals in the middle two quarters, and Lancaster tallied the final score in the fourth on a 10-yard scamper, his first career score.

Bandit end Terence Mack paced the defense for the second time in three games with 11 stops in just 37 possible tackle plays. Walk-on punter Bill Spiers, also a starting shortstop for the Tiger baseball team, nailed a pair of coffin corner punts and posted a 41-yard average. Rusty Seyle's kickoffs kept Tech inside the 20 five times, and Roulhac's 120 return yardage set up a pair of scores and vaulted him into the number-three spot in the nation in that category.

The Citadel

October 4, 1986 at Clemson, SC

Gene Beasley's late interception saved the shutout.

The Citadel gameplan obviously was to utilize quarterback Kip Allen's tremendous passing ability as he passed more times (57) than anyone has ever thrown against a Clemson team. But, the Tiger defense responded by helping Clemson to its first shutout victory, 24-0, in 25 games and 20th in 34 meetings with The Citadel. The Bulldog victory gave the Tigers a 3-1 overall skein and they cracked the Associated Press top 20 poll for the first time since Nov. 12, 1984.

The Tiger defense limited the Bulldogs to 225 yards, a paltry 28 on the ground, and just 10 first downs. It was the second consecutive contest in which the Clemson defense had not allowed a touchdown to be scored and brought the overall touchdown-less total to nine straight quarters. Allen made good on 24 of his 57 tosses, which was the sixth best completion total ever against Clemson. However, Allen's nemesis on the day was strong safety Gene Beasley, who made eight tackles, broke up two passes and intercepted Allen twice. Beasley's tremendous showing garnered him the ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week honors.

For the second straight outing Clemson scored on its very first possession, an 11-play, 80-yard drive capped by a 20-yard run by Terrence Flagler. He had his finest career outing to date, gaining 177 yards on 17 carries and two scores. Clemson got tremendous effort from its youngest line in 41 years, as the team broke the 200-yard rushing mark for the 12th consecutive game. As a result of Clemson's 368 rushing yards, the Tigers moved from 12th to fifth in the nation in rushing defense.

Virginia

October 11, 1986 at Charlottesville, VA

Clemson's 31-17 victory at Virginia kept alive the nation's longest active win streak for one team over another in Division I at 26 in a row. As a result of Clemson's fourth consecutive triumph, the Tigers moved three notches to 17th in the AP's top 20.

Just as in the previous two outings, the Tigers scored on their opening possession as David Treadwell successfully booted a 19-yard field goal. After taking a 10-3 halftime advantage the Tigers added two quick scores in the third quarter to take control. Fullback Chris Lancaster picked up his third touchdown of the season, and the third Tiger score was set up by Donnell Woolford's interception of a Scott Secules pass at the UVA 32.

UVA's defense yielded 397 yards in total offense, with all but 12 coming on the ground. Offensive guard John Phillips and company provided ample running room for Terrence Flagler to break his week-old personal rushing best of 177 yards by gaining 210 against the Cavs. Phillips was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week for his outing, a Clemson record 17 knockdown blocks and a grade of 86 percent.

For the second week in a row Clemson's defense faced a barrage of passes, 30 of 49 Secules attempts that accounted for 298 yards of UVA's 384 total output. Cornerback Delton Hall turned in another sterling performance as he partially blocked a punt, had six hits, two PBUs, and snared his second interception of the year. This outing earned him ACC Player-of-the-Week for the second time this season.

Duke

October 18, 1986 at Clemson, SC

Not only did the 81,320 fans on hand for Clemson's Homecoming victory over Duke witness a tremendous defensive performance by the Tigers, but the capacity crowd also watched tailback Kenny Flowers become Clemson's all-time leading rusher. The Tigers' fifth victory in a row left them 5-1 overall and 3-0 in the league and helped Clemson claim 16th place in the AP rankings.

For the third consecutive outing Clemson's defense withstood a potent aerial attack, yielding 26 completions on 47 attempts, but did not allow a passing or rushing touchdown for the third time in the last four games. In fact, the Tiger defense had 14 tackles for loss, one off the school record, and sacked Duke quarterbacks five times.

Junior defensive tackle Michael Dean Perry led the sack parade with two and had three hits for a loss. And later he would be named ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week. For the third time this season, Bandit End Terence Mack topped Clemson in tackles with nine. Duke managed just 16 yards rushing against Mack and company, marking the fifth time in six contests the Clemson defense held an opponent to less than 100 yards on the ground. Delton Hall stung the Devils for a 67-yard interception return for a touchdown that killed a Duke drive late in the first half and put Clemson ahead 21-3.

Aside from Flowers' record-setting day, which saw him net 41 yards on 10 rushes, tailback Terrence Flagler surpassed the century mark for the third straight week and helped the team to a record 14th straight 200-yard rushing effort.

N.C. State

October 25, 1986 at Raleigh, NC

Playing before a television audience for the fourth time, the 16th ranked Tigers' five-game win streak was halted by 20th-ranked N.C. State 27-3 in the annual Textile Bowl at Carter-Finley Stadium. The setback dropped Clemson to 5-2 overall and 3-1 in the ACC. The Wolfpack also terminated a five-game win streak in the series that began in Clemson's 1981 national championship season. It was Clemson's most lopsided defeat since a 34-7 defeat to Maryland in 1980. The loss was the second worst defeat for Danny Ford and his sparkling record in October dipped to 27-5 overall and 20-2 over the last 22 outings. And, the Tigers' failure to post a touchdown was only the second time in 85 games that the Tigers had not tallied a six-pointer.

Although the gridders from Tigertown scored on their first possession, a 28-yard David Treadwell field goal, that lead was shortlived as State came right back in the first quarter with a touchdown pass from Erik Kramer to Haywood Jeffires and a 49-yard Mike Cofer field goal. Jeffires later found the end zone on a 62-yard reverse, which was the first rushing touchdown given up by Clemson in 20 quarters.

N.C. State did something that no other opponent had been able to do in the Tigers' previous 14 encounters, hold Clemson to under 200 yards rushing. The Tiger ground attack managed just 141 yards as Terrence Flagler led with 46 yards and Kenny Flowers had 43. The State defense kept the pressure on Tiger quarterbacks Rodney Williams and Randy Anderson all day as they managed a combined 6 of 24 on passes with one interception and no scores.

Oddly enough for the second time this season three Tiger defenders posted double digit tackle totals. Reserve linebacker Duane Walker had his career best outing by leading the Tigers with 12 tackles. Middle guard Tony Stephens was credited with 11 hits and Norman Haynes recorded his third double figure performance, the first Clemson tackler to do so this season.

Wake Forest

November 1, 1986 at Winston-Salem, NC

With Terrence Flagler setting a Clemson single-game all-purpose rushing record with 274 yards, the Tigers raised their mark to 6-2 overall and 4-1 in the ACC with a 28-20 victory over the Wake Forest Demon Deacons. The win was Clemson's 10th in a row over Wake Forest.

Flagler became the first Clemson player since 1950 to tally four scores in a single game. He scored all of the Tigers points, ripping off runs of 88 and 50 yards and he connected twice with quarterback Rodney Williams on scoring receptions of 39 and 21 yards. For the day, Flagler ran for 209 yards, to become the first player in school history to have two 200-yard rushing games in one season, and he caught three passes for 64 yards.

Williams celebrated his 21st birthday in fine style, as he set personal highs in three categories completing 13 of 18 passes for 193 yards and two touchdowns. It was a fine day for receivers as well as five Tigers had at least two receptions apiece.

A Terence Mack-led defense held Wake's powerful offense to 334 total yards, 115 below its average, and for the sixth time in eight weeks the defense kept an opponent under 90 yards rushing. Mack had a team-high eight stops and cornerback James Lott was selected ACC Rookie-of-the-Week for his fine outing, four tackles and one interception. Quarterback Mike Elkins, who came into the contest as the ACC's top passer, had a difficult performance in completing 17 of 47 passes and throwing three interceptions.

North Carolina

November 8, 1986 at Clemson, SC

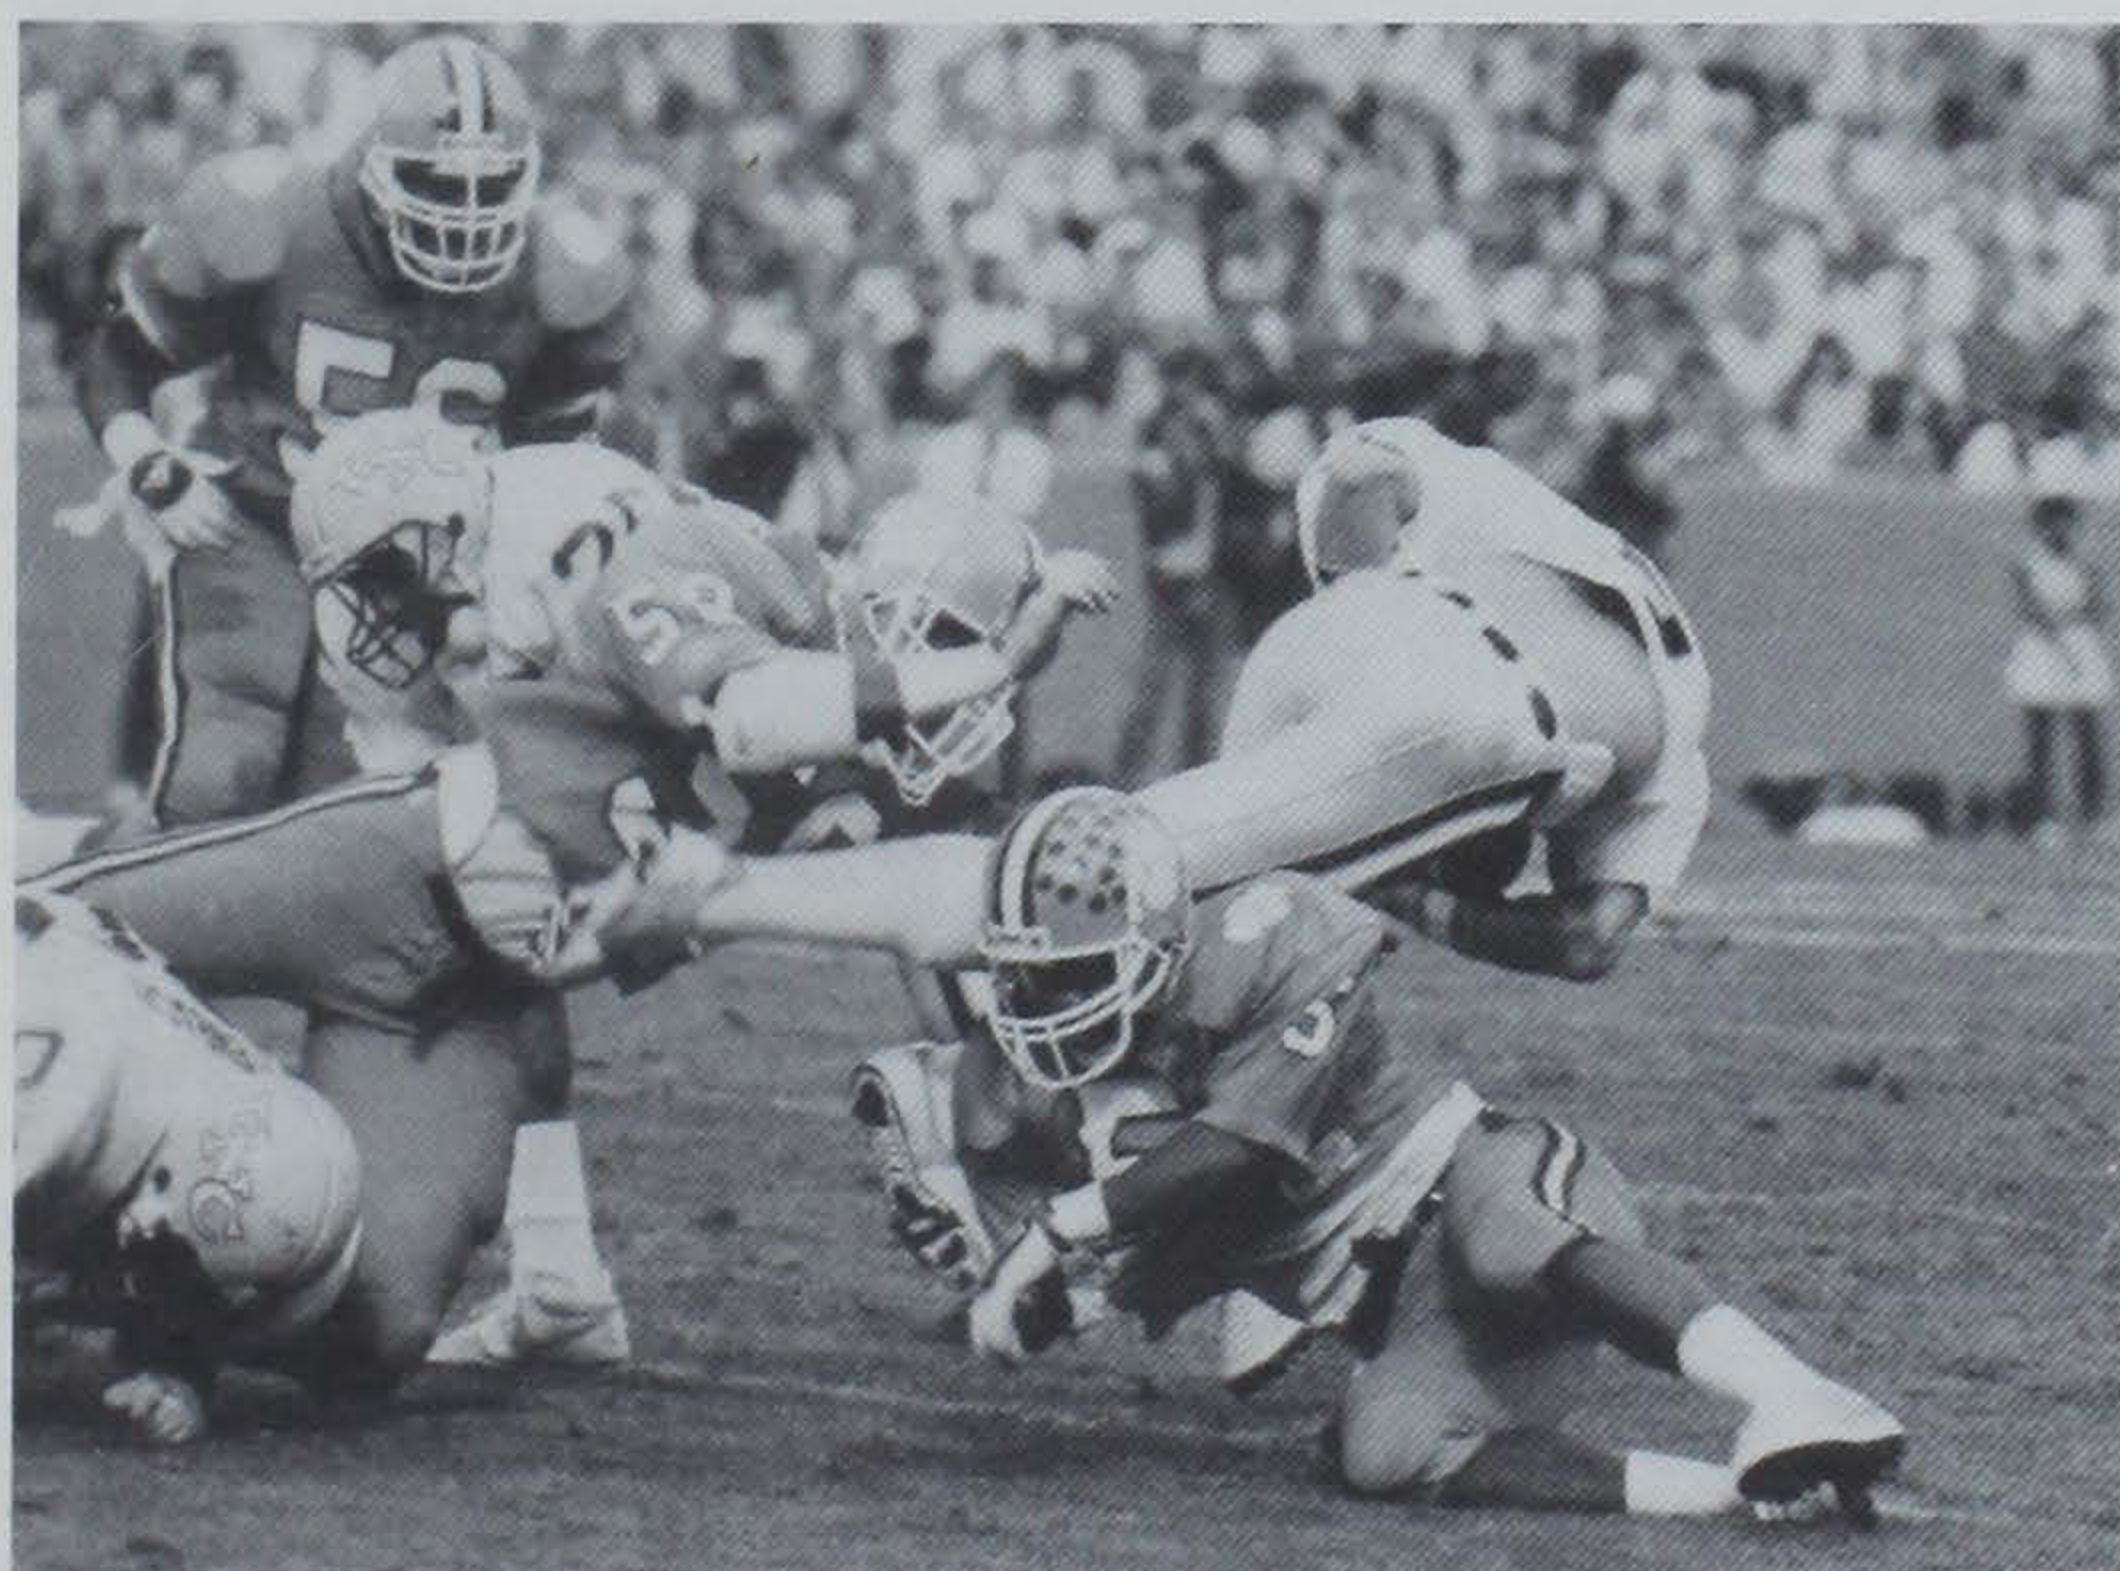

With the Tigers giving their finest all-around performance of the year, according to coach Danny Ford, Clemson pounced on North Carolina 38-10 to move to 5-1 in the league and secure at least a share of the 1986 ACC crown. Clad in their orange pants, Clemson ran its record to 11-1 when wearing the attire. For the only time this season, and ninth game under Coach Ford, Clemson did not have a turnover.

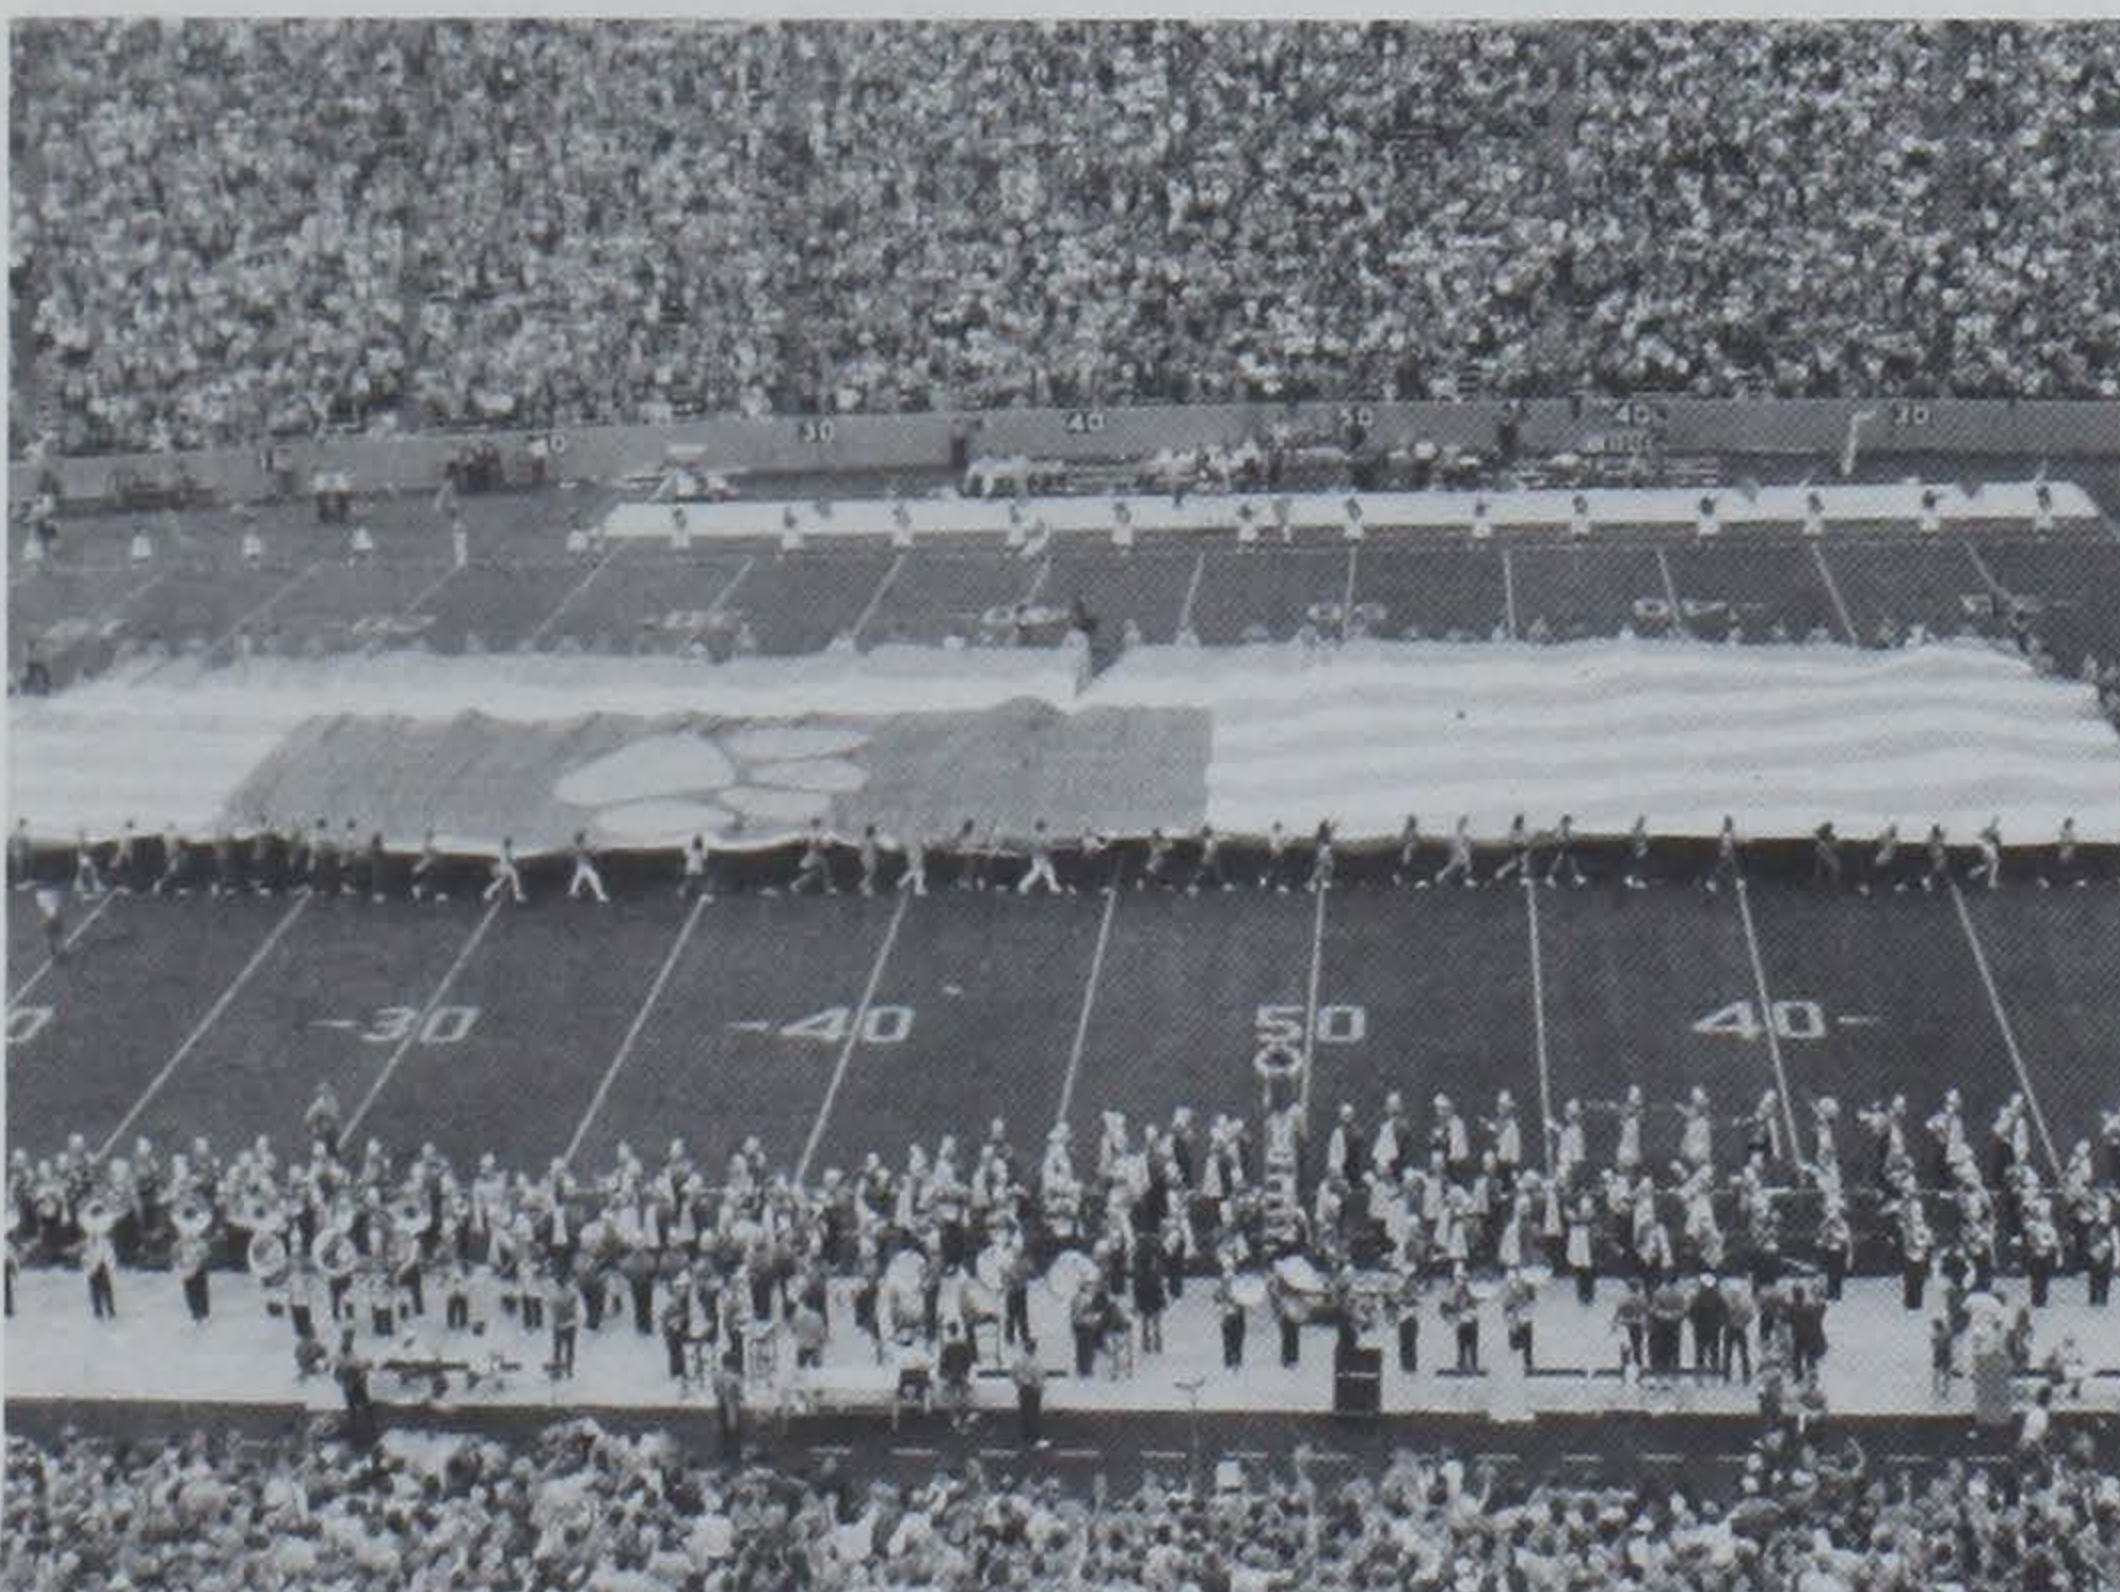

For the second straight week Clemson quarterback Rodney Williams was outstanding in directing a near flawless execution of the option. He was 9-12 for 108 yards in the passing department and had 76 yards rushing and one score, a performance which led to his selection as ACC Offensive Back-of-the-Week.

And, for the sixth straight week, the Clemson offensive front did not allow a defender to record a sack. Also, with John Phillips starting his 17th game at offensive guard, Clemson racked up its 16th 200-yard rushing game. The fine play up front enabled Terrence Flagler to rack up 114 yards rushing and become just the fifth back in history to go over 1,000 yards in a single season.

All-ACC tight end Jim Riggs had his best outing of the year as he hauled in three receptions for 37 yards, had a 90 percent blocking grade and recorded nine knockdown blocks. Wide receiver twins Terrance Roulhac and Ray Williams became the first receivers in the same class in Clemson history to combine for over 5,000 yards of all-purpose rushing. Williams had 28 yards in receiving against the Heels to give the pair a combined 5,002 yards.

Defensive standouts for the Tigers included strong safety Gene Beasley with a team-high 10 tackles and a fumble recovery, a well as cornerback Delton Hall, who came up with his fourth interception on the year. Hall became just the fifth player in Clemson history to have over 100 yards in interception returns (121 total) as his theft set up a fourth-quarter score by Kenny Flowers.

Maryland

November 15, 1986 at Baltimore, MD

With two seconds remaining David Treadwell kicked a 21-yard field goal to tie Maryland 17-17 and Clemson had its first outright ACC Championship since 1982 and ninth overall. Trailing 17-14 and starting from their own eight-yard line with 7:01 left to play, the Tigers marched to the Maryland two but Rodney Williams' third-down pass with 10 seconds left was too low for Terrance Roulhac to handle so the Tigers went with Treadwell's leg.

While Terrence Flagler was held to his lowest rushing output on the year (32), he nevertheless became the 10th Tiger runner in history to go over the 2,000-yard mark in a career. The Tigers did have five runners gain 28 yards or more against the Terps and ended up with 246 yards rushing, marking the 17th time in the last 18 games that Clemson has gained 200 yards on the ground. Also, both touchdowns came by way of the run.

Clemson signal caller Rodney Williams had all of his completions to wide receivers or ends, which was only the second time in 10 games this season that a running back had not caught at least one pass. Tight end Jim Riggs had his finest afternoon of the year, catching four passes for 37 yards and receiving a blocking grade of 90 percent with seven knockdown blocks. With this sterling performance Riggs became the eighth Clemson player this season to be named an ACC Player-of-the-Week.

South Carolina

November 22, 1986 at Clemson, SC

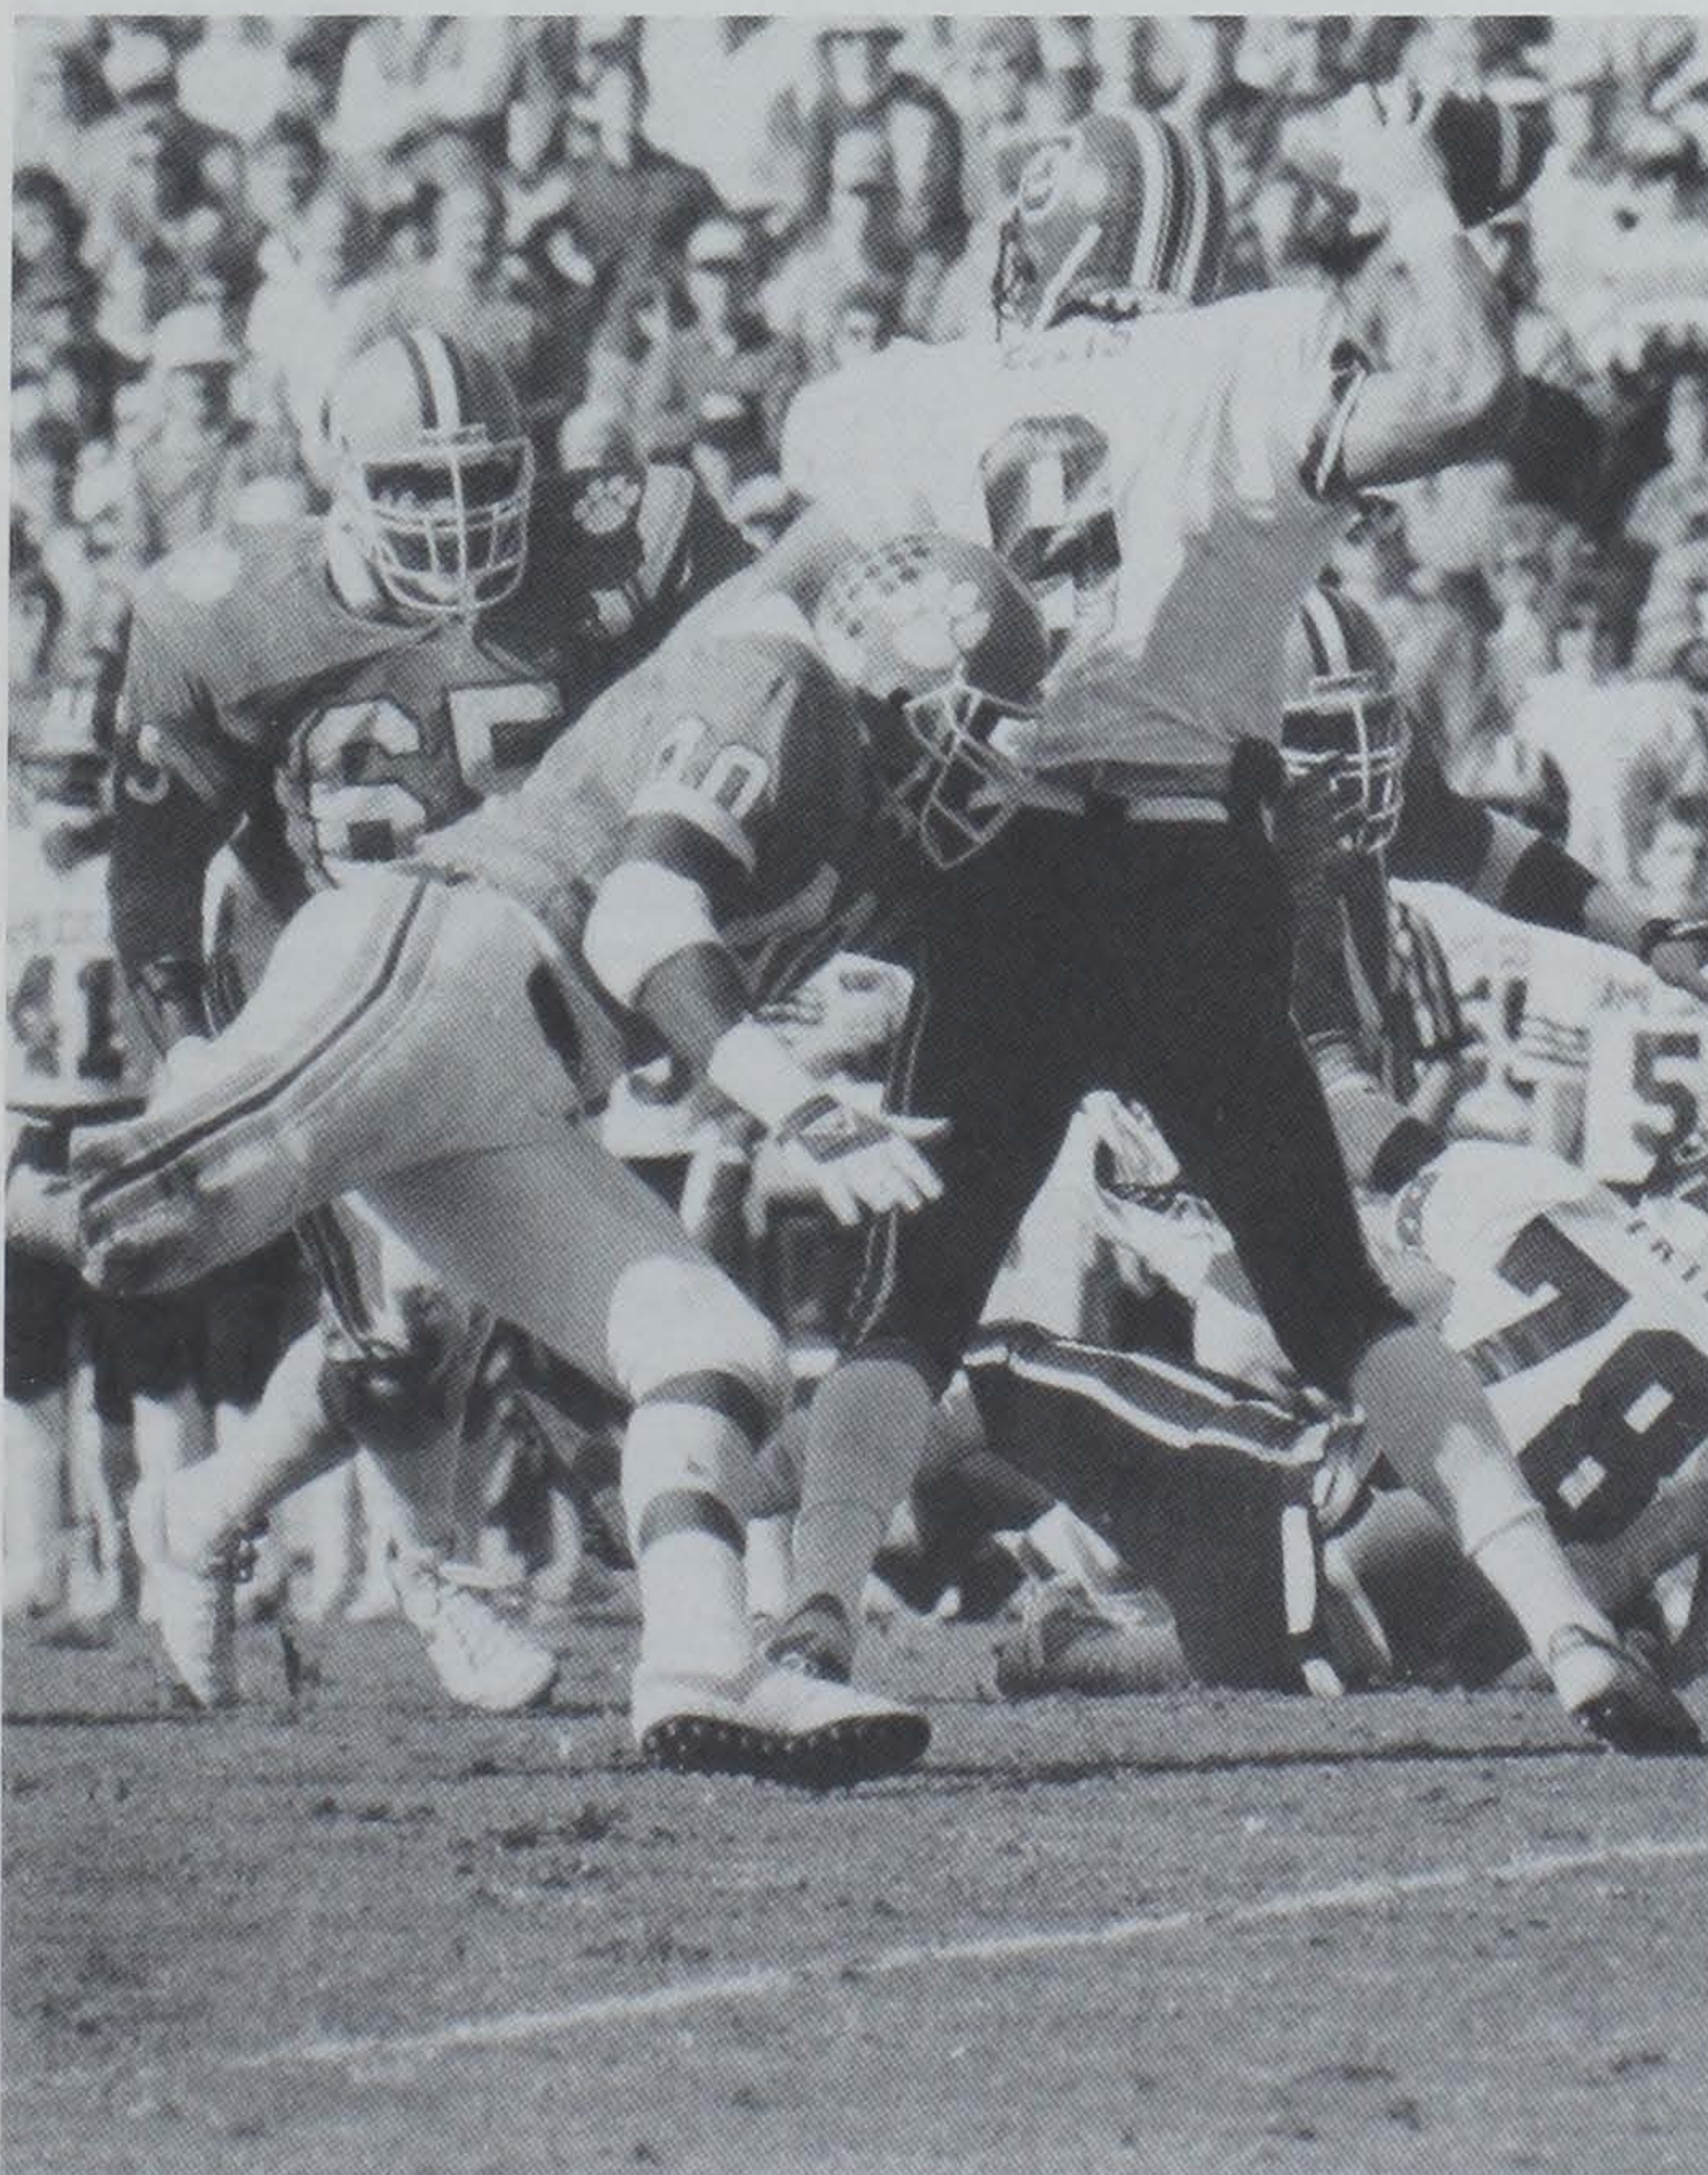

For the second week in a row Clemson battled an opponent to a tie, a 21-21 deadlock with South Carolina. Immediately following the game the 7-2-2 Tigers accepted a bid to play Stanford Dec. 27 in the Gator Bowl. In front of a Clemson Memorial Stadium record crowd of 82,500, the Gamecocks and Tigers ended in a tie for the first time in the series since 1950. It also marked the first time since 1919 that a Clemson team had posted ties in consecutive games.

While David Treadwell's leg enabled Clemson to avoid a loss, South Carolina's Scott Hagler missed a 41-yard field goal with 25 seconds left that would have given Carolina the victory. All but three of the games' 42 points were scored in the first half as both teams did what they do best, with the Gamecocks utilizing their passing game and the Tigers relying on the run.

Clemson rushing accounted for 237 of its 336 total yards, while South Carolina passed for 275 of its 318-yard total. Kenny Flowers led the Tigers with 70 yards on 19 carries. Despite a 6-19 passing day, Clemson quarterback Rodney Williams did find receiver Terrance Roulhac on a 35-yard scoring strike, for his fourth TD pass of the season, the first to a wide receiver.

Todd Ellis, who set NCAA freshman passing records one week earlier, completed 17 of 32 passes for 275 yards and one score. Clemson's outstanding defense maintained its hold as the ACC's leader in rushing defense and scoring defense, as well as remained ranked in the top 20 in both categories following the USC outing.

Clemson's defense shut out South Carolina in the second half.

Clemson Memorial Stadium

Clemson does not play Georgia in Sanford Stadium again until 1991.

Just before Jess Neely left for Rice University, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need."

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing — there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron moved on to be a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the building of the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete was being poured. The story claims the tobacco is still there.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid the sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through. I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more weeks' pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through.

"After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 and we played at 2:00." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West endzone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled — the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to approximately 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000, or $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillian. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillian said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later, the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Athletic Director Bobby Robinson says that Memorial Stadium has many features which make it a top facility. "One thing that makes it so good is the number of sideline seats," he says.

"We don't think there is a bad seat in the house.

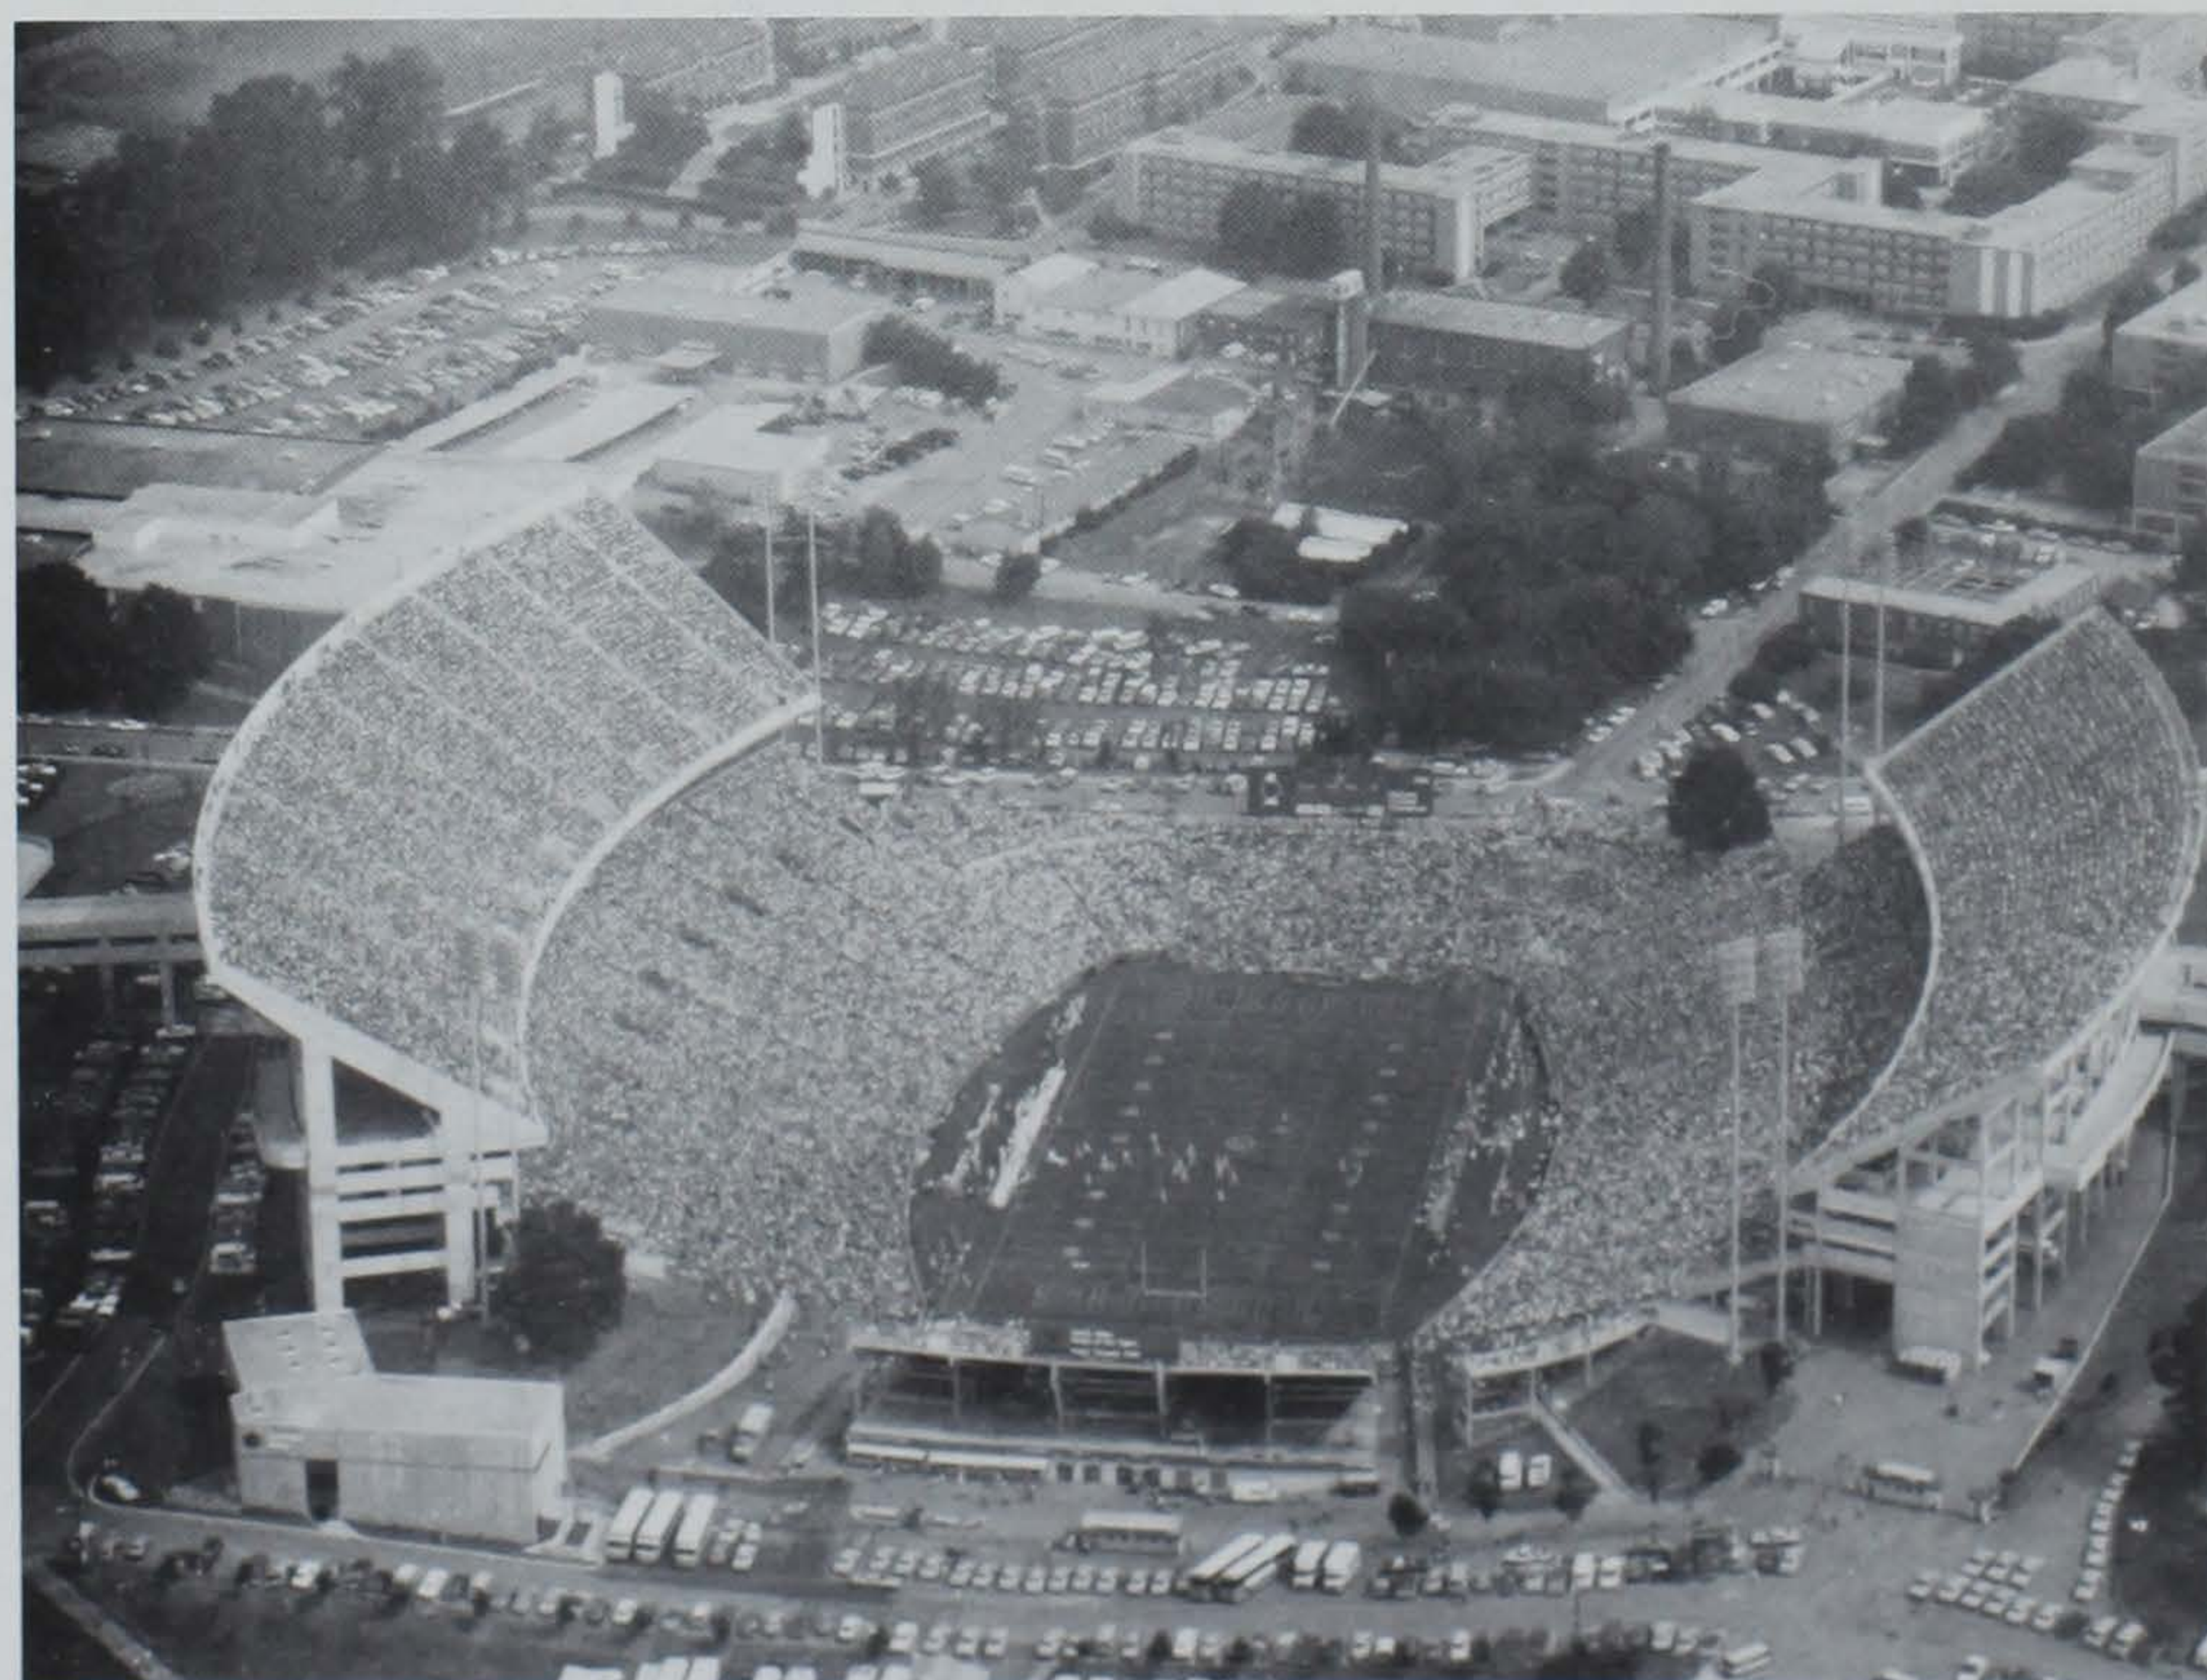

"We also have outstanding dressing rooms, press facilities, and ample parking nearby. A unique feature of the stadium is the number of private boxes."

Rick Brewer, an official in the University athletic ticket office says that despite the stadium's large size, there are still season ticket problems. "When the second upper deck was built, we thought it would take care of everything," he said. "To our dismay, it hasn't. We've filled the upper decks and have moved season ticket holders into the endzone, which are not permanent seats."

Despite the apparent ticket crunch, Robinson says there are no immediate plans to further expand the stadium. "Before we expand we'll have to show over an extended length of time — like five to seven years — that we can sell out what we have now," he said. "We don't want supply to greatly exceed demand. Even though it's hard to get tickets now, we can still get people in our stadium. The ticket means more if it's harder to get."

But, if Memorial Stadium is expanded again and capacity is pushed closer to 100,000, there will be room for the construction over the west stands, enclosing that end like a horseshoe.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Tiger Records

Perry Tuttle and Jerry Gaillard celebrate the 1981 National Championship.

William Perry

William Perry set the ACC sack record for a career with 25 between 1981-84.

By Tim Bourret

America became totally enamored with former Clemson player William Perry in 1985. But, to Clemson fans, he has been a legendary figure for many years.

* * * * *

The most often quoted story about William Perry concerns his infamous lunch visit to McDonald's with Perry Tuttle in 1981. Over time, the magic of the media and inflation, writers have said he spent $55 at the fast-food chain in Clemson in one sitting. Although I was not there when the bill was paid, I was in the SID office when Tuttle related the story to a writer. According to Tuttle, he offered to treat William one afternoon and the total bill for the two of them was $22, a sizeable total that would be normal for an establishment that includes "atmosphere" in the tariff.

Now, let's be serious, Chicago media, $55 for one person at one meal? Not even "The Fridge" could put down that many quarterpounders.

* * * * *

Yes, William Perry can dunk a basketball, and seemingly regardless of his weight. When he came to Clemson as a freshman he enjoyed posting up low in pickup games in Fike Fieldhouse. But those were the days when he weighed only 295. Prior to his senior year he reported about 350. ("Why come to camp in shape, that's what camp is for, to get in shape," he once said). A photographer from a national magazine was sent up to take pictures of the Fridge dunking a few. A day before the photographer appeared Perry assured me he could still do it, even though I had seen on the chart outside the weightroom he was still over 350. Sure enough he lived up to his word, and dunked until the photographer could shoot no more.

* * * * *

William Perry's weight has always been a much discussed subject. In Clemson press guides he was listed at 285 as a freshman, 310 as a sophomore, 320 as a junior and 305 as a senior. The spring before his senior year (during the pro scout season) Perry got down to 310 and assured me he would be 305 for the start of the season. He was on a strict diet and was down to 305 by the end of spring practice. But, he played at 335 most of his senior year.

As far as his younger days are concerned, Perry was 13 pounds at birth, 220 pounds by the seventh grade, 235 in the eighth grade, 265 as a junior in high school and 290 as a senior in high school.

* * * * *

While one might think Perry would get sick now and then, or pull a muscle on occasion, he missed only one day of practice and never missed a game at Clemson. The same held true for his high school career, and in 1985-86 with the Bears. He played in 45 straight games for Clemson and has not missed a game for any reason in the last 10 years.

Clemson trainer Fred Hoover says he missed only one practice due to a knee strain in his sophomore year. He went to the workout in a yellow jersey, but that is the only day of practice he missed in four years at Clemson. Perry's mother also reports that he went four straight years in grade school with a perfect attendance record.

* * * * *

Our favorite William Perry play took place in a victory over Wake Forest in 1984. In the second quarter Wake Forest was forced to punt and in an attempt to catch Clemson off guard, the Deacons lined up in a hurry. Perry was not on the punt return team, but he could not get off the field fast enough so he lined up to block the punt, the only time in his career he was on the punt return team.

Perry overpowered the opposing center and ran into the upback so hard he shoved him into orbit and right into the Wake Forest punter, Harry Newsome. Newsome punted the ball off his upback's back and Clemson recovered 36 yards from the original line of scrimmage. It is the only time in history a Clemson player has blocked a punt with an opposing player.

* * * * *

William Perry grew so quickly his senior year of high school that his thighs increased from 31 inches to 33. By the end of the season his coach had to take two pairs of football pants to a seamstress who sewed them together to create a pair of pants Perry could fit in.

* * * * *

The William Perry Growth Poster was probably the most interesting and certainly the largest project the Clemson SID office has undertaken. The idea actually came from Jeff Pratt, a printer for Sports Graphics in Chicago, in the spring of 1984. How ironic that Perry would end up with the Bears.

Pratt had printed full length posters for athletes before and they were used as giveaways at pro sporting events, but never had one been used to promote an athlete.

The athletic department ordered 4,000 posters, 2,000 to send out to media and high schools in Clemson's recruiting area, and 2,000 to sell to the general public. The project cost a little over 10,000 dollars and at a sales price of $5 each the project could pay for itself.

The interest in the poster was mind-boggling. The athletic department sold all 2,000 posters in 30 hours and had the money needed to pay for the project before a bill had arrived.

* * * * *

Perry's nickname, "The Refrigerator," all started on an elevator in Mauldin Hall on the Clemson campus in September of 1981. The elevator was crowded as it landed on the second floor. Ray Brown, an ebullient defensive tackle, wanted to get on, but faced with Perry in the front of the elevator he could not see any room for his 6-3, 250-pound frame.

Brown said, "William, you take up almost the entire elevator. I'm going to call you G.E. from now on because you are as big as refrigerator." Later in the week Brown related the story to Clemson SID office student assistant Jeff Rhodes, who in turn mentioned it to Clemson SID Bob Bradley. Bradley first used the story in an October 1 release prior to the Kentucky game and he referred to him as William "G.E." Perry.

The rest is history.

Honor Roll

Clemson appeared on six different networks in six straight games in one stretch of the early eighties.

(We have made an effort to tabulate a list of Clemson athletes who have made All-American, All-Southern Conference, All-South, All-South Atlantic, All-Atlantic Coast Conference, and any other honor of sectional or national importance. In our research the first mention of an All-Southern Conference team was made in 1902. Any additions or corrections to the below-listed names will be appreciated. All listings are first team unless otherwise designated.)

History of Tiger Football

Clemson has had back-to-back games without a turnover just once in the last 46 years.

Sept. 30, 1896 —A small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and discussed the advisability of organizing a football association and to devise some means of getting a coach. The organization known as the Clemson College Football Association was perfected and the following officers elected: President F.G. Tompkins, Secretary and Treasurer C.W. Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, Temporary Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

October 5, 1896 —Practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50x200 foot field in front of the college.

October 28, 1896 —Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman, 14-6, at Greenville, SC. This was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full sized football gridiron. Charlie Gentry scored Clemson's first touchdown.

November 10, 1897 —Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time and won the school's second state championship.

October 20, 1898 —The Tigers played their first home game against Bingham. Clemson won 55-0, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). R.T.V. Bowman, the man for whom the field at Clemson is named, was an assistant coach at that time with Clemson and helped referee the game.

November 10, 1899 —The football association stood on a very weak financial basis. The organization could not even afford to hire a coach. W.M. Riggs agreed to coach the Tigers for free.

November 18, 1899 —Clemson defeated N.C. State, 24-0. The game was called early because many of the State men were injured and they requested that the game be called.

December 8, 1899 —John Heisman was hired as head coach.

October 22, 1900 —The Tigers defeated Wofford, 21-0. Actually, Clemson scored many more points, but a pre-game agreement between the teams stated that every point Clemson scored after the first four touchdowns would not count.

November 29, 1900 —Clemson's 35-0 win over Alabama allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of the games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0.

October 5, 1901 —Clemson opened the season with a 122-0 win over Guilford. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes, while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

October 30, 1902 —Col. Charles S. Roller Jr., who was football coach of Furman was the only referee for the Clemson-USC game. Bronco Armstrong, a famous Yale player and official, was to be the umpire but was in a railroad wreck on the way down and it was impossible for him to get to the game in time. Not a single penalty was called in the game. A riot between Clemson and USC fans broke out the night after the game. Officials at both colleges called off the football series between the two schools. Clemson and USC did not meet again in football until 1909.

November 27, 1902 —Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown.

October 17, 1903 —Clemson defeated Georgia Tech, 73-0. Clemson rushed the ball 35 times for 450 yards, while Tech ran the ball 25 times and collected 18 yards.

November 26, 1903 —One day after Tech's deadline for its offer had expired, Heisman wired Georgia Tech's president Lyman Hall, that he would accept the institute's offer of $2,250 per year plus 30 percent of net receipts to coach its athletic teams.

November 11, 1905 —The Clemson-Auburn game was called on account of darkness. Clemson won, 6-0.

November 29, 1906 —Clemson's first forward pass occurred in a 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. Powell Lykes dropped back to kick, but instead made a "pretty" forward pass of 30 yards to George Warren.

November 4-9, 1907 —Clemson played three games within a week's time. Clemson lost to Auburn 12-0 on November 4, and lost to Georgia in Augusta, GA on November 7. The Tigers barely made it back in time to play Davidson at Clemson on November 9, and lost 10-6.

April 1, 1908 —Tiger football hopes of the 1908 season were shattered on this day by not what happened in spring practice, but what 300 students did as a college prank on April Fool's Day. The cadets were expelled for removing a Civil War cannon from the town square of Pendleton, four miles down the road from campus, bringing the cannon back to Clemson. Many of the football stars, as well as many future star players, were among those who were expelled.

October 13, 1917 —Clemson downed Furman 38-0, as the Tigers' Stumpy Banks scored five touchdowns.

Oct. 4, 1926 —Bud Saunders, Clemson head football coach, resigned in the middle of the season. Cul Richards and Frank Padgett were put in charge of the squad.

October 15, 1926 —Bob Williams was named advisory coach.

December 27, 1926 —Josh Cody was named head football coach at Clemson.

September 19, 1928 —Clemson began this season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time, with black composition cloth strips on the front with purple numbers.

September 20, 1929 —Clemson announced the completion of its first press box which will accommodate about 30 writers. The glass enclosed box was completed with heaters and electric fans for ventilation.

October 17, 1930 —Maxcey Welch scored five touchdowns (all rushing) in Clemson's 75-0 win over Newberry.

March 13, 1930 —Josh Cody signed a three-year contract to stay at Clemson.

November 26, 1930 —Josh Cody resigned as head football coach.

January 17, 1931 —Jess Neely was named head football coach at Clemson.

October 14, 1933 —Clemson played at George Washington in a 0-0 tie. This was the first time Clemson had ever played under the lights. Fans witnessed the game on a grid graph in Tillman Hall at the Clemson chapel. A grid graph was an electrical machine that was marked off like a football field. Lights were so arranged on the graph that every possible play was flashed on the board. The lineups of both teams were written on the sides and the man carrying the ball on each play had a light flashed by his name. Another light representing the runner moved along the board in the same direction and for the same distance as the runner.

August 20, 1934 —IPTAY was founded.

November 19, 1935 —First night time practice. Two powerful floodlights were installed on one of Clemson's practice fields enabling the Tigers to get in more practice time.

September 23, 1939 —Banks McFadden, ran 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 18-0 win over Presbyterian.

November 13, 1939 —Clemson was ranked in the Associated Press poll for the first time. Clemson claimed the number-16 spot in the poll.

December 8, 1939 —Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Cotton Bowl.

January 1, 1940 —In Clemson's first bowl appearance, it defeated Boston College 6-3. Charlie Timmons scored the game's lone touchdown from two yards out.

January 10, 1940 —Jess Neely resigned as athletic director and football coach to accept the head football coaching job at Rice University. Neely inherited a $47,000 deficit when he arrived in 1931 and earned Clemson $100,000 during his tenure and left Clemson with $57,000 in the treasury. His overall record at Clemson was 43-35-7.

January 11, 1940 —Frank Howard was named head football coach.

May 30, 1940 —Banks McFadden was named Nation's Most Versatile Athlete.

July 25, 1940 —Banks McFadden accepted a bid to play in the College All-Star game against the Green Bay Packers on August 29.

September 1, 1940 —Banks McFadden signed a one-year contract to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team.

September 2, 1940 —Frank Howard opened his first fall practice.

September 21, 1940 —In Frank Howard's first game as head coach, Clemson scored on the first play as George Floyd reversed around left end and raced across untouched for a Clemson touchdown.

November 23, 1940 —Clemson won the Southern Conference football title with a 13-7 victory over Furman.

October 6, 1941 —Work began on Memorial Stadium. The work of cleaning, digging and leveling the site as well as cutting large trees and clearing underbrush was supervised by Frank Howard. A pipe was also installed for drainage under the field.

October 12, 1941 —Clemson defeated Boston College at Fenway Park.

November 15, 1941 —Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 29-0, in the last game at Riggs Field.

September 19, 1942 —Clemson ran down the hill for the first time. Butch Butler gained 192 yards, as the Tigers opened the new stadium in front of 5,500 with a 32-13 win over P.C. High school students were admitted for 25 cents while servicemen were allowed in for 50 cents.

October 22, 1942 —Clemson defeated South Carolina, 18-6. Autographed balls were auctioned off at the game. For a minimum of $1,000, a fan could bid on one of the balls. The fan's money would then be used to buy war bonds.

October 19, 1944 —First rain at a Clemson-USC game since 1896.

September 22, 1945 —Fourteen Clemson backs netted 516 yards in a 76-0 win over P.C. Bobby Gage led the Tigers with 144 yards.

September 23, 1947 —Clemson flew to Boston College on an Eastern Airline DC-4. This marked the first time that a state football team had flown to a football game.

November 11, 1948 —Clemson began a 15-game winning streak, the longest in school history, with a win over Furman, 35-7.

November 22, 1947 —Bobby Gage ran for 141 yards and passed for 233 as he led Clemson to a 34-18 win over Auburn. Gage threw four touchdown passes and had 374 yards total offense to his credit, both still Clemson records.

September 25, 1948 —Clemson defeated P.C. 53-0 in the first night game at Clemson.

November 27, 1948 —Clemson accepted bid to play in the Gator Bowl.

January 1, 1949 —The Tigers won the Gator Bowl by a 24-23 score over Missouri. Jack Miller's 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter proved to be the winning margin.

November 28, 1950 —Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl.

January 1, 1951 —Clemson appeared in the Orange Bowl for the first time and squeaked out a 15-14 win over Miami. Sterling Smith's tackle of Frank Smith in the end zone gave Clemson a safety with under six minutes left in the game and gave the Tigers the victory.

November 27, 1951 —Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl.

May 8, 1953 —Clemson joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

June 22, 1956 —Joel Wells was the cover boy of the 1956 Official NCAA Football Guide. The Guide is compiled by the NCAA and contains data on all major college teams in the nation.

November 16, 1956 —Vice President Richard Nixon was in attendance at the Clemson-Miami football game on this date. Surrounded by security from various agencies, a loud explosion sounded and alarmed the body guard along with the Vice President. To everyone's relief, it was discovered that it was just the cannon fired off by a Clemson cheerleader when Clemson kicked off. The eighth-ranked Hurricanes defeated the Tigers 21-0 in the game played at Miami, FL.

December 1, 1956 —Clemson clinched an Orange Bowl Berth with a 28-7 win over Furman at Clemson.

March 25, 1957 —It was announced today that Clemson and South Carolina would play at Clemson on November 12, 1960 ending the 61-year-old state classic Big Thursday.

September 20, 1958 —Clemson ran down the hill on a rug for the first time. The rug was officially given to Clemson on this date before the Clemson-Virginia game by W.W. Pate, Sr., president of Wunda Weave Company. It measured 104 feet long and was 13 feet wide. Also at this game Clemson's recent expansion of Memorial Stadium was used for the first time. Memorial stadium was expanded from 20,000 to 38,000 seats.

The Legendary Frank Howard

Only Frank Howard (295) has coached more games at Clemson than Danny Ford (93).

An era ended at Clemson University June 30, 1974, when Frank Howard officially retired from the payroll. But instead of crawling back in his shell as some do at this stage, Howard sluffed off the retirement bit and still comes to his office regularly in the Jervy Athletic Center answering a pretty good stack of mail which arrives daily, or accepting another speaking engagement, or lining up some advertisers for the Kickoff Publishing Company.

Howard retired from coaching December 10, 1969, after 39 years on the Clemson coaching staff, 30 of which were as head coach. He was also athletic director during this time and he kept this position until February 4, 1971, when he was named assistant to the vice president at the university, the post he held when the mandatory retirement age of 65 rolled around.

Shortly after his retirement the Clemson Board of Trustees named the playing surface of Memorial Stadium as "Frank Howard Field" in honor of his long service to the university. It was only the third time that a building or installation had been named by the trustees for a living person.

In the last decade Howard has been inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and the Clemson Hall of Fame (charter member in both), as well as the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame and the State of Alabama Hall of Fame.

Howard was honored again in December, 1981, when he was inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor, along with former Alabama coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, and Tommy McDonald former Oklahoma star.

Howard stepped onto the rolling hills of Clemson in 1931 fresh from the varsity football ranks at the University of Alabama where he was a first stringer on Wallace Wade's 1930 team which drubbed Washington State, 24-0 in the 1931 Rose Bowl. Howard was known as the "Little Giant" of the Tide's "Herd of Red Elephants."

The bald veteran came to his first coaching post under Jess Neely as a line tutor. "At least that was my title," Howard recalls. "Actually, I also coached track, was ticket manager, recruited players and had charge of football equipment. In my spare time I cut grass, lined tennis courts and operated the canteen while the regular man was out to lunch."

Howard was not only track coach from 1931-39, but served as baseball coach in 1943 and his 12-3 record that year is still the best percentage for a season in Clemson history.

Howard held the line coaching post until Neely went to Rice University as head coach in 1940. When the Clemson Athletic Council met to name a successor to Neely, Prof. Sam Rhodes, a council member, nominated Howard to be the new head coach. Howard, standing in the back of the room listening to the discussion, said: "I second the nomination." He got the job and never left. Altogether, he served Clemson 43 years.

When he retired as head coach following the 1969 season, he was the nation's dean of coaches, having been a head football coach at a major institution longer than anyone else in the United States. When he retired, he was one of five active coaches with 150 or more victories.

While line coach in 1939, the Tigers' record (8-1) was good enough to merit a trip to Dallas where Clemson met undefeated Boston College under the late Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The 1948 mark of 10-0 carried Clemson to the 1949 Gator Bowl and two years later, a 9-0-1 record sent the Tigers to Miami's Orange Bowl (1951). The Country Gentlemen were champions on their first three bowl ventures. Boston College fell, 6-3, Missouri was nipped in the Gator, 24-23 (Howard says this is the best football game he ever witnessed), and Miami felt the Tiger claws, 15-14. The total point spread in these three bowl wins was five points.

The Gator Bowl beckoned the Tigers again in January, 1952, and by being conference champions in 1956, Clemson played in the '57 Orange Bowl classic again. Miami downed Clemson, 14-0 in the second Gator trip and Colorado led Clemson, 20-0, then trailed 21-20, before finally defeating the Tigers, 27-21, in the second Orange Bowl. The Tigers then played in the 1959 Sugar Bowl and held No. 1-ranked Louisiana State to a standstill before losing, 7-0.

The invitation to play in the first annual Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston in December, 1959, was the eighth bowl that Howard had been a part of either as a player, assistant coach or head coach. It was the seventh bowl trip for a Clemson team and the sixth in 12 years. Howard says that Clemson's 23-7 triumph over Texas Christian in the Bluebonnet was the best performance he had ever witnessed by a Clemson team.

The Tigers' victory over TCU was their fourth success in seven post-season appearances. In all seven Clemson was the established underdog.

Howard served on the coaching staff of the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala., in 1941, 1952, 1959, and 1966; was on the East staff of the annual East-West Game in San Francisco, Calif., in December, 1960, and again in December, 1962; and was named coach of the South squad in Miami's 1961 and 1969 North-South game. He coached in the 1970 Hula Bowl, which was his ninth post-season all-star game.

While still in active coaching Howard served as one of the important rules committee members for a period of three years.

A single wing expert for 22 seasons (including nine as line coach), Howard changed to the T-formation and its many variations in 1953. Still another major change in the offense was installed in 1965 with the 'I' and pro-type set. In his 13 seasons as head coach using the single wing, Clemson won 69, lost 47 and tied 7. In 12 years of 'I' teams, the Tigers won 71, lost 47 and tied

Frank Howard coached Clemson to six ACC titles.

Howard received a victory ride after he beat Georgia Tech in Atlanta in 1969.

4. While using the "I" in his last five years of coaching, Clemson recorded a 25-24-1 record.

In his 30 years of coaching Howard won 165, lost 118 and tied 12.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program, Howard also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program, and at the same time, raising all the required scholarship funds. The athletic department was always on a sound financial footing under the guidance of Howard.

The year 1958 was a red letter one for Howard. During the halftime of the Spring Game, Howard, his staff and secretaries were given an appreciation day. Howard received a 1958 car while other staff members were presented gifts. That summer Howard and three members of his staff were given a trip to Europe by the Department of Defense to conduct clinics for the Armed Forces in Germany.

Then came the football season and the Tigers presented Howard an 8-2 season which led to the Sugar Bowl invitation. One of these 1958 wins was the 100th of Howard's coaching career. That came against the late Jim Tatum of North Carolina, a coach whom Howard had never beaten. And the Tigers had to come from behind three times to win, 26-21.

Howard was named Southern Conference coach-of-the-year in 1948. In 1959 he was named Atlantic Coast Conference coach-of-the-year and was accorded the honor again in 1966. His teams won ACC championships five times (1956-58-59-66-67) in the first 15 years of the conference. The Tigers were co-champions in 1965.

Howard was born at Barlow Ben, Ala., (three wagon greasins' from Mobile), March 25, 1909. He spent his early days on the farm playing mostly cow pasture baseball because there were not enough boys around the community to form a football team. Howard says he left Barlow Bend walking barefoot on a barbed wire fence with a wildcat under each arm.

He graduated from Murphy High School in Mobile where he played football, baseball and basketball and served as president of both the junior and senior classes.

After finishing at Murphy, Howard entered the University of Alabama on an academic scholarship provided by the Birmingham News in the fall of 1927, and the 185 pounder played reserve guard his sophomore year. During his junior year he started every game but two, as an ankle injury sidelined him for the two games he missed. Again his senior year he was a regular.

Howard was president of the freshman class at Alabama, was member of Blue Key and president of the "A" Club.

After coming to Clemson he married the former Anna Tribble of Anderson, S.C., August 23, 1933. They are the parents of a daughter Alice (Mrs. Bobby McClure of St. Paul's, N.C.) and a son, Jimmy. The Howards also have three grandchildren.

Jimmy followed in his dad's footsteps as a football player, only at a different position. The son was regular fullback on the local high school (Daniel) team for three years and was a halfback-fullback for three years on the Clemson varsity. Jimmy gained over 1,400 yards his senior year in high school and scored over 100 points. He graduated from Clemson in June, 1964 with honors, and earned his masters degree in horticulture from Clemson in 1967. Today he is district entomologist with the Plant Pest Regulatory Service at Clemson.

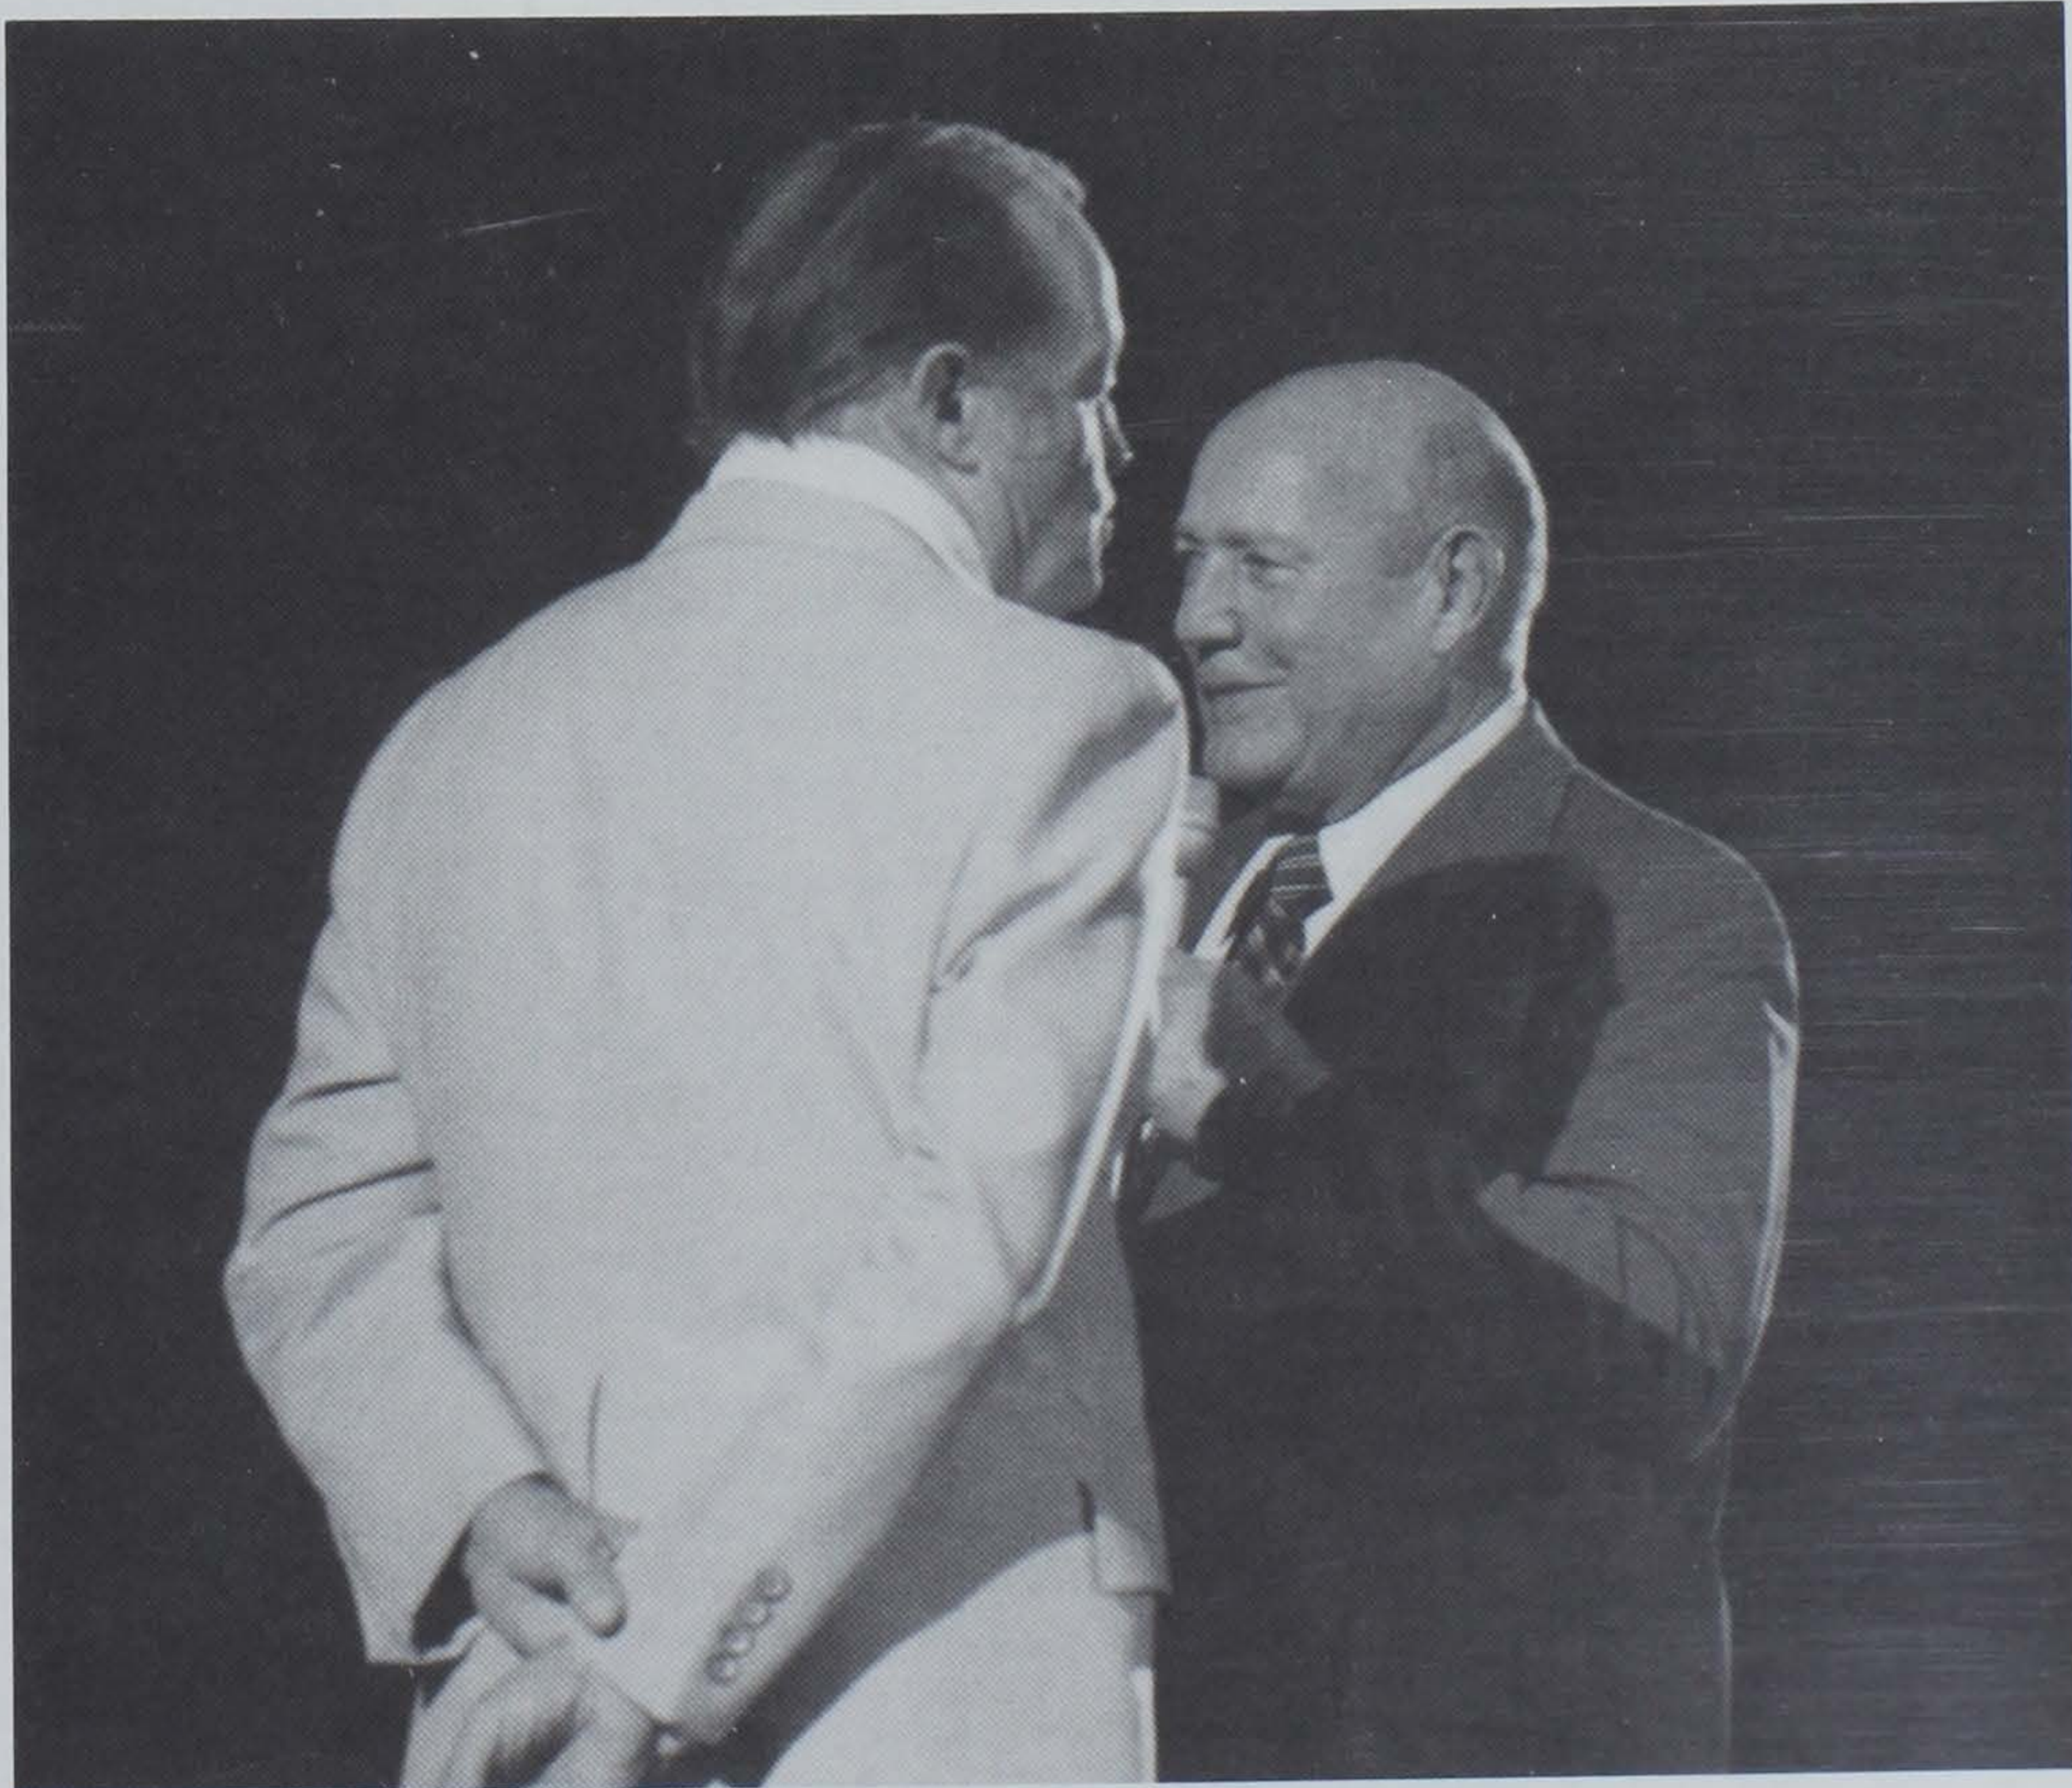

For over three decades Howard has been in great demand both as a banquet speaker and a clinic lecturer. Few states have escaped his homespun oratory, which has brought the house down on many occasion.

Since his retirement, Howard has become active in other endeavors. He has served as state chairman of the South Carolina Heart Fund annual drive, has been roasted several times on behalf of Multiple Sclerosis Society, and is active in selling the Kickoff Publication out of Knoxville, TN.

Howard still has his hands in football as he serves as the chief recruiter for the Gray squad in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL., The Blue squad recruiter is Don Faurot, who opposed Howard in the 1949 Gator Bowl.

Howard has also been inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame in San Francisco, CA., is an honorary member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and is a member of the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

Clemson University has also honored Howard once more with the presentation of the Clemson Medallion, which is the highest public honor bestowed by the university to a living person who exemplifies the dedication and foresight of its founders.

1940 Cotton Bowl January 1, 1940 — Dallas, TX Clemson 6, Boston College 3

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season and had come within a blocked extra point of escaping the regular season without a loss. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to BC's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned an Eagle punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Bryant missed the extra point.

A 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11, but Bryant and McFadden broke up two passes and Clemson took over on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 45-yard average on nine kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

1949 Gator Bowl January 1, 1949 — Jacksonville, FL Clemson 24, Missouri 23

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shut out of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a ninth-place ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave the Tigers the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point after and Clemson led 7-0.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After a kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger capped the 13-play march with a quarterback sneak from the two. Robertson Dawson added the seventh point.

Jack Miller won the 1949 Gator Bowl with this field goal, the last by a Tiger for seven years.

Gage was intercepted on the next Clemson drive and Wilbur Volz returned the theft to the Missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos in the end zone. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched a 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. With fourth-and-10, Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, halfback Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

1951 Orange Bowl January 1, 1951 — Miami, FL Clemson 15, Miami (FL) 14

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shut-outs. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive on third down with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back" to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40 and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Miami went 95 yards in five plays for its second score. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time at 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions and one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitchout from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. J. D. Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

1952 Gator Bowl January 1, 1952 — Jacksonville, FL Miami (FL) 14, Clemson 0

Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game — a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricane did not gain another first down. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in four tries.

1957 Orange Bowl January 1, 1957 — Miami, FL Colorado 27, Clemson 21

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Stransky intercepted an errant Charlie Bussey pass at the Clemson 46 and returned it to the 10 to spark Colorado's second score. Boyd Dowler, who later starred with the Packers, scored from six yards out two plays later. Howard Cook added the conversion and Colorado led 14-0.

Colorado's Frank Clarke partially blocked Horace Turbeville's punt on the next Clemson drive and the Buffaloes recovered on the Clemson 26. Cook then went wide right and scored on the next play, but he missed the extra point.

Trailing 20-0, Clemson coach Frank Howard told his players that he would resign if they did not play any better in the second half. Having been sufficiently shaken, Clemson came out of the locker room and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells' three-yard run. Bussey's extra point try was good.

After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt four plays later. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered for the Tigers at the 10. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball over from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20, with 11:22 to go.

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

1959 Sugar Bowl January 1, 1959 — New Orleans, LA LSU 7, Clemson 0

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

LSU drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the LSU 27 on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, however, LSU got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for LSU at the Clemson 11.

LSU picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the end zone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and LSU led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the LSU 28, but Harvey White's fourth down pass to George Usry was incomplete. LSU took over on downs and ran out the clock.

1959 Bluebonnet Bowl
December 19, 1959 — Houston, TX
Clemson 23, Texas Christian 7

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team. After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the TCU five, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started to put Clemson up 3-0.

Not to be outdone, TCU second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard half-back pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the TCU 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and TCU took over.

Clemson got pass-happy in the final 15 minutes and scored two touchdowns to put the Tigers ahead. With a third-and-18 situation at the Clemson 32, White threw to end Gary Barnes who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for one score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide and Clemson led 16-7.

Clemson returned to its running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the TCU one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for the score. Armstrong's kick put the game out of TCU's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

1977 Gator Bowl
December 30, 1977 — Jacksonville, FL
Pittsburgh 34, Clemson 3

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making their first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and had come within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending National Champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. If that was not enough, the Pitt defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers offense did get on track.

Pitt was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pitt 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

Although the Tigers were out-classed by Pittsburgh, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football prowess for Clemson.

1978 Gator Bowl
December 29, 1978 — Jacksonville, FL
Clemson 17, Ohio State 15

The Clemson team of 1978 was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The '78 team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the Gator Bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller, himself, ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead. Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-3.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 9-7.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson still led at 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive, but an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was run out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

1979 Peach Bowl
December 31, 1979 — Atlanta, GA
Baylor 24, Clemson 18

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touchdown to Raymond Cockrell to push the Bears' lead to 24-10.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Baylor one. Chuck McSwain scored with 20 seconds left in the game and Lott passed to Jeff McCall for the two-point conversion. Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining second for the win.

1982 Orange Bowl
January 1, 1982 — Miami, FL
Clemson 22, Nebraska 15

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 27 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard halfback pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-America receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. For Tuttle, it was his eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis' 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Jeff Davis, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive and the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.

1985 Independence Bowl
December 21, 1985 – Shreveport, LA
Minnesota 20, Clemson 13

Clemson met a Big 10 school for only the second time in history when it faced Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. It was an interesting matchup of teams that enjoy moving the ball on the ground, as both clubs gained over 200 rushing yards in the contest. The team with the higher rushing total prevailed, a fact that was easily predictable, as the Gophers churned out 257 yards rushing in a 20-13 Minnesota win.

Clemson held a 13-10 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but for the fifth time in the last 13 games the Tigers could not hold the fourth-period lead. Valdez Baylor scored on a one-yard run with 4:56 left to give Minnesota a final ledger of 7-5. Clemson mounted a final drive in the last few minutes and advanced to the Minnesota 31, but a fourth-down pass for Ray Williams was overthrown.

Kenny Flowers had another outstanding day for the Tigers with a career high 148 yards, including a 32-yard run. It was his seventh one-hundred yard day of the year, his sixth century game in the last seven contests. Ray Williams caught five passes for 58 yards, while Terrance Roulhac had 63 yards in receptions and 90 yards in kickoff returns. Another wide receiver, Keith Jennings, scored Clemson's only touchdown when he caught a three-yard pass from Stacey Driver in the third period.

Henry Walls led Clemson defensively with 13 tackles, while A.J. Johnson was outstanding in the secondary with seven stops. Dwayne Meadows established a new career high with 13 stops from his defensive line position.

1986 Gator Bowl
December 27, 1986 — Jacksonville, FL
Clemson 27, Stanford 21

WEATHER: Overcast and 56°

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of their own. Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8 of 11 passes in the first half for the Tigers, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard-line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14 yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year on Clemson's next possession, putting the Tigers up 27-0 at the Intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from halftime a different team. Kodak All-America tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touchdown and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game, Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Terrence Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goalline situation in the first half.

Press Information

Danny Ford Clemson teams have been shut out just once and have scored in 90 straight games.

Between these covers you should find just about everything you need to know about the Tigers. Please don't hesitate, however, to call on us at any time.

If you're assigned to cover a game in Clemson's Memorial Stadium this fall, the following hints will be helpful:

ENTRANCE TO STADIUM/PRESS BOX

Enter through Gate 13 which is located on the press box (South) side of the field at the southeast corner. Should you have need to pick up tickets at our press will call gate, they will be at Gate 13. Come through Gate 13, and go straight ahead to the elevator which will take you to the press box.

PRESS BOX

There are two levels to Clemson's press box, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, a dark room, the outside PA, stadium operations & security, along with booths for field telephones, radio networks, and athletic officials for Clemson. The second level is for the print media, with seating accommodations for 104 members of the working press. This level houses Clemson's famous buffet, and the telecopier room.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

We'll appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from SPORTS EDITORS of DAILY newspapers and RADIO & TV SPORTS DIRECTORS ONLY. Make request directly to BOB BRADLEY. There is not room for individual radio stations in the press box, only the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, nonworkers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger, are not permitted in the press box.

PARKING PASSES AND COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS

There are a limited number of these available for use by the members of the working press, and the sooner we know of your need, the closer we will come to filling your request. Your request should be made directly to BOB BRADLEY.

TELECOPIER AND ELECTRONIC SERVICES

Our press box is equipped with eight (8) outside phone lines for your electronic equipment, and at no charge to your paper. We will have two telecopiers at the game including a 25-second machine, which can be used on a first-come, first-serve basis, and we also have press box assistants who are available to send your copy as necessary. THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR ANY OF THESE SERVICES.

It is the responsibility of each paper to make prior arrangements for season-long or individual game phone installations, which gives the paper first priority on that phone. Electrical and phone jacks are at each seat.

There are also three other phones which are reserved for radio voice reports for an hour after the game's conclusion.

We furnish a typed play-by-play, individual and team stats, and coaches' quotes. Also, our communications center staff furnishes a packet of first half action shots — six 5x7 black and white prints which are free upon request.

LOCKER ROOM INTERVIEWS

The team dressing rooms are located beneath the west end zone stands, to your left from the press box. The two SIDs will escort writers wishing post-game interviews to this area with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The Clemson dressing room is closed to all media, but Coach Ford will be in his interview room and players chosen by media members will be in their interview area for post-game comments following a short team meeting.

DANNY FORD'S WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Every Tuesday during the football season, Coach Danny Ford will hold a weekly press conference at the Clemson House beginning at 11:00 a.m.

The first gathering is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 1, prior to the season opener with Western Carolina, and the 11th and final regular season session is planned for Tuesday, Nov. 17, prior to the South Carolina game.

DAILY SPORTS REPORT

The Clemson Sports Information Office tapes a 3-minute daily sports report each morning, Monday through Friday, with emphasis on the sports during their respective seasons. Interviews are conducted with the various coaches, as well as players. To get an up-to-date report on the Tigers, call 803-654-4402.

BEST TIME TO CONTACT COACH DANNY FORD

If you find it impossible to attend his weekly press conference, Coach Danny Ford is usually available for telephone interviews in his office daily, Tuesday through Friday, from 10:30-11:30 a.m. His office number is 803-656-2101, ext. 260.

FALL PRACTICE PLANS

New Clemson players will report to campus August 5th. Returning players will report the 10th for physicals. Conditioning for the entire team begins August 11th and the team goes into pads for the first time August 14th.
